THE NEW CALL FOR MES.

The President calls for three hundred thousand more men, to fill credit deficiencies, and strengthen the armics of the Republic. Unfortunately the last call produced but forty per cent: of the number required, the balance being lost in credits and other matters to which the new call will not be liable. Had the full number then called for been furnished by the country, another draft would never have been necessary, but cutting and palmy days. Now, what a change. The running to Canada and elsewhere was a large proprietor of a corner grocery would hardly leak in the last endeavor to recruit the army. Facts come from the South which prove that the stringent blockade of the rebel ports, and the movements of our armies destroying the rebel lines of communication, have placed Jeff and his generals in a bad way for munitions of war. The Ordnance Department at Richmond declares that "it has become of vital importance to husband small arms, ammunition and lead;" and to that end are issued the most minute and precise directions. The portrait in the opening austher is that of Thomas Hughes, author of "School Days at Rugby." The literary contents of this number are Hum, the Son of Baz, by Harriet Beecher a Stowe; The Volumeer's Thanksgiving; by Lucy Larcon, Thumbling, from the Finnish; The Red-Coats, by Gail Hamilton; The Color-Bearer, I by J. T. Trowhidze: The Lattle Prisoner. by not known. Capt. D. P. Burkert of the Fiftieth Regiment, P. V. V., after a brief forlough, has returned to his command. The Captain has served faithfully in this Regiment during the War, and is a brave and competent officer. We observe that his name is used in connection with the Colonelcy of the Regiment, which since the retirement of Col. Christ, has been vacant. Capt. Burkert's many friends in this County, would we are sure, be much pleased to hear of his promotion to the position.

Larcoin, Thumbling, from the Finnish; The Red-Coats, by Gail Hamilton; The Color-Bearer, by J. T. Trowbridge; Winning his Way, by Carleton; New-Year Carol, by John Weiss; Farming, for. Boys, by the Author of "Ten Acres Emough". Affoat in the Forest, by Mayne Beid, and Round the Evening Lamp. Summing up a most interesting and attractive number.

The publishers announce that the second (February) number of "Our Young Folks," in addition to the regular contributions from Mrs. Stowe, Gail Hamilton, Mr. Trowbridge, "Carleton," and others, will have an account of the famous Camp Douglas at Chicago by Edmund Kirke, the continuation of Mayne Reid's story, a delightful tale by Rose Terry, a charming, sketch called "The Baby of the Regiment" by Col. T. W. Higginson, a prose article by John G. Whittier, and other matters of great interest and value. There will be a great many illustrations designed by Eytinge, White, Champuey, Fenn, and other artists of eminence,—those to the Camp Douglas article being copies of the original drawings of a Rebel lad who is a prisoner thore, copied from his journal.

We devote thus much space to a notice of this An "Eisledifor"—a National festival which has been observed in Wales since the time of the Druids—will be held at the Welsh Baptist Church, Minersville, on Monday and Tuesday, December 26, 27. The exercises will comprise competition in the following branches of literature: essays, poetry, musical composition, vocal music, recitation, and oratory. A large number of interesting topics has been selected, and liberal prizes are offered to competitors. The exercises will be both in English and Welsh. On the evening of the 26th, the different choirs will unite, in one grand concert, with Professor Powell, of Scranton, as Conductor. The whole affair promises to be of the most interesting character.

By LEMURI Moss, Sect'y U. S. C. C. Christmas.—To-morrow will usher in the return of an ever memorable day, fraught with deep interest to the religious portion of our people; and by a number of sects specially observed and set apart as holy time. To men of the world, its festive gatherings and its family feasts are indelible opochs on the calendar of time; while the longing eyes of all our anticipating juveniles are instinctively turned thither: for a new visit are instinctively turned thither: for a new visit year's interest on the same.

