THE SWELL'S SOLILOQUY ON THE WAR.

I don't approve
The——sith blield now;
I cannot intimate hatred by my eyes:
'Od strike and thrunkets such a law,
Why don't the pirates compromise!

Of course, the lyrics has ye charms;
But why must all the valiant arms
Proceed to spoiling buttons?
In callers to exterminate them!

And then the ladies—goodness, dashed!
I don't the change on ev'ry bonnet;
Be Jove! I really have my hands
They publish this the fourth time!

To bash the cheerful countenance tall,
Like patrons of the bloody wing,
Of wife and all the dearly arms—in
It doesn't make a pregnth thing!

To think is Mrs. Green's last night,
To kiss her niece, Miss Mary Harts,
And Friend her smallest (sweetest eight!)
The sudden kind of Samuel shirts!

Of cawse I wou'd sought the dear,
With fervy flashing from my eyes!
I co'n approve this horrid war:
Why don't the pawties compromise!

"LODGE NIGHT."

BY POPKINS.

Hearing a confused noise in front of my domicile the other night, I threw open the casement to ascertain the cause. I observed a dark object clinging to the lamp post that stands sentinel in front of my door; and listening attentively, I overheard the following soliloquy:

"Marier's waitin up for me! I see the light in her winder. What the dev-deuce does she act so darn fool (bic) foolish for on lodge-lodge-nights? 'S'well enough to stay up on o'rrer-nights—but 'a'all damnonsense, ye know, to wait for a fell'r on lodge (bic) nights. She knows 'e'well as I do, busin' 'sgot to be 'tended to—committee 'sgot to report, an' var'us o'rerr little matters—she ought'er'ave more sense. I-I'll catch f-f-fits tho', I know I shall. Said she had the head (bic) headache when I left'er—told me not to stay out longer'n I could 'elp. Well, I didn't! how could I help it? Besides, I'll have the headache worse'n she will'n the mor-nin'. So devilish stupid in her to get the headache when she knew I'd bix-bisness to 'tend to. Ah! these women, these women, they'll never (bic) learn anythin', never!

"So let the world wag as wide as it will,
I'll be gay and (bic) happy still!——

"Ha! ha! ha! (bic) Wonder what's become of Bulger! Left 'm corner o' Fifth's Parrish seutin on a curbstone. Rain'n like blazes, and the war'rer up to his middle. He thought he was at Niag (bic) Niagara Falls. Says'e, says'e, 'Spicer me boy, aint this glor'us? Dont ye hear the ra-rapids?'—I was strike'n out for home as ra (bic) rapidly as I could. 'Ta' pity for Bulger, 'cause I dont think he can swim; and he hates—ha! ha! ha! (bic) hates war'rer like p-poison. Wish I wa's'ome and in bed. B-r-r-n-s-ah! I'm all of a shiver! Clothe's all wet outside, and I'm dry as thund'r inside. Think I'll tell Mariar I ju-jumped overboard to save a fellerscreecher from (bic) drowning. Then she-she'll want to know what I did with the fell (bic) feller creature. So that won't do. She's got a pretty good swallow, but—egad! she—she can't swallow—ha! ha! ha! (bic) no drowned man, you know. Tha-that's a leetle too much! She's taken some awful heavy do-doses of lie from me, but I'm afraid the drown'd chap would choke her."

At this juncture a guardian of the public peace approached and asked the votary of Bacchus what he was doing there at that time of night, and why he did not go home.

"What'm I doin here? Why, I'm holding on like grim death! that's what I'm doin.'—However, ole fell'r, I'm gl (bic) a-ad to see ye. Fact is, I've been out'n the rain, and I've got a leetle so-soaked, d'ye see. Ole war'rer all'ers did make cons'air'able p-pres-sion on me. Say, you! can ye t'tell me why I'm like a pick (bic) picket guard?—but I know you cant, s'no use askin' you p'lice fell'rs anything. But's dev-devilishgood.—Ha! ha! ha! (bic) for me. I, I'll tell ye why I'm like a blackguar—I mean a p-picket guard—because I c-cant leave my p-post until I'm re(bic) relieved! P'lice fell'r, d'ye see that shutter over the way, the one wi' the green venetian houses in front—three doors to go up to th' step—that's my (bic) house; and therein dwells my sa-sainted Mariar. Did you ever belong to a spout shop?—but I s'pose not. As the charming P-Portia says:

"'That light we see is burning in my hall:
How far that little beam throws his c-candle!
So shines a good (bic) deed in a naughty world.

Th-then pity the sorrow of a poor young man who'ose tangled legs have b-brought him to this spot. Oh! relieve, and take him home at once; and heaven will ble-bless your store, when ye get (bic) one."

The policeman kindly assisted him to his house, and rang the bell. The door partially opened; I got a transient glimpse of a night-capped head, as our hero was hurriedly drawn in by unseen hands; and a shrill voice, that pierced the midnight air, was heard to say, "So! you're tight again, you brute!" the door was rudely slammed in the unoffending policeman's face, while I crept shivering to bed, wondering at the probable fate of "Bulger."

DRAWING RATIONS.

