SONNET ON THE MUSQUITO.

The little musquito, the blood-sucking scamp,
How demurely he sits till you blow out the lamp;
Then he stretches his wings and lights on your nose,
And does all he can to disturb your repose:
And if he can't bleed you with gimlet or blade,
He will try the effect of his sweet serenade.
This last is the worst. How often I've swore
That the locusts of Egypt were not half the bore
Of these little tormentors let loose in the night,
Who will sing you a song before taking a bite.
Now welcome, cold winter—the north wind may blow—
I would welcome the rain, the sleet and the snow,
I would even welcome St. Patrick to this, our fair land,
If it killing these wing'd devils he would lend us a hand.

BURSTS OF ELOQUENCE.

The following burst of eloquence was delivered before a Justice in Pennsylvania:

"Your honor sits high on the adorable seat of Justice, like the Asiatic rock of Gibralter, while the eternal river of mercy, like the sadayerous of the valley, flows meandering at your feet."

The following is the commencement of a speech of a lawyer in New Jersey:

"Your honors do not sit there like marble statutes to be waited about by every windy breeze."

Another orator thus commenced his harangue:

"The important crisis which were about to arrive have arroven."

Another thus expatiated:

"The court will please to observe that the gentleman from the East has given them a very learned speech. He has roamed with old Romulus, socked with old Socrates, sipped with Eripides, and canted with old Catherides, but what, your honor, does he know about the laws of Wisconsin?"

Extract from the argument of a young lawyer before a Mississippi justice:

"May it please the court: I would rather live for thirteen hundred centuries on the small end of a thunderbolt—chew the ragged end of a flash of lightning—swallow the corners of a Virginia worm fence, and have my bowels torn out by a green briar, than to be thus bamboozled by these gentlemen."

SPIRITUALISM VS. COMMON SENSE.

The Spiritual Herbinger, one of the sublimely ridiculous advocates of spiritualism and rapingism has the following sublimation of nonsense:

"In the twelfth hour, the glory of God, the life of God, the Lord of God, the Holy Procedure, shall crown the Triune Creator with the perfect disclosive illumination. Then shall the Creator in effulgence above the divine seraphimal, arise into the dome of the disclosure in one comprehensive revolving galaxy of supreme beatitudes.

The Cayuga Chief thus aptly responds:

Then shall blockheads in the jackassical dome of disclosive procedure, above the allfired great leather lungus of Peter Nip-ninny-go, the Gooseberry Grinder, rise into the dome of this disclosure, until co-equal and co-extensive and conglomerated lumuxes, in one comprehensive mux, shall assimilate into nothing, and revolve like a bobtailed pussy-cat after the place where the tail was.

One is quite as intelligible as the other; indeed, the response, if anything, has the most spirit.

☞ THE FOLLOWING LINES to go-to-meeting tobacco chewers may be seen posted up in a Baptist church in Worcester county.—The author of the lines finding his pew somewhat bespattered one Sunday noon, went home and wrote the following lines as a notice:

Ye chewers of that noxious weed
Which grows on earth's most cursed sod,
Be pleased to clean your filthy mouths
Outside the sacred "House of God."

Throw out your "plugs" and "cavendish,"
Your "pigtail," "twist" and "honey dew,"
And not presume to spit upon
The pulpit, aisle, or in any pew.

GETTING A NIBBLE'

A young gentleman, a short time since, was about making an excursion for fish, and on one of the thoroughfares to the lake he met and made the acquaintance of a lady, Mary Fike by name, with whom he became very much pleased, and from whom he could not part without some pangs of sadness.—He expressed a hope that he might hear from her occasionally. To which she replied that "if he was not successful in taking fish at the lakes, she had not any objection to his dropping a line to her."

☞ THE PALMER Journal man once owned a Shanghai rooster which died. He thus laments him, in announcing his death:—

"His voice, when heard amidst the crowing of other roosters, was like the trombone in an orchestra of violins, or the bass of rumbling thunder amid the hum of spinning wheels:

Farewell, faithful servant, a lasting farewell;
From thy fate let all roosters take warning—
No more will thy voice, in a long and loud swell,
Awake us up at peep of day to work, about half past five o'clock in the morning."

☞ THEY INTRODUCE folks in the .West thus: "Miss Wiggins, let me make you acquainted with an uncle of his'n, just come down from Iowa county, the town of Freemantle, village of Breadelbane, came away up here to mill—they hain't no mills yet, up there. Uncle this is Miss Wiggins, John Wiggins' wife, up yonder on the hill, t'other side of the marsh—you can see the house from here. She's come down to meetin'."

☞ AN OLD DUTCH LADY at a religious meeting, became very much concerned for her soul, and went about sighing and sobbing, and would not be comforted. Upon being asked by the minister what the matter was, she replied, "that she couldn't pray in English, and she was afraid the Lord couldn't understand Dutch."