the longing eyes of all our anticipating Juveniles are instinctively turned thither for a new visit down the chimney from rare, old, benevolent Kriss Kringle, with his wallets well filled with toys and sweetneasts, as presents for good boys and orderly little girls. How many stockings of our metry urchins, both woollen and white, blue cotton and striped, will be hung up for coveted prizes on crook, and iron, bed-post and fire-board this eve to hold their precious prospective treasures; and how jocund and mirthful will their laugh echo out in parlor and hall at the dawn of the Sabbath as they joyonaly ransack the mysterious receptacles wherein are stowed the treasures so highly prized by sunny childhood. More natural to manhood's appetite, we already hear around and about us the war to the knife now going on in poultry yards, wherein mingle the death-golbble of turkies, the dying shricks of geese, and the last defant crow of plump roosters; while the very air is fragrant with the perfume of the pumpkin and the incense of mince. Unable to greet our patrons individually, we do so collectively by wishing to the readers of the Journal and outsiders generally, a Merry Christmas!

A delightful concert was given at the Court House on Thursday-evening last by Miss Melanie May assisted by Prof. O., Berner, Professor and Madaine Conrad, and Mr. Leimmers. The programme was excellent. Miss May is not only quite pleasing in her personal appearance, but she is a very fine planist. It is rarely that we have heard a female performer who is superior to her in firm, confident, expressive touch, and in brilliancy of execution. Apart from the selections which were on the programme, she played two gents, in tremulo as increas anything, after Thalberg, we ever heard. Miss May is really, so fine aperformer, that we trust our muisc-loving citizens will not permit her to depart, before they have had another opportunity of hearing her. Prof. Berner possesses a sweet, flexible tenor voice. It is rarely that one hears a better. Of Mr. and Mrs. Courad and Mr. Leimmers, it is unnecessary to speak. They are known to the community as excellent mucisians. The planio used on the occasion is from the Philadelphia establishment of Albrech, Reiker and Schmidt, and was kindly furnished by Mr. Alstatt, the sole agent here. It is in every respect, a fine instrument. We sincerely trust that Miss May may be induced to give a second concert, so that those who were not present on Thursday evening, may have an opportunity of hearing her remarkable playing. Since the above had been placed in type, the following correspondence was handed in for publication. By it it will be observed that Miss May and Prof. Berner have consented to accept a complimentary testimonial. READING, PENNA., December 10, 1861. }
J. D. Steele, Esq., C. E.—Dear Sir:—As it is probable our rules for passing the Pottsville street crossings have lately been somewhat carelessly observed by both engineers and watchman, I have directed our Mr. McDonnell to establish the following rules, and to see that any neglecting them shall be reported:

1. The signal man will precade every engine moving westward from said Passenger Depot, and see that every approaching passenger or vehicle is signalled before said engine crosses each street. MYEES-KREBS-On the 22d inst. by Rev. L. M. Koons. at the bride's residence. Mr. Josian B. Myras, of Poitsville, and Miss Elles E. Kreus, of St. Nicholas, Schuylkill County, Pa. las, Schuylkill County, Pa.

The employes of the JOERNAL were not forgotten by the happy pair, but were caked and wined in the mos approved style, for which they not only return sincere thanks, but wishes that the commubial cup of joy of th newly wedded pair may always be, as now, filled to overflowing.

SNYDER - MORRIS - In this Borough, on Thursday, the 22d inst., by the Rev. Wm. Lewis: Barne Snyder to Entru, eldest daughter of Robert Morris.

VANBUREN - BOYLE - On the 22d inst., by Rev. Joseph McCool, at the residence of the bride's father. Sylvesten E. Vanguren, of Centreville. Schuykill County, to Taoy C., daughter of Timothy C. Boyle, Esq., of Pottsville. street.
2. In case of the absence of the signal man, the conductor will detail one of the brakemen, or go himself, ahead of the engine.

3. The same precautions will be observed in returning Eastward, towards the Passenger Depot.

4. No engine will attempt to move in either direction unless so signalled by a man ahead.

5. No engine with or without a train, will move past any street crossing at Pottsville, faster than four miles per hour, and her bell will be rung constantly until the last crossing is passed. Any employe failing to observe these rules will be immediately reported.

