THE CREAT VICTORY. Peace hath its victories no less renowned than war." In the Free States of this Republic-States which are untouched by the rude hand of war-on Tuesday last there was achieved a great National victory. In the re-election of Abraham Lincoln by the, lar- TWENTY-TWO STATES FOR LINCOLN gest majority ever given any man for the Presidency, the people not only endorse the policy of his Administration, but have declarel firmly that they are resolved to bear the heavy burdens of the crisis rather than ignominiously surrender the principle of the nation's institution. They declare that the war must go on until the supremacy of the Constitution and laws shall be completely vindicated.

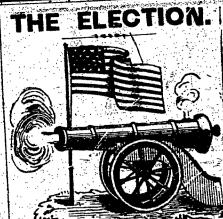

This result settles the old Democratic as a national party. It has suffered in final defeat It can never be re-organized except by new men and with measures more honest than those which distinguished it after the principles of Jefferson and Jackson were abandoned by it. Poor old Democratic party, requiscat in pace.

There can be no question that the re-election of Mr. Lincoln will be felt very severely by Jeff Davis and the leading Southern traitors. It is a heavier blow to them than a defeat of one of their armies would be. It adds so greatly to the strength of the Administration, that it will enable it to carry on the war with increased vigor. The moral strength given to it by the popular majorities in so many States, and the material strength given to it by the overpowering majority i will have in the next Congress, must enable it to carry out its war measures much more boldly and confidently.

The governments, peoples and presses of Europe, which have been doubting the resolution of the American people to sustain the Government in its war measures, will now have their doubts removed. Nor will they further question our sincerity in the measures adopted against slavery. On these two great points we have solemnly and deliberately decided, and by such huge majorities that the world can no longer be in doubt .-Thus fairly defining our position, we can now go on with renewed energy in the prosecution of the war, and Abraham Lincoln will be able to finish it by the restoration of the Union, and to remove all possibility of future rebellions by abolishing slavery.

THREE STATES CLAIMED FOR MCCLELLAN.

The election of Tuesday last resulted in the re-election of Abraham Lincoln by a very large electoral and still more decisive Popular majority. The New York Tribune says:

lar majority. The New York Tribine says: He can no longer be taunted as a "minority" President, and no practical question can arise as to the counting of the voices of dubious. States. He is the choice of the American people by a preponderance which must disconcert and baffle the conspirators for Northwestern and other re-bel parisite Confederacies. His Administration is stamped with popular approbation, and he may now go on with the work of subduing rebel-lion, while restoring and pacifying the Union. With four clear years before him, it is hardly possible that he should not succeed. Maine. The full Union majority is 25,000.

Vermont. Majority for Lincoln, 28,000.

New Hampshire. Returns not full. Union majority so far, over 5000 on the home vote. Connecticut.

Majority for the Union over 3000. Rhode Island. Lincoln's majority is over 5000.

New York. The Times claims New York for Lincoln by from 7000 to 8000 majority. The World holds that 'Abraham Lincoln is, without any doubt re-elected President of the United States.

New Jersey. New Jersey, though its Union gains are immense, has not been able to entirely overcome the McClellan vote. He has 5000 ma-Pennsylvania.

The returns come in slowly, and show Union gains everywhere, promising a majorty of not less than 10,000, which with the soldiers vote will give Lincoln a majority in Pennsylvania of from 20,000 to 25,000.

Delaware. McClellan carries the State by 500 majority.

Maryland. Lincoln's majority is 10,000.

Ohio. Majority for Lincoln, 70,000. Indiana. Gone for the Union by 25,000 majority.

It seems that on the night of the Slat ultimo he was badly crushed by a large gun—thirty-two pounder—falling on him while he was on duty. Every effort to save his life was made, but it was: unavailing. As a last hope his thigh was amputated, but he survived the operation only some ten hours. Lieut. Searle we are informed, was known throughout his Bri-gade as a young soldier of more than ordinary promise, and his early death is greatly lamented. Our citizens will remember that while here he was promoted from a sergeanicy to a lieutenant. cy, and ordered to "the front." At the time of his death he was 24 years of age. THE MURDERER MULLER SENTENCED. The last European news states that Muller, the murderer of Mr. Briggs, in England, has been tried, convicted and sentenced to death. With Sherican nuces mules away. Still sprang from those swith hoofs, thundering sould The dust, like the smoke from the cannon's mouth, Or the trail of a comet sweeping faster and faster. Foreboding to trailors the doom of disaster : "The heart of the steed and the heart of the master Were beauing like prisoners assaulting their walls, Impatient to be where the battle-field calls : Every nerve of the charger was strained to full play, With Sheridan only ten miles away.