There are some episodes in the life of a soldier provocative of laughter, and that serve to disperse in some measures the ennui of camp life. Not long ago, a farmer, who did not reside so far from the camp of the boys as he wished he did, was accustomed to find every morning that several rows of potatoes had disappeared from his field. He bore it some time, but when the last half of his field of fine kidneys began to disappear, he began to think that sort of thing had gone far enough, and determined to stop it. Accordingly he made a visit to camp early next morning and amused himself with going around to see whether the soldiers were provided with good and wholesome provisions. He had not proceeded far when he found a boy just serving up a fine dish of kidneys, which looked marvelously like those that the gude wife brought to his own table. Halting, the following colloquy ensued:

"Fine potatoes here, I see."

"Splendid!" was the reply.

"Where do you get them?"

"Draw them."

"Does the Government furnish potatoes in your rations?"

"Nary potato!"

"I thought you said you drew them."

"Did! we just do that thing!"

"But how, if they are not included in your rations?"

"Easiest thing in the world! Won't you take some with us?" said the soldier, as he seated himself at the table opposite the smoking vegetables.

"Thank you! but will you oblige me by telling how you draw your potatoes, as they are not found by the comissary?"

"Nothing easier. Draw 'em by the tops mostly! sometimes with a hoe if one is left in the field."

"Hum! yes! I did understand! Well, see there! If you won't draw any more of mine I will bring you a basket every morning, and draw them myself."

"Bully for you!" was the cry, and three cheers and a tiger were given for farmer—There, we like to have written his name! The covenant was entered into, and no one but the owner drew potatoes from that field afterwards.

PROBLEM.—If four dogs with sixteen legs can catch forty-rabbits with eighty-seven legs, in forty-four minutes, how many legs must the same rabbits have to get away from eight dogs with thirty-two legs, in seventeen minutes and a half?

Solution.—Add together the legs of the rabbits and the tails of the dogs, and divide the amount by three big dogs, this saves four bushels of barks and thirteen pounds of hair. Take the fractions of the rabbits and six inches of snow, and multiply by a dog fight. Then divide by a man with a double barreled shot-gun, and add a piece of fresh beef.—Multiply by half as many legs as three times a less number of rabbits would have had, and divide by one-third of the time it would take for the rabbits to get away from the dogs, less seventeen and a half minutes. The result depends upon the size of the dogs.

The editor of the San Francisco Golden Era cruelly rejects a poem sent to him by a Californian "Anna Maria," and then adds insult to injury by giving his readers the following extract from the same, as justifying his decision:—

"'Of had a drowse,
I fhort I was alope, alone;
O it did seme,
So sad away from home, from home.

"'Mi hed upon mi hand,
I leat. I bent;
Mi ise upon the sand.
I bent, I bent.

"'I fhort of other days.
And things and things:
Of happy childish place,
And strings and strings."

An emigrant to Fort Naval, writing home to one of his friends, says: "We are getting on finely here, and have already laid the foundation of a larger jail."

THE HYDROPULT!

The Great Invention
OF THE DAY.

IS THE SIMPLEST, most effective, and most convenient apparatus yet invented for throwing water by hand. It weighs but eight pounds, is easily worked, and very strong and durable.

The HYDROPULT will throw eight gallons of water per minute, fifty feet high, and draw it 20 feet from a well, cistern or any vessel for holding water, when worked by the power of one man. It is a most desirable instrument for use in

The Garden,

For Watering Beds, Sprinkling Plants, Drowning out Insects, Applying Whale-Oil Soap Solutions, Dressing with Liquid Manure, etc. etc.

In Every Household,

For Washing Windows, Wetting Sidewalks, Sprinkling Sitters, Washing Carriages, Cleaning Cisterns, Emptying Refrigerators, etc. etc.

In Every Boat,

For pumping water from the Hold, Washing Decks, Bailing Boats.

For Every Invalid,

It makes a capital Spray Bath.

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!

The Hydropult is invaluable for Extinguishing Fires, or Protecting Roofs near a Fire. Many conflagrations have been prevented by the use of this simple instrument.

It can be used for all purposes for which a hydrant or force-pump is applicable, and in situations where other contrivances are useless.

MEDICINAL.

AYER'S
Sarsaparilla
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints: Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Inf., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & CO. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways. Two years ago, it broke out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and spread my neck and face with one sheet of sores, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, they rather seemed to grow worse. I was persuaded to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got two bottles and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the sores, which fell off in a while full off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I count you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully, Yours,

ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of your Sarsaparilla, and also a dangerous Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Eruptions by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prescott, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre—a hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhœa or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agents in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla the most excellent alterative in the whole range of remedies with which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many incessible cases of Leucorrhœa by it, and some where I do not think the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."

Edward S. Marquis, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous ovarian tumor on one of the females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the requests of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic sores in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulceration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla: the ulcers healed, and he is well again; not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from the poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LARIMER, M.D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

INDEPENDENCE, Preston Co., Va., 6th July, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me for two weeks, when I was deprived of my health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM.

Jules Y. Gotchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Espy, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, and any thing you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has restored me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

Schirrus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia.

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Time and long trial have proved its great excellencies of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF
Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Few are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects or some living trophy to their midst of its
