On this subject the Greek historian Xenophon has preserved to us a charming anecdote. Of a certain occasion, one of those half-mythical Persian sovereigns, into whose personal history the philoso-phers of Greece delighted to weave their highest conceptions of royal polity, Cyrus, the Younger, received Lycander, the envy of the Grecian allies, at Sardis; and conducting him into the rival grounds, pointed out the beauty of the planta-tions, the straight avenues of trees, their rectan-

"'Truly,' cried the Spartan warrior, unused to these delightful but manly refinements, 'I admire the beautiful scene, but much more should I admire the artist by whose skill it was created. Cyrus, pleased with this commendation, exclaimed. It was all laid out and measured by myself, and n portion of the trees planted by my own hands.' The astonished Lacedomonian chieftain, looking up at Cyras, arrayed, as was and is the fashion of exhaling perfumes, exclaimed, 'You have planted these trees with your own hands?' 'Yes, by heavens,' cried Cyrus, 'nor do I eyer go to my dinner till I have earned my appetite by some military or agricultural exercise.' Report of the Committee opposited to superintend the burning of the from Sirfes of Renading, February 20th, 1857.

The undersigned, members of the committee, do respectfully report, that we saw the two Safes originally agreed upon by Farrels & Herring and Frans & Watson, placed side by side in a furnce, viz: The safe in use by the Paymaster of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company, in his offere at Reading, manufactured by Farrels & Herring, and the safe in use by H. A. Lantz, in his store, manufactured by Evans & Watson, and put in books and papers precisely alike.

manufactured by Evans & Watson, and put in books and papers precisely alike.

The fire was started at $1-2 o'clock, A. M., and kept up until four cords of green bickery, two cords dry cak: nd half chesnut top wood. were entirely-consumed, the whole filder the superintendence of the subscribers, members of the committee. The safes were then conclet off-with water, after which they were opened, and the books and papers taken out by the committee and sent to H. A. Lanta's store for public examination. after they were first examined and marked by the committee. The books and papers taken from the safe manufactured by Evans & Watson were but slightly affected by the intense heat, while those taken from the safe manufactured by Farrels & Herring were in our judgment, damaged fully fifteen per cont. more than those taken from Evans & Watson's safe.

Death of a Veteran Editor.

Gen. Valentine Best, for twenty-five years editor of the Danville Intelligencer, died on Wednesday. He was a member of the State Senate in 1848, '49, and '50, and was Speaker of that body in the year 1850. He was in the 57th year of his age.

Disorder being anticipated at the coming elec-tion, some of the citizens applied to the Governor to maintain the peace if required. The Governor responds by promising it, and notifying the mili-tary to be prepared to act. This the Mayor of Saltimore opposes. A correspondence ensues, as n the meantime, the city is under martial law. ies. A correspondance ensues, and The Bank of Pennsylvania.

The result of an investigation into the affairs of his institution, is unfavorable. It is stated that the immediate liabilities of the Bank, in round numbers, independent of capital stock, is about two millions of dollars—to meet which, there are sarets appraised at one and three quarter millions. If this appraisement and amount of liabilities are prreet, the bank would seem to be unable to pay is debts, leaving nothing for stockholders.

The flour is to be halted usual rates for freight. The flour is to be haked into bread in new and improved ovens, which will bake some hundred leaves per day. The bread and coal are then to be furnished to those who Mometary Matters.

There is a growing case in the Money Markets of the principal cities. In Philadelphia yesterday, foancial affairs presented a more cheerful aspect than for several days past. The steamer Grenada, at New York from Havana, brings $359, 200 in practic and the scale litt of the Parels 000 in specie, and the specie list of the Persia proves the amount received by her to have been even larger by nearly two hundred thousand dol-lars than was at first reported. It is not possi-ble for this influx of gold to continue without materially changing the face of commercial mate ers.
Stocks have been more active both at New York and Philadelphis.

Thursday's New York Tribane says:

The movement in gold continues to be moderate, and the quotations are it to 1 to cent. premium. The supply is ample, and the banks are minm. The supply is ample, and the banks are indifferent about accumulating more. The Asia took out $100,000, and the Persis, per contra, brought $1,000,000. It is not supposed that we shall be able to retain this gold but for a short period. As soon as we seriously begin to pay our debts to England it will flow back again.—We are doing this to some extent now, and we hear the settlements of credits with the banking houses are much larger than under the circumhouses are much larger than under the circumstances, could have been anticipated. Domestic exchanges are still seriously derauged; and this fact interferes materially with the payments of