☞ A TAVERN KEEPER out West advertises a young lawyer, who has left his house without paying his bill, under the following expressive caption.

"Absquatulatum damnuh ez Swartwoutrandibus in transitu, non est inventus ad libitum scape goatum, non come-at-ibus in swampo."

☞ AN OLD PREACHER once took for his text, "Adam where art thou?" and divided his subject into three parts—1st. All men are somewhere; 2nd. Some men are where they ought not to be; and 3rd. Unless they take care they will soon find themselves where they would rather not be.

☞ MRS. PARTINGTON, says, after dissolving the matter over and over in her mind, she has come to the delusion to seek out some quiet country retreat, in order to prevade the expressive heat of the season, and to hereafter lead a more dysentary life.

☞ "MOTHER, Zeke's fretting the baby. Zeke, make him cry again, and then mother will give him some sugar, and I'll take it away from him; and then he'll cry again, and mother will give him some more, and you can take that, and we'll both have some."

☞ ONE of the latest fashions for gentlemen, is the "barber pole" pattern for pantaloons; the stripes ascend spirally round the leg, giving the wearer the appearance of a double-barrelled cork screw.

☞ "PAPA," said a precious child, "what is humbug?" "It is my dear," replied the parent with a deep drawn sigh, "when your mamma pretends to be very fond of me, and puts no buttons on my shirts."

☞ THE FRENCH feed hens with bread soaked in wine to make them lay. Soaking bread and eggs in wine in this country, often makes "old cocks" lay in the gutter.—We don't know how it would affect hens.

☞ PLEASANT.—To make money ourselves, or to see our neighbors lose it. By the way, the quantity of bad luck that a man can endure in a friend is really astonishing.

☞ THE PEN is mightier than the sword,
When wielded by the great;
But the pennies are greater still,
Owing to their weight.

FRUIT IN PRESERVING JUICE.

As the season of fruits is now approaching, it may be interesting to our lady readers to be informed of a method by which the most delicious fruits can be preserved in a ripe state for an almost indefinite period. Thirteen bottles of fruits so preserved were exhibited lately at Rochester, New York, by William B. Smith of Wayne Co., viz:—Eye of cherries, two of peaches, one of strawberries, three of different varieties of currants, one of blackberries, and one of plums. They were examined by a committee, and found of fine flavor; and the committee expressed the opinion that the art of preserving fruit in this manner is practicable and that the fruit, when carefully put up, can be made to keep as long as may be desirable.

The method of preserving is thus given to the New York State Society by Mr. Smith:—"They are preserved by placing the bottles filled with the fruit, in cold water, and raising the temperature to the boiling point as quickly as possible; then cork and seal the bottles immediately. Some varieties of fruit will not fill the bottle with their own juice—these must be filled with boiling water and corked as before mentioned, after the surrounding water boils."

BRONCHITIS.

A writer in the Baltimore Sun, who has been afflicted severely in his family by that appalling disease, bronchitis, has found relief from the following remedy:

"Take honey in the comb, squeeze it out, and dilute it with a little water, and wet the lips and mouth occasionally with it."

It has never been known to fail in cases even where children had throats so swollen as to be unable to swallow. It is certainly a simple remedy, and may be a very efficacious one.

TO MAKE A BARREL OF SOAP.

Dissolve 48 pounds of common bar soap in 15 gallons of boiling water. Let it cool and get thick, and cut in slices. Then dissolve 12 pounds Sal. Soda in 15 gallons more of boiling water; then add 3 pounds unslacked lime. Boil these articles together twenty minutes; when cold turn off the fluid and mix it gradually with the soap, not disturbing the sediment; then add one quart of alcohol and half a pint of camphene—stir all together and it is fit for use.

EGG DUMPLINGS.

Make a batter of a pint of milk, two well beaten eggs, a salt-spoonful of salt, and flour enough to make a batter as thick as for pound cake; have a clean saucepan of boiling water, let the water boil fast, drop in the batter by the table-spoonful; four or five minutes will boil them, take them with a skimmer on to a dish, put a bit of butter and pepper over, and serve with boiled or cold meat; for a little dessert, put butter and grated nutmeg, with syrup of sugar over.

APPLE POLLAGE.

Take ripe apples, carefully pared and cored, and put them in layers in a stone or earthen jar alternately with layers of sugar. If the apples are sweet a little lemon or quince intermingled will give it a better flavor Cover the whole with wheat flour or dough, and place the jar in the oven for baking, where it should be left to cook thoroughly.

MUNCEY PUDDING.

