The trade remains without material change. The demand for coal continues unabated. This month is usually, the dullest of the year; but notwithstanding this fact, Coal this season, is shipped as fast as it reaches the Eastern scaboard. It is to be hoped that there will be no advance on the first of the coming month, in either tolls coal or wages. All parties in the trade should be content with the present high rates.

The Most Complete Sewing Ma-Emmentamentament

The Most Complete Sewing Machine in Existence. The Introduction of the "FLORENCE!" Dates a new era in Sewing Machines It Hems, Fells, Binds, Gathers, Braids Quilts, and Gathers and Sews on a Ruffle at the same time.

Ruffle at the same time.

The undersigned has been appointed Agent for Schuylkill County, of the Florence Sewing Machine Company, Mannfacturers of the celebrated Reversible Feed Sewing Machines.

The following advantages over any and all Sewing Machines, are claimed for the "Florence";

It makes four different stitches, the lock knot, double-lock and double-knot, on one and the same machine. Each stitch being alike on both sides of the fabric. fabric.

It has the reversible feed motion, which enables the operator, by simply turning a thumb-screw, to have the work run either to the right or left, to stay any part of the same, or fasten the ends of the seams, without turning the fabric.

Changing the length of the stitch, and from one kind of stitch to another, can readily be done while the mather is in motion. chine is in motion.

Every stitch is perfect in itself, making the seam secure and uniform. It is almost noiseless, and can be used where quiet is necessary.

Its motions are all positive: there are no springs to get out of order, and its simplicity enables the most inexperienced to operate it.

It will not oil the dress of the operator, as all the machinery is on the top of the table.

It is the most rapid sewer in the world; making five stitches to each revolution.

Its attich is the wonder of all, because of its combined clasticity, strength and beauty.

It does the heaviest or hnest work with equal facility, without change of tension or machinery.

Every Machine has one of Jenck's patent hemmers attached, the right to use which we control,) anabling the operator to turn any width of hem desired.

The public is respectfully invited to examine these Machines at the store of the undersigned, Centre street, Pottaville, where full particulars will be given.

Saturday, August 27, 1864. THE WAR FOR THE UNION!

The Pesitien at Petersburg Newsthrough Hebel Papers From the Sheumideah Trom the Army of the Patomac we have a dispatch saying that no engagement has taken place since Sunday, as the enemy lave fallen back to their lines, two miles from Petersburg. They are now patting up strong works. On Tuesday Gen. Warren advanced his line over a mile stong the railroad towards Petersburg. A considerable portion of the railroad has been torn up and burned. Late rebel papers received report the capture Late rebel papers received report the computer of 2700 prisoners in the assault on Friday on the Weldon Railroad. A Federal force of 2000 crossed the Perdido river on the 6th, advancing towards Mobile Bay. Sherman is said to have got presession of the railroad connecting Atlanta with Monigomery, and is so massing his troops that Hood must fight or evacuate. A defeat at Moorefield, in Virginia, is admitted, as well as the loss of 4 cannon, 300 prisoners, 400 horars, and about the same number of cattle. The non-combatants have been ordered away from Mobile. General Frank Gardner has assumed command of the District of the Gulf. Near Andersonville, Ga., there are 38,000 Federal prisoners.

From the Shenandoah valley we have intelligence that slight skirmishing occurred in front of Crook's line on Tucaday. There was considerable picket firing in front of the Sixth Corps on Wednesday. The enemy is threshing grain, and is ready to resist if interfered with. No movements have been made towards crossing the Potomac.

Some additional particulars of Forrest's raid into Memphis have been received. Some 250 prisoners were captured. Many of them escaped and others were murdered. The rebels fired upon patients in the hospitals, and shot several sick soldiers. The rebels left in a hurry.

In front of Atlanta Major General Dodge was shot in the head on the 19th, while on the picket line, and is reported to have died of his wound. The New York peace rumors are denied by a dispatch from Washington. The Administration has no idea of appointing commissioners to Rielmond.

The extra session of the Pennsylvania Legisla.

has no idea of appointing commissioners to Rielmond.

The extra session of the Pennsylvania Legislature adjourned sine die on Thursday. It passed a militia bill which provides for raising lifteen reserve regiments, by volunteering or by draft, for State defence.

The ship Victoria arrived at New York from London, on Wednesday night, bringing among her other passengers, Franz Miller, the suspected murderer of Mr. Briggs. Mr. Briggs. it will be remembered, when returning home on Saturday night the 9th of July, in a first-class carriage on the North London Line, was assaulted, robbed of a gold watch, and thrown out of the carriage.—He was found by the driverof the following train, insensible, and died on the following day. Miller was arrested, and will be sent back to England immediately. The evidence against him is atrong.

