I remember, I remember, I remember, I remember,
When I used to go to school,
How I kept a watchful eye on
The schoolmaster's rod and rule;
How I cut up monkey-shines
Every time his back was turned;
How I sometimes used to catch it,
When I'd not my lesson learned. I remember, I remember, When I went a hooking peaches when I went a noming peaches, How a dog came out and caught me By the surplus of my breeches; How I hung on to the bushes— How the dog hung far to me— fill my cryings brought a man who flogged me most oriul-is.

I remember, I remember,
When the girls I used to kiss,
How I thought it rather funny,
But it gave no extra bliss;
Now it seless me with rapture;
Now it fills my s.ul with joy;
Yet, with manbood's blissful pleasu
Would that I were still a boy.

AMERICAN SANG FROM Par away from the great cities, half hidden in the foliage, was the modest log-but of a man, half trapper, half fisherman, and more than half savage. Of course his name is Smith. He was married, and he and his wife in this one little chamber led the happiest of existence, for on an occasion she would not object to go twenty miles to hear the Baptist minister One evening about sundown, they were both to gether in their little cabin—she knitting stockings for the next winter's snows, he cleaning the barrel of his fowling-piece, all the parts of which were lying dismounted about him—both busy, and neither uttered a syllable. By degrees a dull but regular sound breaks upby degrees a dust out regular sound breaks up-on the silence of the wilderness. The steamer is ascending the river, making the best of its way against the stream. But neither Smith nor his wife pays any attention; he goes on cleaning his

Smith and his wife did not look up; he went or cleaning his gua, she knitting her stocking, for explosions of steamers are so common. But this was one which was to interest them more nearly, for scarcely had the explosion ended before the roof of the cabin split in two, and something heavy descended through the aperture, This something was a man, who dropped between the pair, without, however, disturbing either—he still cleaning his gun, she still knitting her stock-But the traveller, so rudely introduced, seemed rather astounded at his descent. After a few min-utes, however, he resumed his coolness and began to look about him, fixing his attention at last upon the hole through which he had just arrived. "Ah! my man," said he at length, addressing Smith, "what's the damage?"

On this Smith, who had not given up his work, put aside his rifle, and looking up to estimate his loss, answered, after some little reflection, "Ten "You be hanged!" exclaimed the traveller .-Last week, in the explosion I happened to be in, with another steamer. I fell through three dights in a new bouse, and they only charged me five dollars. No, no; I know what's the thing in such matters. Here's a couple of dollars; and if that won't do, go and sue me, and be hanged "-M. L' Alembert's "Tour en Amerique." A CRITICISM.—An actor, well known in the city, who has rather a higher opinion of himself than is entertained either by the public or by his profession, was playing a star engagement of West recently. One evening, after the performance, as he was standing on the corner of the he was standing street, listening with tickled car to the flatteries chiefs Ruffling Ladies and Gents Kid Gloves, Lace M'ts.

"I assure you, gentlemen, that that ex-pression of unbiassed admiration from the lips of that honest fellow is far more gratifying to my feelings than all the unqualified praise I have invariably received at the hands of the ablest critics of America. Pray, my good man," addressing himself again to the Irishman, "with what portion of my performance of Richard the Third "Wid the dying scene, sir. The tragedian walked home. A LADY in this city, says the Newark Eagle yesterday, was recently visited by a female servant who had been married, and seeing that she presented an appearance of having much bettered er circumstances, she inquired the nature of he ner circumstances, she inquired the nature of her husband's profession. To this interrogatory, the young woman replied, "He is an asker, ma'ami "An asker!" inquired the good lady, in astonish-ment, "and what in the world is that?" "Oh ma'am, he stands in the streets, and asks," "Why, you don't mean to say you have married a be zgar, do you?" "Yes, ma'am, but it is a very good meiness. My husband thinks it very hard work, indeed, if he don't bring home more than five meself wid laughing at ye!"

