"After hanging to the treacherous limbs for four weeks, his pantaloons gave away, and Charles Melville rolled headlong over the yawning preeipice. He fell a distance of five miles, and came down with the small of his back across a stakeand-ridered fence, which so jarred him that he was compelled to travel in Italy for his health, where he is at present residing. He is engaged in the butchering business, and is the father of a large family of children."

I know the effects of it in every case. Bo sure as water will artinguish fire, so sure will this cure humor. I never sold a bottle of it but that sold another; after a trial it always speaks for itself.— There are two things about this has b that appear to me supprising; first that it grows in our pastures, in some places quite plontiful, and yet its value has never been known until I discovered it in 1846—second, that it should cure all kinds of humor. I no rder to give some idea of the sudden rise and great popularity of the discovery, I will state that in April, 1853, I peddled it and sold about six bottles perday—in April, 1864, i sold over one thousand bottles perday of it.
