VERSES FOR THE YEAR 1900.

Tell John to set the kettle on,
I want to take a drive,
I only want to go to Rome,
And shall be back at five;
Tell cook to dress those humming-birds
I shot in Mexico;
They're now been killed at least two days,
They'll sould be up ten kaits.

And Tom, take you the golden-eel wings,
And start for Spain at three—
I want some Seville oranges,
'Twixt dinner time and tea;
Fly round to France and bring a new
Perpetual motion gun,
To-morrow with some friends I go,
A hunting in the sun.

The trip I took the other day,
To breakfast in the moon,
Thanks to my lord Bessie, for he
Spoiled my new balloon;
For steering through the milky way.
He ran again—a star,
And turning round again too soon,
Come jolt against my car.

But Tom must get the car repaired,
And then let Dan and Dick
Inflate with ten thousand miles of gas,
I mean to travel quick—
My steam is now at high pressure now;
Put the high pressure on,
Give me the breath-bag for the way—
All right—hey—whiz—I'm gone.

☞ A KNOW NOTHING.—The Waterville Mail tells the following story about the steady old borough of Kendall's Mills:

Mrs. Soberly went to bed precisely at 9 o'clock, thinking it passing strange that her good man had not made his appearance just ten minutes before. Of course he would be home in a minute and a half, or two minutes at furthest, and so Mrs. Soberly left a lamp burning on the table. There it burnt and burnt—but she must tell her own story, as she told it next morning to about thirteen of her most confidential friends:

Well, there that lamp burnt and burnt 'till as near as I can guess 'twas well high on to 10 o'clock, and that man hadn't come! What to make on't I didn't know nor's the dead—for he hadn't never been out so before, since the time they had such a fuss about the Arostook war. 'Twan't no use to speak to the children, for they wouldn't know, and so after I had waited till I couldn't wait no longer I bounced out of bed, and down stairs I went. I went right into the buttery, and raised the window towards Mr. Blank's, and says I "Mrs. Blank!" In a minute I heard her jump out of bed and raise the window—and says she:

"Why, Mrs. Soberly, what on earth's the matter?"

"Matter!" says I—speaking low, because I didn't want anybody to hear—matter! Mrs. Blank, do tell me if you have seen anything of my husband?"

"Your husband!" says she, "you didn't suppose I'd got him, did you?"—and then speaking almost in a whisper, says she—

"Look here—what on earth does this mean? have you seen anything of my husband?"

Then we both began to think something had happened certainly, and in about two minutes I was dressed and over to Mr. Blank's. Well, we concluded to step over to Mr. Quirk's, and start him out for a search; but we hadn't got half-way across the street, talking along, when we heard the window shove up, and Mrs. Quirk says she:

"Who's there?"

Says I—"It's me."

"Well," says she, "do for pity's sake tell me if you have seen anything of my husband?"

Now wasn't here a pretty pickle? Well, to make a long story short, we went up that street clear to the school house, and back on t'other side, and not a woman did we find but what was wondering.—"What had become of her husband?"

Well, just as we got to our gate, who should we see there but my husband and Mr. Blank!

"Mr. Soberly," says I, a little spunky, "will you just tell me what all this means?"

"What means?" says he, just as cool as nothing had happened—"Why, Mrs. Soberly—I seem—I should be very sorry to go to bed mad with you—so I just went down to—[illegible] and Mr. Blank—and we've been a talking about Kendall's Mills, and—"

We'll see him somewhere first, by heaven! and I says, without waiting to hear his explanation, "Mr. Blank, you're no better than an old fool, and I'll just tell him so, know what I'm a going to say."

"THE AMERICAN'S FRIEND."

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

To the Citizens of the United States:

I am in gratitude and sincerity thank you for the immense patronage which you have bestowed upon my Pills. I take this opportunity of stating that my Ancestors were all American Citizens, and that I entertain for all that concerns America and Americans, the most lively sympathies, so much so that I originally compounded these Pills expressly to suit your climate, habits, constitutions and manner of living, intending to establish myself among you, which I have now done, by taking premises in New York, where I am now residing, No. 80, Maiden Lane, 39, Corner of Ann and Nassau Streets, New York.

PURIFICATION OF THE BLOOD, AND
LIVER AND BILIOUS COMPLAINTS.

