And other rude tater-tie-mailous;
Those wand' ing, sturdy, beggar ruffians,
A'crew of lasy ragamutins;
Vagrants, no other business minding,
int going out an organ-grinding;
Making night hideous with their music,
Executed to make an new you sick. Histing night indeces with their music. Enough to make e'en us or you sick. Or suff-r us to stop their-clatter By taking in our hands the matter; And with a pail of dirty water, To try and make the rascal scatter. It really makes us quite outrageous To hear these fellows with monstaches, When we are tired out and sleeping. Such cur'd, inconsunt discord keeping; A most intolerable nulmace. That can't be driven off for few cents; We'd raiher hear with joy those men sing For thirty days in Moramensing; Their noises we've no doubt would grow less, By interference of the police; If, now and then, through streets and alleys. They'd make a half-adozen sallies; And jug them all in stone and mortar, Twould serve them right, and nothing shorter. And now we end with this addition. That you'll regard our poor petition—And do away with this infliction
Within your present jurisdiction:
Improving thus their sad condition, there's Lots of thanks from your petitiopers. Enough to make e'en us or you sick.

Business Max.-Yesterday morning our A BUSINESS Max.—Yesterday morning our friend Taylor was on the point of getting augry with a customer. His handsome store was full of ladies and children who had dropped in to make purchases, and a casual observer would have thought that he was putting money in his purse after the most approved fashion. While the goodnatured merchant, in the blandest mood was expatiating upon the cheapness, utility, and excellence of his goods, a gentleman with a shockingly bad hat came in and walked leisurely to the back part of the store. Mr. T. paid no attention to him execut to ray. "I will wait upon you directafter the most approved fashion. While the goodnatured merchant, in the blandest mood was expatinting upon the cheapness, utility, and excellence of his goods, a gentleman with a shockingly bad hat came in and walked leisurely to the back part of the store. Mr. T. paid no attention to him, except to say, "I will wait upon you directly, sir." Indeed a glance convinced him that he had sold a hat, as it was evident the man could not live long and retain his old one. So Taylor waited upon the females, who slowly retired. But waited upon the females, who slowly retired. But one lady remained, when the fellow with the shocking hat walked toward the door: "In one minute, sir," said the hatter. "You appear to be busy," rejoined the man; will call again."

A CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, ASTH MA, BRONCHITIS, GENERAL DEBILITY, AND ALL SCROFFLOUS HUMORS. Have You Tried it! This important question should be asked every invalid who is suffering from pulmonary trouble in this fickle climate. Have you tried WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF COD LIVER OIL AND LIME? It will not nauseatelike the plain OIL but is on the contrary, pleasant to the taste; moreover, the Phosphate of Lime is, in this combination, a most remarkable aid to the healing properties of the Pure Cod Liver Oil, as the following cortificates (selected from a host of like grateful acknewledgements will imply show. You presen should negledy for ments) will amply show. No person should neglect for a single hour; a cough, or any affection of the lungs, lest the most serious consequences follow. Dr. Wilbor's repearation is both safe and simple, and sure in all ordinary cases, and has performed some surprising cures in decided consumption, where ordinary medical aid has failed:

That this admirable work is a miracle of cheapment, is admitted by every one, containing, as it does one hundred pages of reading matter in each number, being more than any of the 33 magazines, and forming two volumes a year of six hundred pages ach, or tocice hundred pages of reading matter per annum. For ONE DOLLAR!

Billion's Doilar Monthly is printed with newtype, upon fine white paper, and its matter is carefully compiled and arranged by the hands of the editor and proprietor, who has been known to the public as connected withthe B is tonipress for sixteen years. It pages contain news, takes poems, storles of the sea, sketches, miscellany, adventures, blographics, wit and futuror, from the best and most, popular writers of the country. It is also spleed with a record of the notable svents of the titigs, of peace and war, of discoveries, and improvements occurring in either hemisphere, forming an agreeable companion for a leisure moment or hour, anywhere, at home or abroad, each number being complete in itself.

No sectarian subjects are admitted into its pages; there are enough controversal publications, each devoted to lits peculiar set or clique. This work is intended for "The Million," morth or south, east or west, and is filled to the brim each month with chaste, popular and graphic miscellany, just such as any father, borther or friend, would place in the hands of a family circle. It is in all its departments, fresh and original, and what it purports to be, the cheapest magazine in the world.
