PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE, Port Carbon, Schwykill Co.

WHY do so many learn Phonography? Because it is the easiest, nicest, and most desirable sequisition that ever they saw. Phonographic writing is to the other what the Telegraph is to the mail. This has been proved by thousands who now use it; because once learnt it cannot be forgotten. A specimen will be sent to the address of any one on application for the same. Mr. Nicul gives four lesso s and the instruction book for $1, through the mail, or in classes when convenient.

N. B.—Four lessons will enable any one to read and write Fonografi with ease.

Put looked unspeakably crest fullen and mutterd as the priest retired,
"I must on'y conthrive and do what your rivirence says."

At the expiration of Pat's weekly pilgrimage, Father O'Rourke again appeared.
"How are your feet?" he asked with an arch

"As well as ever," was the cheerful answer. "Let me see them," requested the priest.
Accordingly Pat alacriously uncovered them, and smirkingly presented the soles thereof, for clerical inspection.
"I declare they are," cried the priest in astonishment. "What did you put on them?"
"Boots, to be shure;" and Pat laughed consumedly.

The truth was out. Pat had literally followed. the injunction of the confessor, but had slipped on a pair of boots, conceiving that he had a right to

After the necessary lapse of time, Father Maurice appeared once more. He was on horseback, and apparently in haste. Pat had just returned from his last journey.

MURDERS IN THE ROYAL FAMILY OF RUS-BIA.—The first surmise on the announcement of the death of the Czar, was that he had fallen a victim to some conspiracy. There would seem, however, to be no grounds for this suspicion. Yet the almost universal suspicion of murder was not extraordinary, when it is considered how many of the royal line of Bussia have died forcible deaths. What with the dissensions among the imperial family, and what with the conspiracies on the part of the nobility to remove an obnoxious Czar, no dynasty of civilized princes has ever suffered so much from steel and cord, since the days of the Roman Caesars. Tulleyrand's famous definition of the character of the Russian Government, that it was "a despotism tempered by assassination," was as true as it was witty, or rather, was witty because of its truth. During the earlier period of Czarism, nearly every emperor destroyed some rival, or was himself destroyed. Even in the last century, the marder of a Russian prince almost universally attended or preceded the accession of a new monarch to the throne. The bloody drams was opened by a father killing his own son, and closed by a son consenting to the murder of his The incident to which we first allude, was the secret execution, of Alexis, only son of Peter the Great, by order of his father, A. D. 1719. The Prince was hostile to the new measures introduced by the Czar, favoring the old Buyar party, which adhered to the ancient usages and customs of his sonered to the ancient usages and customs of his country. For this Peter resolved to disinherit him. Alexis, knowing what this meant, fled abroad, but being discovered, was dragged back to Russia, compelled to renounce the succession, tried by secret judges, and barbarously put to death. The next great tragedy which occurred in the Russian family was the number of Peter. in the Romanoff family, was the murder of Peter the Third, by direction of his wife, who immediately ascended the throne as Catharine the Second. This woman, colebrated no loss for her profligate life than for her political gonius, was the grandmother of Nicholas. Her instrument in the assassination of her husband was Prince Alexis Orloff, one of her paramours, a man of gigantic stature, who subsequently unblushingly paraded himself through Europe, and was viewed with terror and curiosity everywhere as the person who, when the Emperor resisted, had throttled the un-happy Prince with his own hand. A brother of this monster went to Italy, where a Princess of the Romanoff line resided, whom Catharine feared in consequence of her better title to the throne, and having inveigled the poor girl into a mock marriage, trapped her on board of a Russian frigate, and carried her a prisoner to Cronstadt. The miserable victim of this atrocious perfidy was drowned in her cell subsequently by an inundation of the Neva.

The particulate to which we allude was the murder of Paul the First, father of Nicholas, with the knowledge if not the countwance of Alexander, the predecessor of the late Crar. Paul was set upon, at night, in his chamber, and assassinated after a protracted struggle, in which he fought with desperator resolution, though unarmed and in his perato resolution, though unarmed and in his in is in its to control the schools, prohibit the Bibles and the Bibles and Bibles and his determination to burn all the Bibles and Buoks, except the catechism of the diocese, a blook of easy moral lessons, and a book of arithmetic. In a late memorial to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, by the Romish bishops of that country, remonstrating against the establishment of certain colleges proposed, it is said in so many words, that the Roman Catholic pupils could not attend the lectures on history, logic, metaphysics, moral philosophy, geology or anatomy, without imminent. danger do their, faith, unless a Roman Catholic pupils could not attend the lectures on history, logic, metaphysics, moral philosophy, geology or anatomy, without imminent. danger do their, faith, unless a Roman Catholic pupils could not attend the lectures on history, logic, metaphysics, moral philosophy, geology or anatomy, without imminent. danger do their, faith, unless a Roman Catholic pupils could not attend the section of the Lord Lieutenant of certain colleges proposed, it is said in so many words, that the Roman Catholic pupils could not attend the lectures on history, logic, metaphysics, moral philosophy, geology or anatomy. the Romanoff line resided, whom Catharine feared predecessor of the late Czar. Paul was set upon, at night, in his chamber, and assassinated after a protracted struggle, in which he fought with desperate resolution, though unarmed and in his shirt. At the period of this bloody tragedy, Nicholae was an infant. But his elder brother, Alexage ander, was a young man; and was, it is generally believed, aware of what was about to occur. Remore for the act is said to have embittered the morae for the set is said to have empired the closing days of Alexander. It is asserted by some historians that even this Prince fell a victim to a violent death. It is certain that he died suddenly, when on a tour in the Crimea; and as he had be-deal in the open air, to convert what you eat into pure, healthful blood. Do not be afraid of outdoor air, day or night. Do not be afraid of suddoor air, day or night. Do not be afraid of suddoor air, day or night. The in area of what our can digest, and exercise a great deal in the open air, to convert what you eat into cold, keep you in doors. If it is rainy weather, the more need for your going out, because you eat as much upon a rainy day as upon a clear day, and mystem of what our the to be thrown mains in the system of what ought to be thrown off by exercise, and some ill result, some consequent symptom of ill feeling is the certain issue.

