DIEHM & SNELL'S NEW COMBINATION COAL SCREENS. The undersigned take pleasure in announcing to Coal Operators and others, that they are manufacturing a new COAL SCREEN of their invention, which they will guarantee to wear twice as long, and do its work better than any crimped wire Screen in use. The segments turned on they us can be bent to any circle required. We also guarantee that the mesh will always retain its original size until entirely worn out. In the crimped wire Screens the meshes frequently slip, and lose the proper mesh, before the Screen is, half worn out. We manufacture any sized mesh of our Now Combination Screen, used in the trade.

THE ARMY. From the 7th Penna. Vet. Cavalry. CAMP 7TO PA. VET. CAV., 15 THE FIELD, ?

GEORGIA, July 19, 16, L. EDS. MINERS JOURNAE:—Your loyal and valuble paper comes punctually to hand and is read and re-read with interest by your, humble correspondent and the remainder of his Company from the bully lift. pondent and the remainder of his Company from Schuylkill County. Since the resignation of our esteemed friend and brother officer, Lieut Reilly, I have not seen a communication from the Yeteran 7th. In him you lost a valuable correspondent, and see, a brave and gentlemently officer. May he succeed in whatever avocation of life he chooses as well as he did in the 7th Cavalry, is the wish of all who but a short time since were his companions in arms. So far as my poor abilities endow me, I will try and fill his place as a correspondent of your weekly from our Regiment. Tims will not permit me to give you a detailed account of our operations since the opening of this campaign, although I have no doubt that such a narrative would be of interest to your numerous readers.

secount of our operations since the opening of this exampaign, although I have no doubt that such a narrative would be of interest to your numerous readers.

We left Columbia, Tenm., on the 29th of April, marched by way of Stevenson, Ala.,—Trenton, Ga.,—over the Lookout range of mountains to Lafayette, Ga., where we arrived on the 9th day of May. On the 10th we moved to Villanse, where we laid several days while Sherman was accomplishing his grand flank movement on Johnston at Rocky Face Ridge. On the 14th we started for Rome, Ga. On the morning of the 15th we drove in the rebel pickets at that point, but found the town too strongly garrisoned to be taken by cavalry alone. We withdrow, and on the evening of the 16th started for Resacs, where we arrived on the morning of the ensuing day. From Resacs we marched to Kingston, at which place we arrived after considerable fighting, on the 20th. From this point we advanced on the extreme right of Sherman's army to Dallas. At this point we lay several days, fighing two-thirds of the time. At one time our Battalion, the 3d, was out foraging and was completely surrounded by the robels. We extricated ourselves however, with a loss of only five men killed and captured—none from Schuylkill County. The 5th of June found us on the extreme left of our army at Cartersville, Ga., on the Chattanooga and Atlanta R. R. From there to Ackworth and then to the base of Kenesaw Mountain we came; all this time we were operating on the left as flankers for our army. Our Division, the 2d Cavalry Division, Department of the Cumberland, was assigned to duty under Major-General McPherson, Commanding the Army of the Tennessee. In the execution of our duty as above stated, we had several severe fights with the enemy's cavalry, but our superior arms, (Spencer's Seven_Shooting Carbines) combined with our brave and fearless boys, always won us the victory, although in almost every engagement we were fighting treble our own numbers.

On the night of the 2d of July, the rebels, who had been making p master mind to plan, and an iron will to erccute. During this campaign our gallant army has not occupied any point along the railroad for twenty-four hours, before our communication was complete to the rear by rail. At no time have we been on short rations, and judging by the past we have no fears of starving in the future. On the evening of the 3d we ran into the rebel pickets some six miles south-east of Marietts. The morning of the 4th dawned bright and clear on us, and was heralded in with the heavy boom of artillery, and the sharp crack of our seven shooters, as we sent the leaden measengers of death artillery, and the sharp crack of our soven shooters, as we sent the leaden measnegers of death into the ranks of the retreating foo. Thus particularly we celebrated the anniversary of our Independence. On the 5th we came to within two miles of this place, Rosswell, on the Othatta-hooche River. Yesterday we crossed the river and held a position on the other side until the infantry came up and relieved us. The 4th army Corps is now here and, we will no doubt soon be ordered farther to our left. Thus briefly I have given you a sketch of our doings since the 1st of May. The campaign has been to us a laborious one. We have been shifted from point to point with such rapidity that thore was little time for rest either for man or beast. Our Regiment is reduced from 1200 men—our number when we left Columbia—to less than 400 men present for duty. Do not think that we have lost this number killed and wounded. By no means. Our casualties have been small for the duty we have done, but our continual marching has been too much for horse fish, and as we had no use for dismounted men, they have been sent back to Columbia.

The Regiment is now commanded by Major of a more favorable opportunity to execute Columbia.