I would suggest that these rules be furnished the engineer and conductor of your ballist train VOUTE_EVANS_At Washington, D. C., on the 15th December, 1564 by the Rev. Robert Keeling, I. OHL SUBSCRIPTIONS.—The MESEBVE LIST "is now open to receive subscriptions, conditionally, to seven well located and desirable tracts of land situated in the VENANGO ULL REGION.

Those who enter their names in this "Reserve List," get the "original shares" in case any of the miny who have subscribed should unexpectedly be provented from complying with the terms.

All of these seven tracts have been selected for their eligibility, and all are contiguous to, adjoin, and are between lands of the "Fairar," "President," "Shriver." "Germania" "Phenix." "Bull Crock," and "Tionesta" oil and lumber companies, having in the aggregate a capital of several millions of dollars.

These seven several tracts, embracing 400 acres, will cost the subscribers, on an average, only $250 per acre. 230 of these 400 acres are within gunshot of 'Oil Territory, held at $375 per acre (or $75,000 for 200 acres), while one tract of 60 acres, which the subscribers also get. lies midway between two properties; one of 2246 acres: which, within the last few days, sold for $1500 per acre; and the other, of 100 acres, which, since the commencement of this enterprise, sold for $2000 per acre; and the other, of 100 acres, which, since the commencement of this enterprise, sold for $2000 per acre; in might be said that it is in close, proximity to a well which commenced flowing 150 barrels a day in July list.

(These statements are made to indicate that if these lands, in bulk, were now put upon the market, more might be realized from them than by the present plan.] As the purchase of either of these tracts would require more money than the majority of persous have at command, it is proposed to divide them into 100 INTERESTS of $1000 EACH.

Thus affording the man of limited means, as well as the capitalist, an opportunity to secure an interest in this truly wonderful, as well as money-making region.

As all are aware, the usual plan adopted for the development of such a property is to form a compa companies and elect officers from among themselve each subscriber being eligible to the position of an offi-cer of the company.

In order that handsome returns may be speedily r er of the company.

In order that handsome returns may be speedily restized, these subscribtions are based upon the proposition that the subscribers, immediately on receipt of the deeds, organize a company with a capital of 100.000 shares at five dollars each, which will entitle each subscriber to an original interest of 1900 shares, or $5000 in the capital stock of the company, of which a reservation of ten per cent, will give the company a stock capital of 10,000 shares, or $50,000 for the immediate development of their estates.

If this reserve stock, at the opening of the books of the company, were sold at half its face ($50, or at but $20 per share, it would be seen that the stock of those who now subscribe to shares would at once be handsamely increased in value.

Further, when their wells commence flowing, the stock must rapidly increase in value. And again, so much of the land as may be retained by the company, which they do not themselves mean to develop, may be leased on a "raylly" for one-third of the oil produced, or otherwise disposed of, the dividends received from which source would also greatly increase the value of the original stock.

Considering the perfectly satisfactory price at which source would also greatly increase the value of the original stock.

Considering the perfectly satisfactory price at which subscribers get their property, costing no more than it might now in a body be sold for; also bearing in mind that the subscribers themselves organize the company, manage its affairs, and that by the plan proposed, if carried out, handsome returns may be realized, there should be no difficulty in deciding as to which of the many really good enterprises before the public you give the preference to.

The shares are $1000 each, payable conditionally. Provide yourselves with PERRY DAVIS PAIN KIL-DER at this season of the year, when Colic, Cholers Morbus, Dysentery, Diarrhea, &c., may disable your fect a speedy cure. But he sure you trust to no other many really good enterprises before the puone you give the preference to.

The shares are $1000 each, payable conditionally. The shares are $1000 each, payable conditionally either at the time of subscribing or before the deeds are executed. They with the searches and surveys, have already been ordered to be returned as early as possible. This enterprise has been considered by those who have examined into its merit one of the best before the public, and as this list will only be open for a few days to so secure shares, address at once or apply to DUNCAN M.
