His brow is pals, and the rattling hall
That falls on the frosty pans,
Can't break the sleep that his worn eyes keep,
As if never to wake again.

Tet hark! he hears, though with half-closed ears, On the door of rapping low, Still be turns not round at the gentle sound, But simply marmurs, "Pos!" "Tis only the bird that Edgas heard, As he tapped at the window so, And I'm so craven to fiar a raven, Or let in a beggarly trow."

Hark! It raps again, and with might and main: The Post awakes at last. And opens the door, as with angry roar The wild wind hurries past.

Tie the CARRIER-BOY, who wishes him for. And asks in a faltering tone.

If he will write a few lines that night,
And kindly give him the toan.

The Post looks wild at the blue-eyed child,
The nelutches him by the bair,
and makes him abide by the chipmey-side,
as he sinks back in his chair—

Pulls up the machine, and with dreadful mien He oils each rusty wheel, Then exises the crank, and with many a yank, Brings out a poetic squest.

A WIPE IN EXTACT AND A HUSBAND IN FIDE-The deed is accomplished. My wife has Building daterials, got a piane, "and now farewell the tranquil mind shounder's Tools, starwell content and the evening papers and the big cigars that make ambition virtue—oh, farewell! And oh; ye mortal engines, whose rate throats the immortal Jove's dread clame's counter and it are well, for one of them has just arrived. It came on a dray, one of them has just arrived. It came on a dray. one of them has just arrived. It came on a dray, one of them has just arrived. It came on a dray, six men carried it into the parlor, and it grunted awfilly. It weighs a ton, shores like a mirrog, and has carried Cupids chushing up its limb. And such longs—when? My wife has commenced to practice, and the first time she touched the machine, I thought we were in the mists of a thunder storm, and the lighton my had struk the crockery chests. The cat, what is rest, took a beeline for a particular friend upon the back fence, demolishing a six suilling pane of gluss.—The baby awoke, and the little fellow tried his best to beat the instrument, but he didn't do it. It beat him. A teacher has been introduced into the house. He ways he is the last of Napoleon's the house. He says he is the last of Napoleon's grand army. He wears a huge moustache, looks at me flercely, smells of garlic, and goes by the name of Count Run away and never come back-again-by. He played an extract de opera the other night. He run his fingers through his hair twice, then grinned, then he cocked his eyes up at the ceiling, like a monkey hunting flies, then down came one of his fingers, and I heard a delightful sound, similar to that produced by a lockroach dancing upon the tenor string of a fild e.

Down came another finger, and I was remined of the wind whisting through a knot hele in a h n coop. He fouched his thumb, and I thoug t I was in an orchard listening to the distant braying of a jackass. Now he ran his fingers along the keys, and I thought of a boy rattling a stick upon a picket fence. All of a sudden he stopped, and I thought something had happened. Then down came both fists, and oh, Lord! such a noise was nover heard before. I thought a hurricane had struck the house, and the walls were caving in. I imagined I was in the cellar, and a ton of coal was falling upon my head. I thought the machine had burst, when the infernal noise, stopped, and I heard my wife ejaculate-Exquisite! 'What the dence is the matter?" The answer was, "Why, dear, that's La Someambula!" "D—n Somnambula!" thought I; and the Count rolled up his sheet of paper. He calls it in sic; but for the life of me. I can't make it look like anything ee than a rail fence with a lot of juvenile niggers climbing over it. Before that instrument of orture came into the house, I could enjoy myself: but now every darned woman in the neighborhood must be invited to hear the new piano, and every time the blasted thing shricks out, like a locomotive with the bronchitis, I have to praise its tone, and when the invited guests are playing, I have to any, "Exquisite!" "Delightful!" "Heavenly!" and all such trash, while, at the same time, I know just as much about music as a blind codfish. There are more tuning hammers than comforts in our house; and—and I wish the inventor of the piano was troubled with a perpetual nightmare.

piano was troubled with a perpetual nightmare, and obliged to sleep in one of his instruments all his life. As for myself, I had rather put my head under a tin pan and he drummed to sleep with a pair of smoothing irons than hear "La Somnambula," or any other La thumped out of a piano. Scatter pennies in front of, my house, and draw together all the wandering miastrels in the city—hand organs, hanjes, fiddles, tambourines, rattling bones and fish horns. Let juvenile monkeys crawl in at my windows in search of three cent pieces—let me be awakened at midnight by the crawl in at my windows in search of three cent pieces—let me be awakened at midnight by the devil of a time generally—io all this, and I will contained to be surpassed for furning, siver amination will show. It has the best elements of properti. being underlaid by two rich veins of Loui, and will shortly be intersected by, four railroads. This underseption ably good, and warrantee deeds are given. pieces—let me be awakened at midnight by the cry of "murder!"—ring the fire bells and have a devil of a time generally—do all this, and I will not complain; but banish the pianos! My piano has got to go. I am going to haunch the infernal machine out of the window the first dark night, and, my friends, I advise you to sleep with cotton in your ears, or when she gives her dying grunt you'll think you'ye fallen out of bed or a fallen attar has gone-to roost upon your houset-p. For the information of "Young America," I will state that all the pieces of brass wire and irory keys they are welcome to, but the skeleton I want fo a refrigerator.

In my own practice I always kept it strictly for humors, but since its introduction as a general family medicine, areat and wonderful virtues have been found in it that sugar to sweeten it; beat them well together a sugar t great and wonderful virtues have been found in it that I never suspected.

Several cases of epileptic fits—a disease which was alwhik; put a piece of clean muslin over ways considered incurable, have been cured by a few bottles. O, what a mercy if it will prove effectual in all cases of that awful malady—there are but few who have seen more of it than I have.

I know of several cases of Dropsy, all of them aged people cured by it. For the various diseases of the Liver, like Hesdache, Dyspepsia, Asthma. Fever and Ague, Pain in the side, Diseases of the Spine, and particularly in diseases of the kidneys, &c., the discovery has done more cood than any medicine ever known.

No change of diet necessary—eat the best you get and amough of it.

Many of the most despotic Governments have opened their Custom Houses to the intreduction of these Pills, that they may become the medicine of the masses—Learned Colleges admit that this medicine is the best remedy ever known for persons of delicate health, or where the system has been impaired, as its invigorating properties never fail to afford relief.

No Female, young or old, should be without this celebrated medicine. It corrects and regulates the monthly course-sat all periods acting in many cases like a charm. It is also the best and safest medicine that can be given to children of all ages, and for any complaint; consequently no family should be without it.
