J. H. THE ORIGIN OF THE LOUISVILLE RIOT .---

The Louisville Journal publishes columns of affidavits, which fully establish the fact that Irish of that city, long before the riots, made the most ample provisions for warfare, and in fact commenced the riot, which recently discraced Louisville. It is proven by Irish and Catholic testimony, that the Irish intended to attack the American torchlight procession the previous Saturday night; and were prepared for the emergency with arms. The Irish were engaged in moulding bullets. The affidavits published in the Journal exculpate the American party of Louisville from the charge ot being the first to commence the scenes of violence which lately disgraced Louisville .-The opposite party in the meantime, can produce no affidavits to prove that they were not SEE.-The Americans have the the aggressors in the affair. The police getting wind of the transaction, set about at once to ferret out the robbers, andafter considerable difficulty, officers Long, Henderson, Harkins and Oneril, succeeded in capturing Anthony McGahen, one of the party. He has since been committed to await the reuisition of the authorities of Schuylkill couny. We understand that the officers have a fair prospect of capturing the criminal comrade of McGahen.