The Citizens of the Union suffer much from disorders of the Liver and Stomach, scarcely any are free from the influence of these painful maladies, hence life is care. The fair sex, perhaps the most handsome in the World; up to a certain period when, distressing to say, many lose their teeth and good looks, while all in the decline of life, such a trifle may be effectually remedied by continually keeping the blood pure, and the Liver and Stomach in a healthy action, when life runs on smoothly, the function of each plants in a congenial clime, where an eternal spring appears to reign. As it regards the prevention of the ignorant frauds, and the destruction of life, much may be effected, and I say fearlessly, that health and life can be prolonged for many years beyond their ordinary limits, if Holloway's Pills are taken to purify the blood according to the rules laid down for health contained in the directions which accompany each box.

A CASE OF WEAKNESS AND DEBILITY, OF 10 YEARS' STANDING, CURED BY HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

Copy of a Letter from Captain John Johnson, Arbor House, New York, January 5th, 1854.

To PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY, 38, Corner of Ann and Nassau streets, New York—SIR:—It is with the most heartfelt pleasure I have to inform you that I have been restored to health and strength by taking your Pills. For the last ten years, I suffered from a derangement in the Liver, and of bowels, and was reduced to such an extremity that I gave up my Ship, never expecting to go to sea any more, as I had tried every remedy that was recommended to me, but all proved useless, and left me very weak. At last, when at last I was recommended to try your Pills.—After using them for three months, the result is that I am now in better health than I have been for eleven years past, and indeed as well as I ever was in my life. You are quite at liberty to make this known for the benefit of others. I remain, Sir, yours respectfully, (Signed) JOHN JOHNSON.

Solace to the Unfortunate Female.

I feel it a duty incumbent upon myself to declare publicly the great blessing Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon has proved to me. For two years my health was miserable; I was almost unable to walk. Physicians pronounced my case falling of the womb, excessive ulcerations, commencing with fluor albus. The pain, irritation, prostration, and the burning in local discharge rendered life almost a burden.—In this miserable condition, Dr. F. P. Newland recommended Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon, as certaining four bottles I find myself in perfect health. Gratitude for my restoration makes me ardently desire that all may, like myself unfortunate, may find ease relief from this inestimable medicine.

ELIZABETH A. NEWLAND.

NEW YORK, March 4, 1854. Utica, N. Y.

The above statement I know to be true.

F. P. NEWLAND, M. D., Utica, N. Y.

I have no hesitation in saying Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon is invaluable in uterine diseases generally. I have used it in Fluor Albus, Amenorrhœa, Prolapsus Uteri, and in cases of extensive ulceration of the vagina and os uteri. It is worthy of the notice of the faculty.

This unfolded a theory of population quite new to Lady Middleton, who eagerly demanded the name of the sister.

"Thank you my lord," replied the other, "but I'll not trouble you to write it down, for I shall remember it very well."

"Oh, yes, lady, very seldom we have need and no take potatoes all the year round."

Greatly agitated with her new information, the lady further asked—"And where do you get the potatoes?"

"We grows them in our little garden, my lady, sure Pat this is!"

"Well," said lady Middleton, "send me up a cart-load of these potatoes, and the steward shall pay you well for them."

Shortly after, her ladyship rose to leave the room, and indeed had left it, when the matron ran after her, and, blushing as she put the question, asked, "Ah, then, my lady, is it to have children that you want the load of potatoes?"

It was the lady's turn to blush, as she confessed that it was.

"Because, I'm thinkin', my lady, in that case Pat had better take the potatoes to you himself!"

☞ HAD A "RUNNING RAY" WITH HER.—A way ward suit of the Emerald Isle "left the bed and board" which he and Margaret built occupied for a long while, and spent his time around gin shops, where he was always on hand to console himself "in," whenever anybody should "stand treat." Margaret was dissatisfied with this state of things, and endeavored to get her husband home again. We shall see how she succeeded:

"Now, Patrick, me honey, will ye come back?"

"No, Margeret, I won't come back!"

"An' won't ye come back for the love of the children?"

"Not for the love of the children Margaret!"

"Will ye come for the love of meself?"

"Niver, at all. Way wid ya."

"An' Patrick won't the love of the one child bring ye back?"

The object to the child seemed then I won't come back."