With Sheridan only ten units away. Under his epurning feet, the road Like an arrow A Alpine river flowed, And the landscape sped away behind Like an ocean flying before the wind ; And the steed, like a bark fed with furnace ire, Swept on, with his wild eyes full of fire. But lo i he is nearing his heart's desire... He is souffing the smoke of the roaring fray, With Sheridan only five miles away.

The sight of the master compelled it to panse. The sight of the master compelled it to panse. With foam and with dust the black charger was gray: By the fash of his eye, and his red nostrils play. He seemed to the whole great army to say: "I have brought you Sheridan all the way From Winchester down to save the day!"

Entrons MINTES' JOURNAL.-At a meeting held by the Democrats at the Andenried Colliery upon lass Monday night, one of the speakers was a Mr. Smith, from Pottsville. The gentleman (if such he may be called), during a lengthy tirade against the Lincoln des-potism made use of the following incendiary expression: "Fellow Democrats, upon the 8th of November, we want your balliste, why do it toth your Bayonets." Now in this portion of Carbon County we have a pop-niation which is very excitable, and under just such teachings as this has committed murder upon murder. It is only by the united efforts of the operators, Home Gaards, Uncle Sam's Soldiery, that we have been able to keep them qulet; and after all we have had to contend with. It does seem rather hard that such a jackanapes should be allowed to run at large, endangering mensy ves and property. Cannot the laws takk hold of such YOBER SOLING.

The gain of several Members of Congress assures in the House the requisite majority of two-thirds for the Constitutional Amendment whereby Slavery is to be forever abolished and prohibited throughout the Nation. There can be no manner of doubt that this will be adopted at the next Session of Congress, for one plank in the Baltimore platform which the people endorsed by overwhelming majorities on Tuesday last, is as follows: "Hesolved, that as slavery was the cause, and now constitutes the strength of this rebellion, and as it must be slways and everywhere hostile to the principles of Republican government, justice and the national safety demand its utter and somplete extirpation from the soil of the Repub-lic, and that we uphold and maintain the acts and proclamations by which the Government, in its own defence, has aimed a death-blow at this gi-gautic evil. We are in favor, furthermore, of such an anendmient to to the Constitution, to be made by the people in conformity with its pro-visions, as shall terminate and for ever prohibit the existence of slavery within the limits of the jurisdiction of the United States." waits with stern resolution for the tempest to break upon the devoted sister cities, and the is-sue of the great contest in the United States, that the meeting of our National Assembly to-day ex-cites comparatively but small interest. And yet it is all important; the fate of the Confederate States, now trembling in the scales, depends un-der God's providence, hardy less on the visidom of our rulers than on the valor of our armies.— All the great questions which 'are to determine our present safety and our fature prosperity will have to be decided by the acts of this session, and we hope devouly that our Senators and Represen-tatives will fully realize, not only the 'urgency of the occasion, but also the fearful responsibility which a nation, at the crisis of its struggle for these will fully realize, not only the 'urgency of these will fully realize, not only the 'urgency of these will fully realize, not only the 'urgency of these will fully realize, not only the 'urgency of these will fully realize, not only the 'urgency' which a nation, at the crisis 'of its' struggle for "life, will demand at their hands. We are not of these who marvel that the 'unparalleled pressure upon the brains of a people famous for intelligence and mental culture' should not have produced more statemen of the highest order. The dover of the land, in every aspect, is in the army, re-duced, as the British were in the Crimes, to their value as so much flesh, and bone, and muscle.— The drull, the march, the battle, consume nearly all the energy that is left ; and where thoughts will come and plans suggest themselves, the leis-will and valuable material, 'Compress suffers still un-der a plethora of politicians, who live so complete-ly in their own little world, of traditional terms and usages, that they cannot appreciate, even when their moral courage rises to a height of the occasion, the uterly novel claims made upon their intellect by the unprecedented state of things: The really able mon among them—and, God be thanked, they are ---the Peace of Treme for the Justice, and there confronted by the lection officers of both polls, who identified him as the individual who had voted at both places.