Butter a deep dish, put in a layer of grated bread; on this a layer of apples sliced very thin, a layer of brown sugar and a layer of spices. Repeat this process until the dish is heaped very full, and bake in one hour.—Serve with sweet sauce.

Information for the People,

ON THE PLAIN "WHY" AND "BECAUSE."

☞ WHY do the females of the glow-worm occasionally conceal or eclipse their light? Because they may secure themselves from becoming the prey of the nightingale or other nocturnal birds. Mr. White, indeed, thought that they regularly extinguished their torch between the hours of eleven and twelve. The light of the glow-worm may, perhaps, occasionally deter its insect enemies from making an attack on it, as the wolf and other ravenous beasts of prey are deterred from making an approach on travellers by night, when encircled by fire.—John Murray.

☞ WHY is the goat-moth so called?—Because it emits a peculiarly subtle smell, which has been thought to resemble that of the goat. The object and seat of this odour seems not well understood. Some have conjectured it to proceed from the mouth, and discharged to soften the wood in which it burrows; the latter opinion is not, however, tenable, as many other insects that perforate timber, are not so supplied, and the microscope does not manifest the exudation of any fluid.

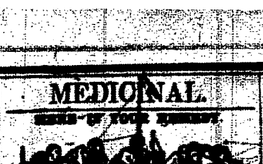
☞ WHY no mole-catchers draw the body of a captured mole through their traps, and the adjoining runs and passages? Because they may remove all suspicious odors, which might arise from the touch of their fingers, the mole's sense of smelling being unusually acute.—Knapp.

☞ WHY is the elephant employed in hunting the tiger in India? Because of his delicate scent, his strength to make way through the thickest covers, his sagacity, and especially his great stature, by which the hunter is lifted out of danger.

☞ WHY HAS the oxide of zinc been substituted for white lead in house painting?—Because it preserves a good color much longer: it is not, however, of so perfect a white as lead.

☞ WHY is the tortoise beetle so called? Because it is of the form of a tortoise, the wing cases projecting all around as a covering for the legs.

MEDICINAL.



HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.

A most miraculous cure of the Rheumatism, by one of these remedies.

EXTRACT of a letter from Mr. William Galpin, of Lyd, Swan Mary Street, Weymouth, dated May 19th 1851.

To Professor Holloway—Sir:—At the age of 58 my wife, (who is now 61,) caught a violent cold, which settled in her legs, and ever since that time they have been more or less sore, to such an extent that her agonies were distressing, and for months together she was deprived entirely of rest and sleep. Every remedy that medical men advised was tried, but without effect; her health suffered severely, and the state of her legs was terrible. I had often read your advertisements, and advised her to try your Pills and Ointment; and, as a last resource, after every other remedy had proved useless, she consented to do so. She commenced six weeks ago, and, strange to relate, is now in good health. Her legs are painless, without seam or scar, and her sleep sound and undisturbed. Could you have witnessed the sufferings of my wife during the last 15 years, and contrast them with her present enjoyment of health, you would indeed feel delighted in having been the means of so greatly alleviating the sufferings of a fellow creature.

Signed, WILLIAM GALPIN.

A person 70 years of age cured of a Bad Leg of thirty years' standing.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Wm. Abbs, Builder of Gas Green, of Ruskcliffe, near Huddersfield, dated May 31st, 1851:

To Professor Holloway—Sir:—I suffered for a period of thirty years from a bad leg; the result of two or three different accidents at the Works; accompanied by scorbutic symptoms I had recourse to a variety of medical advice, without deriving any benefit, and was given to understand that the leg must be amputated, yet, in opposition to that opinion, your Pills and Ointment have effected a complete cure in so short a time, that few would believe it unless they could see the fact. Signed, WILLIAM ABBS.

The truth of this statement can be verified by Mr. W. F. England, Chemist, 13 Market Street, Huddersfield.

A dreadful Bad Breast cured in one month.

Extract from a Letter from Mr. Frederick Turner, of Feuhurst, Kent, dated December 12th, 1850:

To Professor Holloway—Dear Sir:—My wife and myself are from this cause separated; then six months, and during the whole period had the best medical attendance, but all to no use. Having before heard of your Pills, we thought we would try the much rivalled medicine, I determined again to use your Pills and Ointment, and therefore gave them a trial in the case, and found relief in a day, for in less than a month a perfect cure was effected, and the benefit that various other branches of my family have derived from the use of it is really astonishing—I now strongly recommend them to all my friends. Signed, FREDERICK TURNER.

An Inflamation in the Side perfectly cured.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thomas Lamor, of Broadnose, Lothlan Road, Edinboro', dated April 29th 1850:

To Professor Holloway—Sir:—For more than twenty years my health has been subject from time to time, to attacks of inflamation in the side, for which she was bled and blistered to a great extent, until the pain could not be remedied. In her present advanced age she saw, in the papers, the wonderful cures affected by your Pills and Ointment, and thought she would give them a trial. To her great satisfaction and delight she got immediate relief from their use, and, after persevering for three weeks, the pain in her side was completely removed, and she has enjoyed the best of health for the last four years. Signed, FRANCIS ARNOT.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:

Bad Legs.	Gout.