LETTER FROM MOBILE BAY. The following is another interesting letter from Samuel Holmes of St. Clair, who paricipated in the great Naval victory in Mobile Bay under the staunch "old salt," Farragut:

TI S. STEAMER RICHMOND, Monne Bar, August 12, 1864.
One week has already rolled around since our ate victory and since I directed my last letter home.

The week just past has been a week of remarkable events, a week ever to be remembered as prominent in the annals of this war. The 5th gave to the shipping a new safe harber on this dangerous coast, the 6th gave our side possession of Fort Powell, the Fort that Farragut shelled for a week in vain with his mortars, about the remarks are to Or Sunday the 7th we assembly sion of Fort Powell,—the Fort that Farragus shelled for a week in vain with his mortars, about four months ago. On Sunday, the 7th, we assembled at Divine service by a general order from the Admiral, and with full hearts we thanked our merciful God of battles, and acknowledged His the praise, the honor and the glory. The day was to us practically a day of rest. Daylight, on the morning of the 8th, brought in sight a flag of truce from Fort Gaines, and during the whole day the truce was kept up with a view of arranging terms for capitulation. Our Admiral is a generous man, but he is always fearful of misplaced loniency. On this occasion the Robs found the old salt stiff and unbending, so that this long continued truce availed them nothing but useless time. The 9th broke beautifully, and all nature looked gorgeous as though "Old Sol," "Old Farragut," and the "Clerk of the Weather" had all conspired against farming and secossion interests to secure for our hosts a gala day. At 10, A. Mathe truce closed in an "unconditional surrender of Gaines and all its garrison, ammunition and armament. As the rebel flag came down from the "lag staff, all hands were called to "cheer ship;" and as the old Stars and Spripes took their place once more, the huzzas of a fleet of tarpotaresounded all about the Bay until their lungant to their big hearts failed them. 550 men and place once more, the nutrates of a new or appearance once more, then the Bay until their lungs, not their big hearts, failed them. 850 men and efficies composed the garrison of the Fort. The day after the surrender of Fort Gaines, our transports landed 3 or 4000 troops in the rear of Fort Morgan and some of our best boats opened fire Morgan and some of our lest boats opened fire on it.

The bitterest pill of all for Jonnie Reb. was now at hand. During the time that had clapsed since the capture of the Ram "Tennessee," our mechanics were at work refitting the monster for a new service; and on the day after the surrender of Gaines, the "pride of Alabama" made sortie on her late colleague, Fort Morgan. During the greater part of the day the Ram lay under the walls of the Fort, picking off a man or a gun occasionally from the ramparts; but during the whole time I did not see a single shot fired at it, such is the confidence they have in the strength of the captured vessel.

The army is now entrenched from Gulf to Bay, within 400 yards of Morgan, but the Fort don't seem to heed them.

None of our gunboats have gone near Mobile City as yet, —that can be taken at our leisure; and besides, the City is of but little consequence to us now that we have possession of the Bay, and the extensive blockade is removed.

E-The killed and wounded in the late fight were frightful for a naval engagement. The Hartford had one in every five of her crew killed or badly wounded. As our big ships cannot reach Mobile City, it is not improbable that they will be ord-wounded. As our big ships cannot reach Mobile City, it is not improbable that they will be ord-ered home this Fall.

"University of Pennsylvania."-The nedical lectures of this Philadelphia Institution, of the session (1864-65), will begin on he second Monday of October next, and close on the first of March. The eminent reputation of this College is well known.

We would call attention of our Coal Operators and others employing a number of hands o a very useful and ingenious invention of a former resident of this County, for the rapid calculation of wages, one of which can be seen at the office of this paper for a short y" will be published in our next. We defer t this week, to publish the interesting narative of Mr. J. R. Gilmore (Edmund Kirke). in reference to his late visit to Richmond and interview with Jeff. Davis and other prominent Rebel officials. Their ultimatum is given so plain by that "he who runs may read." Our forces have destroyed thirty-five miles of the Weldon Railroad. A cavalry dash in the direction of the Danville road has been made. The Rebels have made repeated attempts this week to drive Warren from the Weldon road. They failed. He still holds it with as tight a grip as that with which Grant presses Richmond. The military situation is most encouraging. To Lieut. Porter of the Third Pennsylvania Artillery, we are indebted for Richmond papers of the 10th and 11th inst. The Enquirer is quite philosophical over the trouncing the Rebels received at the hands of our Navy at Mobile. If that City should fall, says the Rebel sheet, "Rome has a thousand sons as good as he." That may be, but we do not believe that the Rebels have a thousand, nor another as good a blockade-running port as Mobile was to them. Well, if they are satisfied with Farragut's great victory there, we certainly are.
