Political. QUESTIONS AT THE BALLOT-BOX. Has the national administration, that came into power with such a sweeping majority, tuifilled the promises made to the people; previous to the election? Every principle of democratic usage; the people say, has been violated. But maximuch as charity begins at home we are inclined to look at our own State affairs under the Bigler administration. What do we see but mismanagement, corruption, and startling frauds which could not have been perpetrated without executive knowledge! The charge has been fairly made -facts and figures produced; and every charge fairly sustained. All is silent. No attempt at vindication is made. The detection is complete. Alas ! for Pennsylvania under such pretended democratic rule.

Never in the State has there been such a rrupt and hypocritical an executive. One f his first acts was the appointment of Judge Campbell—then the signing the of bank bills, after his off-repeated emphatic declaration to the people that he was unreservedly opposed to theni—his signing the bill, surrendering un-conditionally to the Delaware and Hudson Caual Company -an association of foreign capitalists, the right of the Siste to essume that portionol canal lying within our bofders, acording to the terms of the original charter ? the World's Temperance Convention, in New dignity the honor of the State when its boyworld—their peopliar excellence consists in it question their servants in office? Then net Gov. Bigler, or any of his editorial adherents answer the numerous charges which stand posted against his administration .-When shall the good old days of Simon Suy-der and Frank Shunk return and redeem us from the power of political hucksters, who, in the name of democracy, insult and plunder the people. "There is a good time coming." but it never will come until the people hold their servants to a strict accountability. LONGEVITY OF QUARERS.—The late census returns in England reveal the singular fact, that the average age attained by this peaceful sect is filty-one years, two months and twenty-one days, while half of the pop-ulation of this country die before reaching the age of twenty-one, and the average daration of life the world over is but thirty-three years. The Quakers, therefore, live a third longer than the rest of us. THE LONDON VEGSTARIAN SOCIETY
