LIEUTENANT LUFF. All of you that are fond of wine, I have a story to tell you...

As the Oil Springs, in Trumbull county, Ohio, are exciting a great deal of interest...

Dear Register: Everything about here is so greasy and oily, it is with extreme difficulty that I can write at all...

I arrived here at a very late hour last night, on an oil train, and might as well be on the track, on this end of the road...

I slipped out of bed (nobody 'varies' here as we slip into bed) at an early hour this morning, and began investigations...

Drilling is unnecessary here, as the oil boils up in springs, sometimes to the height of twenty-five feet, and is caught in the well as it comes down...

The only species of tree which abounds here is the slippery elm. These trees are all slippery, as a squirrel could climb them without dipping his feet in Spaulding's Preparation...

There is one considerable sized creek running through Trumbull County, which is all a singular manner. Three boys went in a boat...

There was a thunder storm this afternoon, and as the electric fluid fell from one of those slippery elms I told you of, it was treated to my first view of "repeated lightning"...

There is a large candy factory on the banks of this river, preparing to put candies in it.

The principal amusements here are climbing greased poles and catching oiled pigs, the necessary appliances being constantly on hand...