If it is cold out of doors, do not muffle your eyes, mouth and nose in fars, veils, woolen comforters, and the like; nature has supplied you with the best muffler, with the best inhaling regulator, that is, two lips: shut them before you step out of a warm room into the cold air, and keep them shut until you have walked briskly a few rods and quickened the circulation a little; walk fast enough to keep off a feeling of chilliness, and taking cold will be impossible. What are the facts of the case; look at railroad conductors, going out of the hot air into the piercing cold of winter, and in again ev-ery five and ten minutes and yet they do not take cold oftener than others. You will scarcely find a consumptive man in a thousand of them.
"It is wonderful how afraid consumptive people are of fresh air, the very thing that would cure them; the only obstacle to a cure being that they do not get enough of it; and yet what infinite pains they take to avoid breathing it, especially if it is cold; when it is known that the colder the air is the purer it must be, yet if people cannot do so, sceing that wearing boots instead, on the occasion, had not been specially interdicted.

Father O'Rourke was consumately incensed at having thus been outwitted; he lectured, threating warm room, with a temperature not varying ten degrees in six months; all such people die, and yet we follow in their footsteps. If Iwere scriously ill of consumption I would live out of doors boots, if he chose to wear them, binding him to its day and night, except it was raining or mid-wing due fulfillment, on pain of the Church's everlast-ter, then I would sleep in an unplastered log house. My consumptive friend, you want air, not physic; you want pure air, not medicated air; you want nutrition, such as plenty of mest and brend will give, and they alone; physic has no nutriment, gaspings for air cannot cure you; mon-key capers in a gymnasium cannot cure. If you want to get well, go in for bref aud out-door air, and do not be deluded into the grave by newspaper advertisements, and unfindable certifiers.

MAT WHAT FAMILY GOVERNMENT IS .- It is not to watch children with a suspicious eye; to frown at their merry outbursts of innocent hilarity; to at their merry outcomes of mocent marry; suppress their loyous laughter, and to mould them into little models of octogenarian gravity.

And when they have been in fault it is not to punish them simply on account of the personal injury that you may have chanced to suffer, in con-sequence of their fault; while disobedience, unat-tended by inconvenience to yourself, passes without rebuke. Nor is it to overwhelm the little culprit with a flood of angry words; to stun him with a deafening noise; to call him by hard names, which do not express his misdeeds, to load him with opiwas very natural for a well-bred horse to do under such a stimulus, it reared, plunged and took to its fault of ten fold enormity; or to declare, with pasheels, carrying its sacred rider over half a dozen sionate vehemence, that he is the worst child in the world, and destined to the gallows But it is to watch anxiously for the first risings of sin, and to repress them: to counteract the ear-beginning of rebellion against rightful authority; to teach an implicit and unquestioning and cheerful obelience to the will of the parent, as the best preparation for a future allegiance to the require ments of the civil magistrate, and to the laws of the great Ruler and Father in Heaven.

It is to punish a fault because it is a fault; because it is sinful and contrary to the commands of God, without reference to whether it may or may not have been productive of immediate injury to the parent or to others.
It is to reprove with calmness and composures and not with angry irritation; in a few words fitly chosen, and not with a turrent of abuse; to punish as often as you threaten and threaten only when you intend and can remember to perform; to say what you mean, and infallibly do what you It is to govern your family as in the sight of Him who gave you your authority; who will re-ward your strict fidelity with such blessings as Ho bestowed on Abraham, or punish your criminal neglect with such curses as he visited on Eli .- Re-Excellent Aprice .- On the subject of behaviour in company. Leigh Richmon gives the following excellent advice to his daughters:— "Be cheerful, be no gigglers. Be serious hat not dell. Be communicative; but not forward. Be kind, but not servile. Beware of silly thoughtless speeches; although you may forget them, others will not. Remember that God's eye is in every place, and His ear in every company. Beware of levity and familiarity with young men; a modest reserve, without affectation, it is the only safe path. Court and encourage serious conversation, and go not into intelligent company without endeavoring to improve by the intercourse permitted you.— Nothing is more unbecoming, when one part of the company is engaged in profitable and interes-ting conversation, than that another party should be triffing and talking comparative nonsense.

The Let but the great body of the people be enlightened by the word of God, and they will form the firmest bulwarks against the encroachments of every erroneous and delusive system.

Miscellany. ROMANISM AND THE BIBLE.—Bomish hos-tility to the Bible is confined to no particular country or locality. The same deadly hatred to the sacred volume prevails here and overywhere. They have burned it in public bonfires in many of the towns and cities in America, and in a few inthe towns and cities in America, and in a few instances succeeded in excluding it from the public schools. We see that an inspector of schools in France, recently published, for the benefit of the school masters of his departments, his intention of visiting all the schools in company with the priest, and his determination to burn all the Bibles and
