Destructive Fire in Asiland. —On Tuesday night last in Ashland, flämes were discovered isening from the livery stable of Mr. Adam'Mock, and he-fore they could be subdued, the stable with all its contents, was destroyed. Five horses that he-longed to Mr. Mock, and one the property of a peddler who had it there for the night, perished in the flames. An adjoining dwelling, the proper-ty of Wm. Goyne, and valued at $1500, was also destroyed with its contents. The entire loss is estimated at $7000, upon which there is a partial inspirance. The fire was he work of an incen-diary. If it had not been for the extraordinary exertions of the citizens, the fire would have been still more destructive. The fact is, Ashland will never be safe, until they have water works there. There is no earthly reason for any thing of the kind, and such prices are simply and purely extortion. The war is sirilu-ally over, one-half of the government expenses have been stopped, gold is down to one-quart r of what it has been and yet the prices of living are bighter that year. Hogs and Gouls.—Our citizens are gratified un questionably, to perceive that the Chief Burgoss is giving notice that the Borough ordinance against the running at large in the streets of against the funning at large in the stretch of hogs and goats will be enforced. We hope that he will strictly enforce the law in this matter, and thus rid us of a great nuisance.