A round lass went to a camp-meeting, and came back full of the revival which they had, and did nothing the following week but sing-'Shout! shout! we're gaining ground," &c. She had the tune so pat, that all she said was but a continuation of that song, and not unfrequently the rhyme was too long for the tune. Old Jowel slipped in and took a bone off the table, and just as he was making for the door, she sung out-"If you don't go out. I'll knock you down, Halle-hallelujah! You nasty, stinkin', flop-eared hound. O, glory halleli jah!"

"Jin, what are you doing on the floor?" Why, sir. I have had a shock." What kind of a shock?"

"What kind of a shock?"
"Why, sir, one of your subscribers came in during your absence, and offered to pay a year's subscription, which produced such an effect upon me, that I have been perfectly helpless ever since."
"No wonder Jim, but cheer up; if you survive this, you are safe, as there is little prospect of another such catastrophe in this office." As Hoxon .- A friend at West Point tells us omical anecdote of a very diffident young clergy-man, who had been invited to dine with a profes-sional brother, who also kept a young lady's board-ing-school. He was introduced to a bevy of fair pupils in the drawing room, and among them to a Miss M——, to whom he said, stammering: 'A-a-a-a, Miss M-, n-a-a-I-I-I am not entirely acquainted with you. I-I-I had the honor of elerping with your father a chort

THE names of the contending parties were Bill and Jake. After squaring themselves, and effect-Again they slided up the hill, And Jake got in a knock; When by a scienced move of Bill, They came together—sock!

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME

A CURE FOR CONSUMPTION. COUGHS. COLDS. ASTH MA, BRONCHIFIS, GENERAL DEBILITY, AND ALL SCROPULOUS HUMGES.

Have You Tried 143

This important question should be asked overy invalid who is suffering from pulmonary trouble in this fickle climate. Have you tried WILHOR'S COMPOUND OF COD LIVER OIL AND LIME? It will not naussate like the plain OIL, but is on the contrary, pleasant to the taste; moreover, the Phesphaie of Lime is, in this combination, a misst remarkable aid to the healing properties of the Pure Cod Liver Oil; as the following certificates (selected from a host of like grateful acknowledgements) will amply show, No person should neglect, for a single hour, a cough, or any affection of the lungs, lest the most serious consequences follow. Dr. Wilhor's preparation is both safe and simple, and sure in all ordinary cases, and has performed some surprising cures in decided consumption, where ordinary medical aid has failed:

Dn. Wilhors:—During nearly the whole of the mast CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, ASTH failed:

Dn. Wilder:—During nearly the whole of the past winter. I had suffered seriously with a cough, which had so irritated my lungs, that my physician frankly adultited his fear of consumption following this trouble is the Spring weather set in. Medicine seemed to afford me little relief, until I tried your preparation of Cod Liver oil and Lime. The effect I am forced by facts to admit, was almost magical, and I have the pleasure of saying at this writing. (May 2d. 1853.) I am entirely free from any rulmonary trouble. this writing, (1) any man pulmonary trouble.

With thanks to you for your valuable discovery, I condially recommend it to those who are thus afflicted.

FARMER'S SONG. A farmer's life is the life for me, I own I love it dearly? And every season full of gice.

I take its labor cheerly.

To plow or sow, to reap or mow, Or in the barn to thresh, sir.

All's one to me. I plainly see

Twill bring me health and cash, s The lawyer leads a harrassed life, finate to t general Vithous a Adverse

Much like a hunted ofter.
And 'twist his own and others' strittle's always in hot water.
For foe or friend, a cause defend,
However wrong must be, sir,
In reason spite, majutain the right. And dearly carn his fee, sir. The doctor is styled-a gentleman, But this I own but humming. For like a tavern waiting man To every call he's coming.

Now he're, now there, must be rej.

Or starte, sir, by denying.

Like death himself, unhappy elf.

He livek by others dying. A farmer's life then let me live. Obtaining, while I lead it. Enough for self and some toggive To such poor solls as need it. I'll plow or sow, or drill in row. And give my land good dressing. I'll drain and tence, not grudge exp. And loope from Heav it a blessing
