The subscriber now residing in this city, and being unable from other occupations to give to these Collicities the personal attention which they require has been induced to offer them for saie at the opening of one of the best "saieons which has sere occurred in the mining of Anthracite Coal.

THE BLACK MINE or York Farm Colliery at Pottsville, embraces all the free burning Red Ash veins of Coal in Schuyikill county, and the product has always been in great demand and met with a ruady sale at the highest prices in the New York and New 19 ngland markets. During the past summer, an expenditure of $20.000 was made at this Colliery in taking a new lift on the Black Mine vein. The property is now in a splendid condition, and capable of producing annually 40,000 tons of very superior-fied Ash coal. The Slope has a first rate fron T rail, and all the roade on theoutside any laid down in the same substantial manner. It has a breaker operated by a twenty horse engine, with rolliers, large screens, and all the fixtures necessary to do the work in the best and most economical manner.

The subscriber new residing in this city, and being in the same substantial manner.

BULLY BROOKS ON THE PRESIDENCY.

The Constitution to be Trampled Under The Treasury and the Ar-The proceedings at the Brooks festivel at Ninety. Six, S. C., last week, are published. Brooks speech on the dessim was langthy. We have only space to make the following delectable ex-THE DEMOCRATIC PREMONT CLUB. tracts from the speech. After giving a review of the aggressions (!) of the North upon the South, Now, follow-citizens, it is impossible to make a speech on a political question without going into try. We have no politics but the nigger; and it is impossible correctly to understand that and

This Club composed of Old Line Democrate, has established its head quarters at No. 205 Cheanut street, Philadelphia. On Tuesday evaning last, the Club held a crowded and immensely anthusiastic meetings; The President, Hon. John M. Read was in the chair, and among those present were a very large number of old and well known Democrate. After the President had, taken the chair, a committee was appointed to wait on the chair, a committee was appointed to wait on the chair, a committee was appointed to wait on the chair, a committee was appointed to wait on the chair, a committee was appointed to wait on the chair, a committee was appointed to wait on the chair, a committee was appointed to wait on the chair, a committee was appointed to wait on the chair, a committee was appointed to wait on the chair. Hun. A. J. Reeder, at his hotel, and ask his attendance. During the reading of the minutes, however, Gov. Reeder was introduced by Col. Simpson, and ascended the platform amidst the unbounded applause of his Democratic friends. Mr. Rend addressed the meeting, briefly stating the objects of the organization, the success which it had already met with, and the highly favorable prospects which were opening before it throughout the State. In conclusion, Mr. Read introduced the patriotic Governor, whom Judge Lecompte and his colleagues had by nowly imported and unheard of law indicted for treason." moral soutiment—of that power which, if I may so express it, grows by its own action—of the power which a heavy body has over a light one of the power which, like the soow-ball, accumulates by its rolling motion—of the power, in short, of a concentrated public sentiment. Now, these Northern agitators call themselves Free Soilers, and unheard of law, indicted for treason. Gov, Reeder arose amid such a storm of cheer-ing as waked up the Buchanan men over the way, who respinded with cheers for Buchanan and they give no warning of their approach, and seek to conceal their objects. Free Soilism! Why, they had betten say Abolitionism. If they would grouns for Fremont. The Governor spoke some-He had come here under the express stipulatell us right out, plainly, that they are going to abolish Slavery, every man of us would stand to his rights. But they say, "No, we will not interfere with the rights of the States." They are States rights men, as they impudently tell as, tion not to make a speech but now that so many true Democrats called for it, he would return the cordial reception he had received, and treat of the important matters of the day. He had mean old Democratic friend in the street to-day, who had expressed regret that he should be making speeches mainst Buchanin; but he had returned for answer that his principles were now open to the light of conviction, and he intended to express them. When it had been said that vigilance was the price of liberty, it was not meant merely in reference to warlike matters that it should be exercised, but that every man should watch over the olitical and social interests of the country.

Referring to the Republican platform, speaker said that not an article was in it that had not in days past, when the Democratic party was in its purity, received its sanction, including those points relative to domestic slavery. The old party has now given itself up to the Delliah of slavery, and for us it was to revive and restore it. Not only were we upon a Democratic platform, but we have their candidates. Francis Blair, and many others, the vary flower of the ald Demo-cratic party, were now laboring in the good cause, cratic party, were new laboring in the good cause, and valuing and uphobling principles of truth.

The Fremont party of the State of New York, in a great measure, is made up of old Democrate, and they rally under the flag of the Republic, and they rally under the flag of the Republic, and these men are doing; good service to the country. This feeling is an upheave, of the popular sentiment of the nation. As Governor Johanton had stated before to do an answering in orders to repel the unfounded rumors of his this was a between aristocracy and clavery, and involved the States vast territories of whose extent no idea could be formed until thoughtful attention and calculation were given to the subject. It was a question also, whether this great country was cade for the negro or the white man.

