Miners' Journal. POTTSVILLE, PA. BATURDAT, JUSE 25, 1859. THE SPEAKERSHIP OF THE NEXT ROUSE OF REFERENTATIVES.

Upon all the reliable data at hand, it is demonstrated that there will be po strict party majority in the next National House of Representatives, while it is clear the Administration will be in a minority, even allowing it all the strength which may be claimed under the most favorable auspices, that is to say, conceding to it the support of the whole fouth, upon any important, party division. The generally, well informed Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia North American says that the estimate beretofore presented, have claimed the anti-Lecompton democrats in Mew York, New Jerry and Pennsylvenis, as part of the regular Opposition. This assumption, though perhaps with founded in some instances, is not arthorized by any open declaration of these membert. It has, therefore, seemed most correct to classify the House under the bands of regular Opposition, regular democrats, anti-Lecompton democrais, and Americans, as representing precisely the positions occupied by the respective parties themselves, when elected, and the more especially as their future course may be shaped by events yet to happen. They have by no public act or is quite likely, and seems to be foreshadowed, that end of the County. Messra. Clark, Haskin and Reynolds, of New York, will not with the regular Opposition. And so, too, of Mr. Hickman, of Pennsylvanis, and Mesers. Adrain and Biggs, of New Jersey. But Mesars, Montgomery and Schwartz, of Pennsylvania, who were elected as anti-Lecompton demo erate, have yet given no indication of such purpose. The anti Lecompton democrate of Illinois are classed with the regular democracy, because it is supposed they will imitate the example of Judge Douglas, and enter the caucus, by way of illustrating their orthodoxy. With these preliminary remarks, the following table exhibits the state of parties in the House, so far as the elec- street, between two men named Con and Whitetions have proceeded : Opp. Dem. A. L. D. Am. bicder bla entagonist two.

Oregon was admitted last session, and is not included. It may be safely assigned to the dem ecratic side. With her vote, the aggregate of the House is 237 members, requiring 119 to elect, un less the plurality rule should be adopted, after the example in the thirty-fourth Congress. The losses and gains in the States to elect will probably offset each other, and in the aggregate, the south will be apt to stand as in the last Congress, though agers that destroy the fuliage. Now is the time the chances favor the Opposition. Allowing the for its application. democrats the south solid-which they cannot hope to get-and the two anti-Lecompton men from Pennsylvanis, who are regarded most doubtful, and they still could not organize the House with a majority. The Opposition only require the aid of seven out of the eight anti-Lecomptonites, to have the control, independent of th southern Americans. With any co-operation from the latter, they could elect their Speaker and other officers, without a day's delay. But it is very clear that these fractions hold the balance of power, and may yet exert an important inflaence in organizing the House. If they choose to stand out obstinately, they may prevent the election of Speaker for weeks, as in the case of Mr Banks, four years ago. . . and a quick organization would be the best move the Opposition could make. It is very evident that under the circumstances the candidate of the Opposition for the Speakership should be a Pennsylvanian, as most likely to promptly concentrate the entire vate of the Opposition to the present Administration. If in addition he is a man of marked ability; and of conservative principles, such a result would do more than anything else, to harmonize the efforts of the Opposition, to successfully combat the political iniquity of the Buchanan Democracy. If it is expedient then, that Pennsylvania should present the candidate-who shall it be? We emphatically answer. JAMES H. CAMPBELL. Mr. CAMPBELL erjoys no mere local reputation. THE AUSTRIANS RETREATING. By two arrivals this work, we have intelligence of san-guinary condicts, in which the silled French and Sar-dinian forces were vietorious over the Austrians. Of the battle of Magenta, we have by the Anglio Saron at Gaebec, the foliowing particulum:-The epublished troops of Bonsparte and Melas at Ma-rengo amounted to hardly more than half of the Austri-an army at Magenta. The number of French Killed at Marengo was 6,000; and of Austrians 6,007. The great field of Austreling, that miracle of tutiles as it has been called, sustering, that miracle of tutiles as it has been called, sustering that miracle of tutiles as it has been called, such that miracle of tutiles. The battle of Magenta must have arrayed at least a quarter of a million of men in hostile arms. It is only in the Napo-leonic campaigns in 1800 and 1812 that we can find any armies comparable, in numerical importance, with those now contending to decide the fate of Italy. The meet holty-tought fiels of the Penfanular war and of the Crimes meen small in the presence of these masses of desperate and determined value.