Margaret thought she would try one other in duce me: Taking a pint bottle of whiskey from her pocket, and re-doing it up to her truant husband she said:

"Will ye come for the thrap of whiskey?"

"Ah, me darlint," answered Patrick, unable to withstand such a temptation, "it's yerself that'll always bring me home again—we has such a sweet thing way and ye. I'll come home, Margeret."

Margaret declares that Patrick was "reclaimed by moral suasion."

☞ A SHIFTY JUDGE.—A short time since there had a queer case for a circuit judge in the western district of Tennessee. His was a good lawyer but cared nothing for appearance and less for dress.—The latter he knew nothing about, it being left entirely to Betty, his wife. His Betty was absent from home, once when he started around on the circuit, leaving the judge to pack his clothes for the trip. He did so, but instead of finding his shirts, he found upon a pile of his whole wheat—you call 'em, used for a like purpose. A learned brother, who roomed with him, was much amused for a few mornings afterwards at the queer appearance of the judge, nothing being in sight but his head, arms and knees, his looks of bewilderment and he sets wore reflections, which were, "I wonder what in hark made Betty cut off my sleeves? I sawh so." It is probable he heard the reason next time he saw Betty, but not before, as the Bar kept dark on the matter (to him) that round.—Cincinnati Columbian.

☞ SCHOOL SCENE.—Master,—First Class in moral philosophy, step up and recite. First boy who was the greatest cold-water man that is named in Scripture? Was it Noah, or Jonah?

1st. Boy.—Jonah, 'cause he was a regular whaler.

Master.—Wrong. Second boy answer.

2d Boy.—Noah.

Master—Why?

2d Boy.—'Cause Jonah left down in the mouth only three days after he went to sea; but Noah, he was once got tight, stuck it out, on water, in a house; and for forty days and forty nights Master—no shower!

one day—I up to the head. You'll be a preach-don't break your neck.

what we have asserted:

L. H. MCLEAN, Esq. Louis, Mo.—DEAR SIR. I was induced to purchase one bottle of your Liniment, so much that I was unable to attend to any business; my arms and fingers were swollen dreadfully, the muscles were contracted, and I suffered the most excruciating pain. I applied more than six bottles of McLean's Liniment; it had no more effect than if I had rubbed it with water. I was induced to try Volcanic Oil Liniment in your store, and, Sir, for which I shall ever feel grateful to him, and in fact to all I can say it has entirely well, and I take pleasure in recommending it to the public. And I also say that use of my hands got cast in the stable and engage to go to stand up. In the morning I made one of my own suits on some of your Liniment, and in three hours he could walk about the yard, apparently as well as ever. Which, Sir, is a fact, as there were present at the time, and my conduct with me said that no physician could have done without a supply of this invaluable medicine on hand. I remain yours, &c.

THE Hydromagen is a valuable discovery for protecting the feet from damp or cold, and therefore a preventative of many lung diseases, without any deception. The Hydromagen in the form of a sole, and worn inside the boot or shoe. Its medicated character is a powerful antidote to disease.

For Gentlemen it will be found agreeable, warm, and healthy, to wear, in the coldest or humid weather, as the foot cannot become wet if the Hydromagen is inserted. Ladies may wear the lightest soled boots or shoes in the most inclement weather with impunity; while Consumption, so prevalent among the young of our country, may be thereby in their general adoption. They entirely supersede overshoes, as after once wearing they are not to perspire in a very unhealthy manners and besides are not dangerous wear to pedestrians in dry weather, like india rubbers. No one who values their health or life should be without them. The Hydromagen is a mere thin slice of cork prepared, peculiarly tected Holds, does not harden by wear, but remains pleasant to the foot to appear untidy. To Climbers or y are extremely valuable, as they only engage in exercise with comfort and healthy effects. Their expense is so slight as to place them within the reach of elders those who patronize them will find their year by doctor's bills much diminished thereby

As the Hydromagen is entirely new, and unknown, its sale is increasing to an almost incredible extent—last year in London, Manchester, Birmingham, Liverpool, Glasgow, Leeds, Dublin, Cork, and other Hamburgh, and Berlin, the consumption of cork soles exceeded pairs of Cork Soles. This year the number will be surpassed

THE CHEST.

SIR ASTLEY COOPER, BART., M. D.,

Copeland, and continue to manufacture it to his original instruct
