Miners' Journal POTTSVILLE, PA. BATURDAY, JANUARY 4, 1856.

Testerday ushered in the New Year. Were a strict comparison to be instituted in regard to our condition at this time and what it was a twelve month since, it would be unsatisfactory and unpleasant. Under the influence of misgovernment, and in consequence of the action of a Free trade 1887...788. policy, we have descended in the scale of prosperity, until a country one of the most highly favored on the globe and one that should be among the most prosperous, exhibits a prostration in her set 240 Ms. For sale at the Yorkftore.

SIMPLE EDWIN BOOTH was that very night to appear in his great char-

SIR CILES OVERREACH, A NEW WAY TO PAY OLD DEBTS, &c., &c. Everybody was wondering what it meant, but nobody could give the proper explanation. Booth came down to a late breakfast, at the Biddle House, and in passing through the half his eye caught the bill-more particularly, the Simple Edwin Booth part of it. A crowd had already gathered, and were discussing the subject when he came down. Booth did not let himself be known as the object of their wonderment. He gave it a hasty glance, and with a countenance that indicated a fearful storm brewing within; he passed into the saloon and called for a glass Without returning to seek his mutten chops, buckwheat cakes, &c., on he rushed through a side-door into the barber-shop, and thonce into the street, and made a straight walk for the Metropolitan Theatre. The trials so far, do not show that sugar can be readily made, but limited experiments seem to indicate that this will yet be the case. 8. If it'should finally be found impossible to make crystalized sugar, still an excellent syrup can be profitably extracted from its juices. 9. The most profitable results will be abtained where the culture and manufacture is carried on upon an extensive scale. 10. The manufacture of syrup is as easy and simple as ordinary maple sugar making. * 11. Unless "sweetening" of all kinds shall be produced much more abundantly at the South, and sold at the North much cheaper than the average prices of the past year or two, the culture of the Chinese Sugar Cane will prove highly re-Pottsville, inspects Coal lands and Mines.
