

Miners' Journal.

POTTSVILLE, PA.

SATURDAY, MAY 10, 1862.

PEOPLES' STATE CONVENTION.

The PEOPLE OF PENNSYLVANIA, who desire our daily to make in support of the NATIONAL GUARD, and who are anxious to have their voices heard in the public tribunes against the rebels and subversives against the UNION, assembled at the State Capital, Harrisburg, on the 21st instant, to consider the following resolution:

"Resolved, That we, the people of Pennsylvania, in one hundred thousand hosts here gathered in arms, bearing down the perfidy of the rebels, do, and will best respond to the spirit of this call, and are ready to stand by our country in every emergency."

General J. H. McCLURE, President of the Convention.

John W. SCHUYLER, Secretary.

The wheat crop in this State hardly ever looked better than it does at present.

We are indebted to the Hon. Jas. H. CAMPBELL for various documents, and seeds

CHESTER AND ONE CANAL.—The General met has rendered his work to its proper end for business.

The Senate Committee on Finance has reported about two hundred and fifty amendments to the House Tax bill.

COTTON SEED.—A small supply of cotton seed has been received at this office from Washington, which will be distributed to those who desire to try it.

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD bill, which was reported to the House by Hon. James H. Campbell, has passed. It is very important, and we hope will soon become a law.

A NUMBER of capitalists in Butler, Pa., and vicinity, are about to establish a bank in that borough, under the provisions of the General Banking law of 1860, to be styled the Com-quencing Bank.

THE BRECKINRIDGE LEADERS, having brought the Government to the verge of ruin, and involved the country in the terrible war, despite the peaceful tendencies of the times in which they bore rule, now propose to take the reins of power from the hands of the unquestionably loyal, and nail the ship on their own account.

GIRARD COAL LANDS.—The recent news with regard to the Girard Coal lands in this County, has caused quite a sensation in Philadelphia, and elsewhere, and some of the comments partake of anything but a mild character. The case, of course, will go to the Supreme Court, where the large number of the decisions of our Court have been reversed.

THE READING GAZETTE has entered upon the twentieth year of its existence. It is a paper that is ably conducted, but not independent enough to cast off the pro-slavery influences that have clung to it for many years. If it would do so its influence for good would be increased. We regret that Mr. Geitz the editor, has not the courage to take the step.

INNINGS FUNERAL CEREMONIES.—On

Tuesday last in Philadelphia, the remains of Gen. Charles Ferguson Smith, who died recently in Tennessee, of disease contracted in Mexico, were interred at Laurel Hill Cemetery, in the presence of a vast concourse of people, and with military honors. Gen. Robert Anderson was one of the pall-bearers.

The procession in the city, of military and civilians, was effective. Everything wore an air of sombreness, and even curiosity was crossed with gloom. Having added lustre to the name of Philadelphia, the citizens seemed to mourn his loss, and in the crowd there was a hush very different from the tumult upon ordinary occasions that call them from their homes.

THE NEXT WAY to answer a Breckinridge when he inquires that the property of the rebels shall not be confiscated, is to ask him what the Southern slaveholders would have done had positions been reversed, they being as strong as the present loyal states, and the latter commencing the war?

Would they have refrained from any description of property?

Would they have refrained from filling their prisons with suspected persons, from hanging spies, and from dealing devastation on all sides?

The answer to these inquiries is found in the fact that they have stolen and destroyed hundreds of millions of dollars, and have sacrificed and confiscated, hundreds of millions of the property of their own people.

MONEY matters are easier in Philadelphia than they have been at the present time; that they have been since the great crash of 1857.

Many capitals have much more at their command than they know what to do with.

The demands of the business community are limited and can be supplied by the banks, and there is no outlet for private means except investments in stocks, which are going up at a rapid rate. Good mortgages are in great request, and the securities of the United States are advancing in price with a perfect rush, everybody feeling the stab of confidence in their permanent value.

Money can be borrowed on the street at 4 to 5 per cent. in interest, and the demand Treasury Notes are to be had.

This unmanly, cowardly and traitorous assemblay upon the President, sprung from the boldness of the South, has put the entire South in a panic, and the Democrats are now in a state of alarm, and are looking for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.

The rebels have now got the upper hand,

and the Federal Government is in

a state of alarm, and are looking

for a way out.

The President who took a solemn oath to support the Constitution, and to defend it, has been

overruled by the rebels, and has agreed to

the terms of the rebellion.