Sollass A WIFE .- A gentleman played off a rich joke on his better half the other day. Being something of an epicure, he took it in to his head that he should like to have a first rate dinner. So he addressed her a note politely informing her that a gentleman of her acquaintance, an old and true friend, would dine with her that day. As soon as she received it, all hands went to work to get everything in jorder. Precisely at twelve o'clock she wasterepared to receive her guest. The house was as clean as a new pin-a sumptuous dinner was on the table, and she was arrayed in her best attire. A gentle knock was heard, and she started with a palpitating hear: to the door. She thought it must be an old friend-perhaps a brother from the place whence they once moved. On opening the door she saw her husband with a smiling coun-

"Why, my dear," says she, in an auxious time, "where is the gentleman of whom you spoke in your note?" "Why," replied her husband very complai suntly, "here he is."

"You said a gentleman of my acquaintance -in old and true friend, would dine with us "to-day."

"Well," said he, good-humoredly, "am I not a gentleman of your acquaintance, an old and true friend?" "Ohl" she cried distressingly, "is there no body but you?". "No." "Well. I declare this is too bad," said hi wife in an angry tone. The hashand laughed immoderately-his bettor half said she felt like giving him a tongue lashing-but finally they sat down cosily tourether, and for once he had a good dinner without having company.

DEIVING 'ROUND THE TOWN .- Collier, an incorrigible wag, was in Buffalo last week with his family, and, wishing to take an airing, called a carriage driven by a Patlander of the densest and most literal kind. "And where does your honor want to go?" "We wish to see what is most interesting in the place. Drive us about the town." "Is it 'round the town, yer honor?" "Yes, yes," said Mr. C., impatiently; "go ahead." "Sure and I will, yer honor;" and off started.

Leaving the American, Pat drove down street to Erie; turning down Erie, he went to the basin, then on the dock, and so through Water and Prime streets, and to Ohio; then to the Hydraulics, and up Jefferson street to the old city line. Not particularly admiring what Mrs. Partington calls the outskirts of a city, Mr. C. called a parley, and commenced to remonstrate with the Irishman.

"Is this what you call seeing the town?-Where the devil are you going?". "Round the town, as yer honor directed me; and I've got round, too, all but going down to the canal and long the tow-path to Eric street, where we started from."

ARMS AND HANDS .- The question has been asked why it is considered impolite for gen men to go into the presence of ladies in their shirt sleeves, while it is considered correct for ladies themselves to appear before gentlemen without any sleeves at all. The reason is obvious. Each exhibits that which the other desires to possess-ladies, their arms-gentlemen, their hands.

Government, St. Lawrence Co., N. Y., Der. 16, 1854. Dear Sire-Having experienced very great benefit from the use of your COMFOUND SYRUP OF WILDOILEIRY. I feel bound, as an act of humanity, to recommend this most invaluable medicine to others. More than eight pears ago I fell inte a gradual Chierrhal Omnomition; and notwithstanding the use of many other remedies, I continued to grow weaker, and more and more disordered in my Lungs and Stomach until uyself and my friends despaired of my life. My digostive powers became so ex-hausted that I could not bear the lightest kind of food, except in the minuteit quantities. In this condition, at the request of my brother. I began to use your SYRUP. Almost immediately I derived great benefit from it. In less than three days filter commencing the use of small Almost immediately 1 drived great bonefit from it. LIFE INSURANCE.

A rew evenings since, a widow who was known by the entire congregation to be greatly in want of a husband, was praying with fervenev:---

"Ohl thou knowest what is the desire of my heart!" she 'exclaimed.

"A m-a-nt" responded a brother in broad accent. It was wicked, but we are quitesure that several grave members smiled on the occasion.

INNOCESTLY POPPING THE QUESTION .----"Charles," said a young lady to her lover, "there is nothing interesting in the paper today, is there, dear?"

"No, love, but I hope there will, one day, when we both shall be interested." The lady blushed, and said, of course, "for Mame, Charles." .
