U. S. SENATOR.—Owing to the peculiar situation of the parties at the present time, the election of U.S. Senator has excited unusual interest among the people. We therefore give our readers all the preliminary movements, as far, as they have transpired, together with the votes of the members for the different candidates. It is alleged that several bogus Democrats slipped into the Convention, who had no business there, and after the 6th hallot, thirtyone Whigs and Americans left the Conventions amidst great excitement. The Convention did not adjourn until 2 o'clock on Saturday morning. Afterwards 26 Democrats assembled in caucus and nominated Senator Buckalew, as their candidate-8 Whigs met in caucus and nominated Thomas Williams, as their candidate. On Tuesday the two branches met in Convention, and the following was the result of the first ballot:

THE PUBLIC MOREY .- The Philadelphi very difficult to show, we think, that the Common wealth has lost a single dollar, by its deposits of iast year, in country Banks. So long as the legislature gives the State Treasurer discretionary authority, as to where deposits of public money may be made, its distribution among the solvent banks of the State is founded in justice and expediency. We are unable to understand why one or two city banks should be made the exclusive depositories of State money, to the exclusion of country banks. That a Whig or Democratic State Treasurer will have his preferences, in thus selecting his banks of Deposit, is very probable, but so long as the Commonwealth sustains no loss, these banks should not be made the object of low partizan attacks. The above is from the Mining Register of Saturday. Under the circumstances, a more jesuitical article was never penned. A man who has been bought up body and soul by a Banking Institution, ought to have some decency left, sufficient at least, to cover up his shame from the public gase-but he seems to glory in wearing the collar, and unblushingly charges all the sins of his committing on

Has it not been the leading principle of the patent democracy to oppose the deposit of the public money in Banks?

Did they not establish the Sub-Treasury in order to divorce the Government funds from these Institutions, because they considered the public deposits unsafe in Banks?

Did not the present editor of the Register, -about two years ago, make the present Farmers' Bank of Schuylkill County, an object of "low partizan attacks"? Did not his paper teem with the most foul-mouthed abuse of Johnston, McLean, Maxwell, Orr, Sallade, Stock- Col. Cake and his Bank-and was it no: dicdale, Thompson and Wright, of the House.

Let the editor of the Register answer these proper motives, and making "low partizan atacks" on Banking Institutions. It is untrue that we made any "low partizan attacks" on Banks-we never have opposed the deposit of Public Funds in good Banking Institutions—we consider these funds much safer in such Institutions than in mere Shaving Shops, and in the hands of Brokers. But what are the facts? In the Official Documents laid before the public, it was conclusively shown that the Public Funds were, a few months before the election, scattered over the State in various Banks, Saving Institutions, or rather "Shaving Shops," Brokers, &c., by the State Treasurer to secure, or purchase, a re-election. And the most singular third that of steel, and the cost of maintanance listen without feeling his heart thrill in sympathy part of this disclosure is, that those Banks which have set the laws of the State at defiance, by not keeping their notes at par, patent right, from the inventor, James Milholland, of Reading, Pa. MAKING DISCOVERIES .- The editor of the New York Railroad Advocate, recently paid a visit to Pottsville, and picked up the following scraps of information, which it appears were generally unknown in New York. A resident in that city assured as some 'ime ago, that it was difficult to convince, New Yorkers that Anthracite Coal could be, or ever was, used in Locomotives. All the Railroads in this Region use it. The Reading Railroad used 85 per cent of this fuel in their Locomotives last year and all the new Locomotives built for the Company, are constructed for Anthracite Coal. Mr. Nicols, the intelligent and efficient superintendent of traffic, declares that they would not, on no consideration, go back again to the use of wood, even if they could procure it at the same price as Coal, because they consider Coal so much easier used and better adapted for fuel than wood. The following are extracts from the last Report of Mr. Nicols to the Board of Managers: The entire practicability of using Antiracite coal as fuel for locomotives, for long as well as short distances, may now be considered as fully established by our daily experience. Eighty-five per cent. of all our coal transportation, during the past year, has been done by locomotives burning this fuel exclusively, and without experiencing any difficulties beyond the control of the engineer

The gradual substitution of coal for wood in more of our engines, and the probable continu ance of the recent decline in value of materials and labor, will enable us to secure a marked reduction in the expenses of this Department for the ensuing year.

Cost of transporting a train of Coal cars, carrying 409 tons, from the Coal Region to Richmond, and returning the empty cars, per round trip of 190 miles, with Anthracite as fuel, $165 86, averaging 39.58 cents per ton.

Cost of transporting a train same distance, with same engine, but with wood fuel, capable of hauling only 345 tons per trip, $170 68, averaging 19.47 cents per ton. Coal consumed during the trip 9.61 tons, sveraging $3 44 per ton—Wood 11.8 cords, averaging $4 96 per cord.

