NTRODUCTORY GEOGRAPHY INITCODUCTORY GEOGRAPHI. — Small Quarto. 98 pages, 22 maps; beautifully li-lustrated. The work is every way adapted to the capa-sity and wants of the young beginner. Carse has been taken to avoid everything which should be reserved for the more advanced pupit. The maps have only the prio-cipal features delinested; hence they can be easily situ-died. The lessons are copiously lilustrated with appro-priate engravings. For instance, in treating of an island, the subject is illustrated by a map and a picture of an island. So of a peninspils, and of other physical fea-tures. MODERN SCHOOL GEOGRA-PHY-Large Quarto, 134, 40 maps, and nume-coss illustrations. Designed for that very large class of pupils in our schools who wish to learn the more impor-tant facts of Geography, but have not time to consult the more elaborate treatises. In this bok, great pains have been taken, by orpinus exercises, to make the pupil thoroughly acquainted with the more, and familiar with localifies. It embraces the whole subject of Geography as ordinarily taught, and it is a complete work in itself. Tor saie by RENJ BANNAN. Agent for the Publichers regular wholesale prices. If he has an independent turn of mind, let him be a . . farmers. If he wants to engage in a healthy ocsupation let him till the soil. In short, if he would be independent, let him get a spot of sarth, keep within his means, to abun the lawyer; be ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXIR. A MORBID SENSIBILITY of the temperate, to avoid the ductor ; be honest, that he may have a clear conscience; improve the soil, so as to leave the world better than he found it; and then, if he can not live happily and die content, there is no hope for him."

> CARE OF FARM IMPLEMENTS .- We believe it may be safely asserted that the farmer in the course of years sustains as much loss in the needless injury and decay of his tools by exposure to the weather during the season that they are not in use, as be does from the actual wear of them on the farm .---The wagon, the mowing machine, the harness, the plos, with the whole catalogue of minor tools and implements, we are convinced from actual observation, suffer more from the influence of the sun in shrinking and cracking and in the decay caused by exposure to the wet where not in use, than they would were they kept constantly em--Valley Farmer.