The Regiment is now commanded by Major Wm. Jennings of Schuylkill County. Lieutenant Wren having been pronounced by the Surgeon unfit for active field duty, has been sent back to Columbia. All other Schuylkill County officers are well. Capt. Newlin of Company F, was captured by the rebels in a fight at Noonday Creek, on the 20th of June 140, a good officer is charter. tured by the rebels in a fight at Noonday Creek, on the 20th of June. He is a good officor, in fact one of the best we have.

We are looking anxiously to our friends in Pennsylvania to do their duty in the coming election. At such a time as the present patry lines should be dropped, and all should unite to re-elect the man who has so ably filled the position of Chief Magistrate for the last four years. There can be but two parties, one for and the other against the maintenance of the laws and the perpetuation of our government. There can be no middle ground, no neutral position. I care not how many candidates there may be in the field at the coming election, I still maintain there are but two parties. The good-souled, unconditional union men will vote for Lincoln and Johnson. All others will vote for the candidates who have the best First Premium for Machine work.

The annual address before the Alumni Acceptation of Family in and Manager.

Andrew Johnson's Letter. HE ACCEPTS THE NOMINATION.

Convention GENTLEMEN : Your communication of the 9th ultimo, informing me of my nomination for the Vice-Presidency of the United States by the National Convention held at Baltibellion now being waged against the Govern-ment and authority of the United States, I presume are generally understood. Before the Southern people assumed a belligerent attitude (and repeatedly tince), I took occasion most frankly to declare the views I then entertained in relation to the wicked purposes of the Southern politicians. They have since undergons but little, if any change. Time and subsequent events have rather confirmed than diminished my confidence in their correctness.

At the beginning of this great struggle I entertained the same opinion of it that I do now, and in my place in the Senate I denounced it as treason, worthy the punishment of death, and warned the Government still continued to gather over us without mo-lestation from the authorities at Washington, until at length it broke with all its fury upon the country. And now, if we would save the Government from being overwhelmed by it, we must meet it in the true spirit of patriotism, and bring traitors to the punishment due their erime, and by force of arms crush out and subdue the last vestige of rebel authority in every State. I felt then, as now, that the destruction of the Government was deliberately determined upon by wicked and designing conspirators, whose lives and for-they sullenly acquiesced, only to mature their diabolical schemes, and await the recurrence of a more favorable opportunity to execute them. Then the pretext was the tariff, and Jackson, after foiling their schemes of nullification and disunion, with prophetic perspi-cacity warned the country against the renew al of their efforts to dismember the Govern-In a letter dated May 1, 1833, to the Rev. A. J. Crawford, after demonstrating the heartless insincerity of the Southern nullifiers, he said :

"Therefore, the tariff was only a pretext, and disunion and a Southern Confederacy was the real object. The next pretext will be the negro or slavery question."

Time has fully verified this prediction, and we have now not only the negro or slavery. question as the pretext, but the real cause of the rebellion, and both must go down together. It is vain to attempt to reconstruct the. Union with the distracting element of slavery in it. Experience has demonstrated its incompatibility with free and republican govern-ments, and it would be unwise and unjust ments, and it would be unwise and unjust longer to continue it as one of the institutions of the country. While it remained subordinate to the Constitution and laws of the United States, I yielded to it my support, but when it became rebellious, and attempted to when it became rebellious, and attempted to was made by himself and Col. Jacques, he having taken Col. Jacques with him. He was made by himself and control its action of his journal actions of his journal actions of his journal actions of his journal actions. tion, I threw my humble influence against it.
The authority of the Government is supreme, and will admit of no rivalry. No institution can rise above it, whether it be slavery or any other organized power. In our happy form of government all must be submappy form of government all must be sub-ordinate to the will of the people, when re-flected through the constitution and laws made pursuant thereto—State or Federal.—
This great principle lies at the formal data of this you acknowledge our right to self-constitution. This great principle lies at the foundation of are not fighting for slavery. We are figure overnment, and cannot be disregard- for independent, and that, or extermination of the contemporary of the contempo ed without the destruction of the Government itself. In the support and practice of correct principles we can never reach wrong results; and by rigidly adhering to this fundamental truth, the end will be the preservation of the Union and the overthrow of an institution which has made war upon and attempted the destruction of the Government itself.