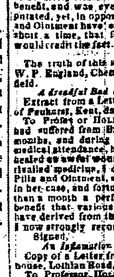
NUTTALL'S LYRIACUM.

THREE DIFFERENT PREPARATIONS FOR THE CURE OF THREE DIFFERENT STAGES OF CONSUMPTION.



SYMPTOMS.—Cough, pain in the breast, side, back, joints and limbs; inflamation, soreness and tickling in the throat; fever, difficult and rapid breathing, night and profuse perspiration.

SYMPTOMS.—Costiveness, spasmodic cough, violent fever, night, London and Sunday sweats, febrile flush in the face and cheeks, burning heat in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet, expectoration easy, copious and streaked with blood.

SYMPTOMS.—Diarhœa, diminished fever, cough, and morning sweats, great and increasing debility, frequent fainting fits, slight delirium, swelling of extremities.

☞ TO BE APPLIED.

The appearance in THREE BOTTLES of Nuttall's Syriacum is a rare sight in Medicine, from its novelty and direct opposition to the usual and established system; while its SUCCESS, prepared in this manner, each Bottle containing a different Preparation, in curing the different stages which characterize Consumption, is startling the whole community with the curability of every stage of Pulmonary Consumption.

Physicians approve of it because it is based upon correct Physiological and Pathological principles. The Public approve of it, because it is common sense, and because they know from experience that such a preparation will not cure the three stages of Consumption. The suffering, disappointed, and disconsolate invalids appeal to the Medical Profession to hold out a reasonable Hope, and when by no means Nuttall's Syriacum; his hopes are realized.

If he is in the first stage of Consumption, and uses the FIRST BOTTLE, his expectoration, difficult and painful, becomes free and easy, his cough soon gets well, the soreness, tickling in his throat, Inflamation, pain in his breast, side, back, joints, limbs and loins are removed.

If he is in the second stage, and uses the second bottle, his fevers and sinks, his disturbed slumbers become sweet and refreshing, his night sweats vanish, his expectoration, copious and bloody, assumes a healthy appearance, his cough abates, his appetite returns, his bowels become regular, his appetite returns, the flush in his cheek disappears, the burning heat in the palms of his hands and soles of his feet, gets cool and longer, the cough now ceases, he recovers and is well.

If he is in the third stage and uses the third bottle, his fluttering pulse, his diarhœa, his debility become strong, his cough and other bad symptoms disappear, feeble digestion becomes strong and vigorous, his stomach, recovering its power to tone, creates new life, skin and nourishing blood, his strength returns, his wasted body is clothed with flesh, his life is saved, and he is RESTORED TO HEALTH!

Each bottle of Nuttall's Syriacum is accompanied by forms of the stage for which it is intended, printed in front of the wrapper, whereby every invalid knowing his case will know which bottle to use; should the bottle he requires; consequently, no mistake can occur in selecting the proper medicine.

☞ See Pamphlet by the same author, the editor of this paper, containing Dr. Nuttall's Pathology of Consumption, Lectures on the Structure and Uses of the Human Lungs, and Correct Statistics.

☞ Prepared only by Dr. WM. NUTTALL, Inventor and Proprietor. Price one dollar per bottle.

GREAT CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA!

DR. J. S. HOUGHTON'S PEPSIN, the true Digestive Fluid; or Essence of Pepsin, prepared from the Stomach, or the fourth Stomach of the Ox, after directions of BARON LIEBIG, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. HOUGHTON, D. D., Philadelphia.

"Pepsin." Such is the true meaning of the word Pepsin. It is the chief element, or Great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice—the Solvent of Life, in the Purifying, Preserving, and Stimulating Agents to the Stomach and intestines. It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming a true Digestive Fluid, precisely like the natural Gastric Juice in its Chemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it.

This is Nature's own Remedy for an unhealthy Stomach. No art or skill can equal its curative powers. It contains no Alcohol, Bitters, Acids, or Narcotic Drugs. It is therefore strictly a Vegetable Remedy, and may be taken by the most feeble patients who cannot eat a water cracker without acute distress: a terror of DISGUSTED IMITATORS. Pepsin is NOT A CATHARTIC.

SYMPTOMS.—Diarhœa, diminished fever, cough, and morning sweats, great and increasing debility, frequent fainting fits, slight delirium, swelling of extremities.

Dyspepsia, or Indigestion upon which this remedy is based is in the highest degree curious and remarkable.
