"Yes, sir"
"Wall, you are the feller I want to see. I'm Prof. Qunckem, of the Swashville Mederkal Institoot, the inventor and sele proprietor of a new medicine, the Great Horse-Power Cathrine, or Har Invigorator. Ever hearn on the article before?"
"Have not." "Wall. I hain't but just found it out myself, but "Wall. I hain't but just found it out myself, but it goes like ginger. It never fails. I'm sending it wall parts of the kontenant, besides South America and other places. It keeps in all climates.— Everybody buys it—everybody likes it—everybody has hair after they have tried it. But here are some certificits—all well authenterkated—know 'em all myself. May be you'll look at ein?'

The little man handed us a well-worn copy of the Swashville Daily Bugle. The leader was devoted to the new discovery. We copy:

"Our hundred thousand readers will hear us out in the assertion, that we do not open our kolumns in the assertion, that we do not open our kolumns to speak of patent medicines. But the 'Great Horse-Power Cathrine Har Invigerator,' am an ronounce it the diskivery of the age. We have pronounce it the diskivery of the age. We have been bald from our birth, owing to early troubles; but once using the Invigorator, kivered our head with a dense growth of har. Our friends are all astonished. Had the Prophet known of this he would not have been called old bald head by the young ones, and 40 and 2 of the little hopefuls tore into slivers by the bears. We will let the Professor speak for himself:"

"The way I diskivered this wonderful medicine, young ones, and 40 and 2 of the little hoperus tore into stivers by the bears. We will let the Professor speak for himself:"

"The way I diskivered this wonderful medicine, was in this wise. I'd been out huckleberry'n, and when going home through the back pasture, where I keep old Brindle and Bob, my tew milking annemals, I got kind o' tired like, and sot down on a bunch of weeds. They felt queer, and I rubed some of them between my fingers. In less than some of them between my fingers. In less than tew minutes, my forefinger and thumb were kivered with har, full out an inch long! You may well think that this astonished me! I tried the weed on t'other hand, and har there to! I jumped up from where I was a settin', and what a sight! My new, drab, doeskin pants looked like the rump of a buffulo, with har three inches long! I did make for home about then. But an idea I did make for home about them the setting the following supply of Oil, whigh they offer for sale at the lowest market rates:

I tried the weed next day on the corner of the house, and it was soon kivered with har. Tried it on the door-stone with the same effect, producing a thick mat of mouse-colored har in thirty minutes. In plowing up the weeds, the mould-board of the plow looked like a steel-gray mush-rat, with handles to him. In digging out a woodchuck, I accidently laid my iron bar upon the weed, and the next morning it was kivered with a thick coat of iron-gray har. I skinned that woodchuck and carried him home, and left him by the side of some of the weed. In the morning, the side of some of the weed. In the morning, the side of some of the weed. Undoubtedly! Caynga Chief. PUNCH gives us an executent article on "the Punch gives us an exection article on the Education of Husbands," worthy of the best days of Caudle—as follows—
Huw suggestive is the new year of bills, and the bills of housekeeping! It is fearful to reflect how many persons rush into matrimony totally unprepared for the awful change that awaits them. A man may take a wife at twenty-one, before he knows the difference between a chip and a Leg-Education of Husbands," worthy of the best days chief A man may take a wife at twenty-one, before he knows the difference between a chip and a Leghorn. We would no more grant a marriage li-cense to any body simply because he is of age, horn. We would no more grant a marriage license to, any body simply because he is of ago, than a license on that ground only, to practice as an apothecary. Husbands ought to be educated. We would like to have the following questions put to young and inexperienced persons about to marry.

Are you aware, sir, of the price of Coal and candles?

Do you know which is the more economical, the flitch bone or the round?

How far, young man, will a leg of mutton go in a small family?

How much dearer now, is ellver than Britannia?

Please to give the average price of a fourposter?

Doclare, if you can, rash youth, the sum per annum, that chemisettes, pelerines, cardinals, bonnets, veils, caps, ribbons, flowers, gloves, cuffs, and collars would come to in the lump.

If unable to answer those inquirios, we would say to him, "Go back to school."

He that would be a husband should also undergo a training, physical and moral. He should be further examined thus:

Dn. Wildon: — During nearly the whole of the past bin. Wildon: — During nearly the whole of the past winer. I had suffered seriously with a cough, which had so irritated my lungs, that my physician frankly admitted his fear of consumption following this trouble us the Spring weather set in. Medicini seemed to afford me little relief, until I tried your preparation of Cod Liver. Oil and Lime. The effect I am forced by facts to admit, was almost magical, and I have the pleasure of saying at this writing (May 2d, 1855,) I am entirely free from any pulmonary trouble.

W. S. Conklin told me—"I have taken nine bottles of Christie's Ague Balsam, and continually run down while using it until my lungs and liver were congested to that degree that blood discharged from my mouth and bowels, so that all thought it impossible for me tolive through another chill. The doctors, too, did all they could for me, but thought I must die. "Nothing did me any good until Ligot Rhodes' Fover and Ague Cure, which at once relieved me of the distless and miusos at my stomach, and pain in my head and bowels, and produced a permanent cure in a short time."

H. M. Conklin says:—"I had been taking medicine of as good a doctor as we have Infour county, and taken any quantity of quinine and specifies without any good result, from 26th August to 17th December. But seeing how nicely it operated on my brother, I got a bottle of Rhodes' Ever and Ague Cure, which effected a permanent cure by using two thirds of a bottle."

S. M. Canklin was not here, but both the other brothers say his case was the same as if. M's. I sold the medicine to both the same day, and the cure was as speedy from the same small quantity, and I might so specify. W. S. Conklin told me—"I have taken nine bottles of

Now I take pleasure in saying that the caution referred to the same "Dr. Christie's 'Ague Balsaim' that is mentioned in the above certificate.

There are several other industrious people who are applying to their poisonous trash all that I publish about my Fever and Ague Cure, or Antidate to Malaria, except the certificates of cures, and the certificate of the celebrated chemist, Dr. James B. Chilton of New York, in favor of its perfectly harmless character, which is attached to every bottle. These will always serve to distinguish my medicine from imitations, JAS. A. BHODES, Proprietor.
