Nor are there any true morals in Rome. How could there be with such an army lazy priests, and with such a swarm of French soldiers? The last Pope has lett several heirs; the present one has a good pub-lic character; but as to the cardinals and There are some curious incidents on record of sleeping and waking. In Turkey, if a person happens to fall asleep in the neigh-borhood of a poppy-field, and the wind blows over toward him, he becomes gradually nar-cotized, and would die if the country people, who are well acquainted with the circumpriests, it is notorious that they are only forbidden to marry. The publish of the Ro-mans say that, because of the utter profligacy of the priests and their arts at the confes sional, they have no confidence in the virtue of their wives, mothers, sisters, or daughters! It such is the public and general character of the priests, what must be that of the people? Indeed, I could not place bestances, did not bring him to the next well or stream, and emply pitcher after pitcher on his face and body. Dr. Oppenheim, during his residence in Turkey, owed his life fore my readers the statements made, and to this simple and efficacious treatment. Dr. Graves, from whom this anecdote is quoted, also reports the case of a gentleman, have tallen in Rome, and through the proflithirty years of age, who, from long-contin ued sleepiness, was reduced to a complete living skeleton, unable to stand on his legs. It was partly owing to disease, but chiefly to the abuse of mercury and opium, until at last unable to pursue his business, he sank nto abject poverty and woe. Dr. Reid entions a friend of his who, whenever anything occurred to distress him, soon became drowsy and fell asleep. A fellow student and uppracticed. **PURE WHITE LEAD**

A ETHERILL & BROTHER, Manufacturers, No. W G5, NORTH FRONT attest, Philadelphia, have now a good supply of their warranted pure WHITE LEAD; and those contomers who have been sparingly supplied in consequence of a run on the article, shall now have their orders filled.

No known substance possesses those gressevative and beautifying properities, so desirable in a paint, to an equal extent with unadulterated white lead; hence any admixture of other materials only mays its value. It has, therefore, been the steady aim of the manufacturers, for many years, to supply to the jublic a perfectly plure white lead, and the uncessing demand for the article, is proof that it has men with favor. It is invariably branded on one head: WETHERILL a RINUTIER in full, and on he other, warroufed pure, all in red letters.

that this propensity to sleep is the most overpowering,—the moment seized upon by the troops for driving in the evening's outposts, and taking the bivouac by surprise. Maniacs are reported, particularly in the hemisphere, to become furiously vigilant during the full moon, more especially when the deteriorating ray of its polarised light is permitted to fall into their apartment; hence the name lundics. There certainly is a greater proneness to disease thring sleep than in the waking state; for those who pass the night in the Campagni di Roma, inevitably become infected with its noxious air, while trayellers who go through withper cent lower than they have been sold in Poitsinevitably become infected with its noxious