Showing a difference of nearly tent cents per ton in favor of Coal. One ton of Coal will produce as much steam as a cord and a fourth of wood, and is equal in power to nearly two cords of wet wood. Bituminous Coal for Locomotives is liable to many objections, and is attended with considerable difficulty in and is attended with considerable difficulty in aspirants for Literary Fame, held in February, its use as fuel, unless it is coked, and that 1855, it was Resolved, that a vote of thanks be reis too expensive and deteriorating a process turned through the Public Press to the followers for it to undergo.

few years ago, when a celebrated chemist said to a man, who had offered for analysis some specimens of Anthracite coal—"If you will take your stand on that coal-field, on the day of judgment! I will engage you will be the last man burned." It was still later that the "Pioneer Furnace," yet in blast. in Pottsville, first established the fact, that iron could be reduced from the ore with Anthracite; a discovery which has built up one of the greatest industrial interests in this country. And it was still later that this coel was employed in running steamboats. It is now used, with the best succe n ordinary smith's fires. It is now used satisfactorily in Locomotives. But its use in Locomotives will be still more perfected, until it is as much an established fact in Railroad operations as is the use of anthracite and of gas in the do-ANTHRACITE FOR BLACKSMITH'S FIRE We mentioned last week, that in machine short about Pottsville, anthracito was used exclusively for manner in which it is used. Those are simply two pieces of ash, say 8 feet long and 6 by 2 inches, bolted together, and supporting the boxes. Mr. G. W. ONE THAT KNOWS. READ THIS .- Extravagance .- A Phil adelphia letter writer says of a party which was given by Mr. Rush, a millionaire of that city, a few days ago:

to get through this season of the year without em-

"About two thousand invitations were issued, and the entire cost of the entertainment. I am informed, was in the vicinity of 20,000 dollars, the bare item of boquets alone, costing $1,000, which were distributed in elegant profusion around her splendid mansion. It was nothing but one incessant reveling in 21st. Ash Wednesday, 101/2 A.M., and 71/2 Pt.M. luxury from beginning to end. At half past 23d. AND THEN THIS .- A Philadelphia correspondent writes: "A police officer, on Saturday morning, ob served a decent-looking man take a small piece of beef off a butcher's stall in the market and conceal it under his cloak which he wore. The official notified the butcher of going into a house in the upper part of the city. The policeman knocked at the door, which was opened by the man, who, upon see ing the badge, begged the former for God's sake not to arrest him. The officer went into the house, where he found a scene of destitution, in the midst of which were four shivering children eagerly devouring the raw meat. BOS DARING ATTEMPT TO MURDER A LADY

-On Monday evening, between 6 and

o'clock, a tall man, enveloped in a cloak and much disguised, entered very quietly, by means of a false key the residence of Mr. Na thaniel C. Bishop, No. 991 Broadway, and proceeded immediately to the parlor, where Mrs. Bishop was engaged in playing on the piano, and instantly discharged a histol at least one thousand, was enchained by his clo- her, but fortunately without effect, as the ball quence, while the frequent irrepressible bursts of missed its aim and passed through a pane of applause showed that the speaker's words met glass, striking the brick wall of a building ville, Pa., who now owns the patent right for that with a response in the hearts of his hearers. The nearly adjoining. The rascal then left as suddenly as he had entered, and though two of the servants, who heard the report of the pistol, were at the parlor door immediately afterwards, they could only catch a glimpse at him. The alarm was given and a policeman obtained, but too late to effect the arrest of the perpetrator. Mrs. Bishop was so frightened that she fainted, and it was some time before she could be restored to consciousness. Who the villain is, neither Mrs. B. nor her husband can imagine, as they are not aware of having given serious offence to any one .-About 3 o'clock on the same afternoon, a tall man, with blue eyes and black hair, wearing a cloak, called at the house and inquired for Mrs. Bishop, who was then out, and this individual is doubtless the one who afterwards attempted to take her life. Previous to entering the parlor, the villain had extinguished the gas in the hall, and there being no light in the parlor except what was emitted from preparations now making, the 22d is to be colubra- the fire, Mrs. B. was unable even to catch a have not been placed in many of these depos- reported in Congress, by Mr. Perkins. The villain in that instance also escaped detection. The police are using every exertion to ascertain who is the perpetrator of the outrage, with a view to his arrest, and it is much to be hoped that

Besides this loss in valuables, transferred from the East to the Rocky Mountains, it is be lieved that the product has been fruitful o evil to this country, by stimulating speculations and inducing over-importations of for-eign merchandize. When, in addition to the estimates of immense loss of life, time, &c. transferred from the Old States, and which remained unproductive, we add the immense cost to Government of getting and protect ing California, it is found a disastrous, waste-

SHADE TREES ON RAILROADS .- Mr. N Jones, in a late number of the Scientific American, made the following sensible remarks on this subject, and we commend them to the attention of Railroad Companies generally, as worthy of serious consideration: "It has often occurred to me that railroad companies would gain much by planting the waite land on each side of the track trees. The locust, for instance, which will grow in any soil, requires no attention, and is of rapid growth. The advantages would be, first a refreshing shade. Second. a protec tion from the dust, by retaining the moisture. Third, strength to embankments, and fourth, sufficient timber, and superior to any other, for all the ties on the road; a tree will grov sufficiently large in ten or fifteen years." COAL OPERATIONS IN PENNSYLVANIA -It is stated that a company of gentlemen in New York have recently purchased the well known Rose Hill estate, situated one W. Woodward, Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. The company will control about 300 acres of anthracite land, every coal region and New York city, it is supposed, thors.

Is NOT THE MAINE LAW NEEDED?-A wretch in Rochester, New York, a young intelligent man, of genteel address, and well connected, has been arraigned on a charge of vagrancy. He once sold his wife's only shawl for whiskey; again he sold the cradle in which her infant slept. Once having exhausted all his means for procuring whiskey in town, he went out to his father's in the country, and stated that his eldest child was dead, and that he had not the means to procure a coffin and pay the funeral expenses. By this device he procured sufficient funds to enable him to lay drunk for quite a time. - Democ-