For many years gone by, the Democratic party has been nothing but the wet nurse of negratam. ears things are waxing to a point. It was ionable once, in-certain quarters, to ridicule greatest man that our State ever produced, word "crisis." I tell you in the name of Mr. roun that a crisis is coming, and it is upon us to year 1856. I don's mean to say that blows the transfer of the transfer o in the year 1856. I don't mean to say, that blows will be struck or blood shed in the year 1850; but circumstances will take that ground. They will take that shape, and they will settle upon those principles which will inevitably lead to it, if we have the spirit which it believe we have. What is our condition? With an inclusion to set our profession with an inclusion to set our profession to were anxiously waiting for the time when they would be allowed to speak in thunder tones.

Hereinfore there has been but a disjointed North, institution forced upon us first by England, and con-trary to the remonstrances of Virginia, forced up-on as by the Free-soil States of the Union, who on as by the Present States of the Unital was as a sold off to us before they became philanthropic, and which has become a part of our society, what are we to do when we are told by the dominant party at the North—the the good cause. (Applause.) Two days ago the peaker had seen a gentleman from Delaware, who said that if the campaign in that State had been caminerized two months sconer, the response would have been universal. (Applause.) There are some night the South who know and left the efforts of their associates to crack the whip over our heads, to he wrong.

and stronger ones than we had then. We have the issue upon us now, and how are we to meet it? I tell you, fellow-citizens, from the bottom of my heart, that the only mode which I think available for meeting it, as just to tear the Constitution of the United States, trample it under foot, and form a Southern Confederacy, every State of which will be a starcholding State. [Loud and prolonged cheers.] I believe it on my responsibility to you as your honored representative, that the only hope of the South is in the South, and that the only available means of making that the only available means of making that the family of nations. These are my opinions. They have always been my opinions. I have been a disunionist from the time I could think. But no one State can dissolve this Union. I think in dno deference to friends who have more mind, as much patriotism; and as much good feeling for their fellow-men, as I have—I think, I say, that the separate action of any one State would retard the movement. Our friends have told us to make the issue, and the others in self-defence would be constrained to come in to us. Why, I have heard them set them say that

The Givernor retired amid to multuous applanace, after which Vm. A. Jackson, Esq., ruse and; with ome explanatory remarks, offered the following:

Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting it is expedient, to hold a Damocratic, Convention at Harrisburg, on Saiuzday, the 18th of October, of all Democrats who are opposed to the United into the President the following from the North American. ment, have resumed his public duties, from which it is alloged that he has unnecessarily withdrawn. This attempt to arrest the disgust awakened by the most shameful act in the legislative history of the world, and this critimany upon an absent man, have more especially been employed in Indians.

On the floor of the Senate I denounced the assault by Mr. Brooks as bruttl, marderous, and cowardly. I now denounce the conduct of these applogists and calumniators, as false, mean and dastardly, with all the viteness of the original act. That was an assault upon life; this an assauls ipon character, more precions than life.

To all who know Mr. Sumner, thoutter absurdity and groundlessness of this charge are as palpable as its utter heartlessness. For five years, down to this prostration, he had not been absent from his legislative duties for a single day-not even for a recess to visit his home; and all who have seen him during his long weeks and months of painful seclusion, know his constant desire to the sume at once his public labors. Meanness and fulsehood naturally consort with brutality and cawardice; and it is by a resort to adeh nigencies that the friends of Mr. Buchanan seek to austria his failing cause. That in characterizing this calumny upon my colleague, I do not use too strong language, let

Philadelphia, 2d Oct., 1856. Hon, HENRY WILSON: Sin :- In reply to your inquiries, I begin by stating that my intercourse with Mr. Sumner has been wholly of a professional and sector nature, as, personally, I should derive no antisfaction from the success of these political principles to which 'I nover saw Mr. Sumner before the 9th of July, when, upon his arrival in Philadelphia, he came under my professional care. Since then, down to the present monient, he has acted entirely in com-pliance with my advice, given to promote his res-ing himself. What he has thus done, he has done absolutely under my professional direction, and in the discharge of my duty, I could not have given exceedingly feeble, with a morbid irritability of the nervous system, with sleeplessness and in this ity to make any exertion, mental or physical; also without apparent reosperative power. His condition swakened my solicitude, as it was difficult to determine whether he labored under func-tional or organic injury of the brain. It was evi-dent the injuries he had originally received on the door of the S nate had been aggravated by the peculiar condition of his nervous system at the time, a condition induced by revere mental exertion and nervous tension, from the loss of sleep for several adsolution nightly, also, by the prediction rescentibility of his temperament, which is highly nervous. I enjoined absolute repose, and especially, withdrawal from all public duties, and this since for the first will be witnessed the cou-trart of the past.