For the Miners' Journal. A CALL TO TEACHERS: It will be seen by reference to the columns of the Penna. School Journal, that the people of Pennsylvania are not so much wrapped up in war and politics, but what they can still keep the ci-diational michiuery in motion. The point, that intelligence is essential in a republican form of government, and to a maintenance of its free in-situtions, is being conceded by all men. Then since the subject of a popular education is becom-ming of greater importance, every day, to a peo-ple who govern themselves, and who are called up-on to take an active part in the administration of affairs, and since we live in a country in which the people are called upon to exercise the right of suffrage ; it becomes us, as educators of the ri-sing generation; to make use of every means with-in our reach to accomplish this very desirable end,—the education of an enfranchised people:— When we consider how manfully the fathers of the children placed under our instruction have and are still, meeting the troubles that surround us ; how willingly sacrifices have been mado, by them; how lavishly they have contributed of their means for the continuance of our free institu-tions; should we,—the educators of their chil-dren,—be negligent of our duty? The unni-imous response is not Rather should our care and our desire for a wiser and more comprehensive system of instruction be more largely increased; rather should we sacrifice a little to avail our-selves of all proper and accessible means for se-curing to ourselves more thorough completeness of qualifications for imparting the knowledge we posecess to the youthful minds placed under our directing hands. specie basis, one only and impracticable, resolu-after all, should be deemed impracticable, resolu-will have to be had to State currencies, support-ed, perhaps, by the issue of Government bonds, But, as their can bo, no liberty in store for 'us, without war, so there can be no war without war, and the people look with without money, and the people look with without money, and the people look with almost painful anxiety to the measures to be enacted during the coming session. Next to money, men, of course, are most needed, and the money, men, of course, are most needed, and the money interaction of course, are most needed, and the second seco money, men, or course, are most needed, and the very grave difficulty of fihing the ranks of the ar-my without destroying or even seriously crippling the productive power of the States, will demand almost undivided attention. The army itself can demust in this increase the the admitted of a tranand must be got.en rid of altogether. The incurable, and nothing but its utter extin will rid us of the oppressive weight, which para-lyzes production and destroys commerce. It may be found impolitie to renow the experiment. of a Government currency, and it a return to a ie basis, the only one sound and safe basis r all, should be deemed impracticable, resort largely attributed to the importance of keeping up, hur-being paid to the importance of keeping up, hur-sing, and improving the oredit of the Government. The currency has now lost its purchasing power, the currency has now lost its discussion. The evil as even our foreign relations, so much neglected herdtofore and so uninportant in appearances will bear being lightly passed over. Our credit abroad, without which it would be difficult to carry on the war, is a tender crotic to be carefully nursed, not by financial ability only, but by making our physical strongth and our noral worth more fully known to an ignorant and prejudiced world. Then the suggestion of invoking the aid of France or England by the promise of future ad-vantages will have to be carefully weighed. What self-denial the depth of national hatred might make us profer to subjugation to the Yan-kee, how the more threat of submitting to a for-eign protectorate might affect the policy of the enemy, and the probability of European Powers accepting such an offer, these are questions of highest import. Nor will there be those wanting who insist upon the use of moral influences as na-tional weapons by the side of the sword, and who would have us deal tenderly and at least political-ly with our so-called friends at the north. The hopes they choose to cherish in the case of McClel-lan's election, the necessity of adding the Feace Democrais by the side of the involution to aten-tion. Then there is the most important question of all-the ways and measus to carry on the war. The failure of the measures of the last Congress is evident. The decline of the last Congress is evident. The decline of the currency was too largely attributed to the redundancy, no regard being paid to the important question is f, and improving the orditor the coveriment.