The mode by which this great change—the emancipation of the slave—can be effectcd, is properly found in the power to amend the Constitution of the United States. This plan is effectual, and of no doubtful authority; and while it does not contravene the timely exercise of the war power by the President in his Emancipation Proclamation, it comes stamped with the authority of the people themselves, acting in accordance with the written rule of the supreme law of the land, and must therefore give more general satisfaction and quietude to the distracted public mind By recurring to the principles contained in the resolutions so unanimously adopted by the Convention, I find that they substantially ccord with my public acts and opinions heretofore made known and expressed, and are therefore most cordially endorsed and approved; and the nomination having been con-ferred without any solicitation on my part, is with the greater pleasure accepted. In accepting the nomination, I might here close, but I cannot forego the opportunity of saying to my old friends of the Democratic party proper, with whom I have been so long and pleasantly associated, that the hour has now come when that great party can justly vindicate its devotion to true democrat-ic policy and measures of expediency. The war is a war of great principles. It involves the supremacy and life of the Government itself. If the rebellion triumphs, free government—North and South—fails. If, on the other hand, the Government is successful as I do not doubt—its destiny is fixed, its baas I do not doubt—its destiny is lixed, its basis permanent and enduring, and its career of honor and glory just begun. In a great contest like this, for the existence of free government, the path of duty is patriotism and principle. Minor considerations and questions of administrative policy should give way to the higher duty of first preserving the Government, and then there will be time the Government, and then there will be time enough to wrangle over men and measures and concentration of power should be our watchword and rallying cry. This accomlished, the time will rapidly approach when their armies in the field, the great power of the rebellion, will be broken and crushed by our gallant officers and brave soldiers and br our gallant officers and brave soldiers, and ere long they will return to their homes and firesides, to resume again the avocations of peace, with the proud consciousness that they

adopted by that body, was not received until the 25th ult.

A reply on my part had been previously made to the action of the Convention in present agriculture and the action of the Convention in present agriculture and the adjournment of the Convention, in which I indicated my acceptance of the distinguished honor conferred by that body, and defined the grounds upon which that acceptance was based, substantially saying what I now have to say. From the comments made upon that speech by the various presses of the country to which my attention has been directed, I consider it to be regarded as a full acceptance.

In view, however, of the desire expressed in your communication, I will more fully allude to a few points that have deen heretofore presented.

My opinions on the leading questions at present agitating and distracting the public. present agitating and distracting the public sufficient to carry on the war. Our people mind, and especially in reference to the re-armistice—anything except a vigorous prosecution of the war. At one time this is styled a 'negro' war-ex another a negro has no business to serve as a soldier. When our armies are defeated the Government is incompetent or inefficient, or it would have raised more men. When you unteers are called they are opposed to the plan. They want an enrollment so that all may have an equal and a fair chance. When the draft comes it is unfair, unlawful, and deprives them of their constitutional rights. The clause of the act allowing payment of commutation is all wrong, because it discriminates between the rich and the poor. nounced it as treason, worthy the punishment of death, and warned the Government and the people of the impending danger.—But my voice was not heard or counsel faced adult it was too late to avert the storm. It still continued to gather over us without most an extraction of the people of the impending danger.—All these things do the people no good, lead only to angry discussions, bitter controversion. numerous dissensions, prevent men from en-listing into the service of their country, have already produced bloody riots, and may cul-minate in fierce neighborhood and fireside war. These dangers are truly great, and calculated to dishearten the patric confidently believe that they will all, sooner or later, be overcome.

There are, unfortunately, those among us

race. The people soon learn to find out and know these men. Human skill and ingenuity and all of a traitor's cunning cannot long succeed in concealing their real sentiments. They hang back or skulk away from our public gatherings on our national holidays; they disparage Union officers and soldiers and eulogize the rebels. All Union victories are insignificant—of little account; rebel victories are in insignificant—of little account; rebel victories are of inselludable relies and superior of inselludable relies and superior of inselludable relies and superior and inspections. are of incalculable value and importance.— Good news is never credited—bad news is often originated, believed and circulated long-before verified. Taxes are opnoxious and oppressive; drafts are unconstitutional and odious; war is bloody and desolating and the nation ought at once to stop it. For nearly four years everything has been wrong; nothing excellent—nothing even praiseworthy or passable has ever been done by their own government—only mistakes, wrongs, wicked acts of tyranny, and carnest appeals are made to the people to arise in their might and pre-vent the establishment of a military despot-ism. During all this time they have never been known to utter a word of denunciation against the rebellion, or see an improper act south of the rebel lines. These are the unmistakable car marks of the traitor. He may remonstrate; he may write down beneath the picture in large letters the word "Patriot"; he may, in very noisy and earnest words, in-sist that he is a "sound Democrat," and that sist that he is a "sound Democrat," and that every man of his party who sustains the war is an "Abolitionist." Yet, after all, he is neither a patriot or a good Democrat. You may turn him upside-down and inside-ont, and cleanse and wash him with all the pure waters of America, and you can make nothing out of him but a poor, miserable trailor—just such a one as General Jackson would have strung up for treason in his day and looked for authority afterwards!

In Boston they are circulating papers pledging the signers to furnish one or more representative recruits each, and they are obtaining a liberal number of such pledges. One gentleman pledged four, one for himself and one for every member of his family. When the Rebels exacted subsidies from the people of Hagerstown and Frederick, during their late invasion of Maryland, they were very careful to stipulate that the whole amount should be paid in greenbacks. They wouldn't touch "Con-federate" money, or common bank notes.
