A few Poet Laureate. The Cornhill Magazine," in London, paid Tennyson, the poet Laurente of England, sixteen hundred dollars for a poem, and the following two stanzas are just one half of it. or eight hundred dollars' worth:

what does little birdle say,
In her cost at peop of day?
Let me fly, says little birdle
Mother, let me fly away.
Birdle, rest a little longer,
Till thy uny wingr are stronger;
Eo she rests a little longer,
Then she flee away. What does little beby say.
In her bed at piesp of day?
Hady, says. like little hindle,
Let me ride in haste away.
Baby, sleep a little longer,
Until her little legs grow stronger;
And a fter waiting, like the birdle.
Baby, too, shall fly away.

Isn't that grand? Isn't it the quintescence of poetry? Here's sixteen lines of our own, says an exchange, same style, same measure, and embodying about as much sentiment, for which we will willingly take a quarter:

What does little frogric say,
In his pond at break of day;
Let me swim, says little frogric—
tailifrog let me swim away.
Frogric, walt a little longer,
Till your little legs are stronger:
80 he mrounts upon a chunk,
And then into the poud ker-ch-u-n-k. What does little piggle say,
In his sty at peep of day?
Piggle say, like little froggle,
Let me go and rows to-day.
Piggle, wall a fittle longer,
Jill your snout grows hard and strong;
If you suck a little longer,
Piggle then may root away.

How I answered those questions, must ever remain. I suppose, a mystery to myself—certain it is, however, I did answer every one—although I did not know it till to-night, there's a dipper, and a chair, and a four horse team, and I don't know what else in the sky. From Rev. Robt. Stration, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the madicinal virtues of your Sarsayarabilla. My daughter, aged ten, had an afflicting humor in her cars, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to care until we tried your Sarsayarabilla. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Long E. Dice and Britana and Sarsayarabilla. been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane R. Rice, a well-known and muchestenned lady of Dennisville. Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofnlous cruption, which was very troublesome.
Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAFARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Cape Pag. 26 the Action of the complete of t Nothing anordal air, so that we week the new kin began to furney of made my face works and rolling with the hold on the wildly known and the my face we were the solution of the wildly known of had for several years a very troublesome knimor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured by features and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your Sursarantilla. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new kin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's and fam without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy periest health, and without a doubt one it to your Sarsarantilla."

Erysipelas — General Debility — Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Sately, Houston St., New York.

"Dr. Ayer. I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scrofulous Sores by the persecring use of your Sarranger Links and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with It. No alterative we possess equals the Saks Parantila, you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Jehaton, Esq., Valeman, Ohio.

For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time Urrice all the celebrated physiclans I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The ulcers were so bad that the cords became visible, and the destors decided that my arm must be ampuitated. I began taking your Saraaparlilla. Took two bottles, and some of your Philes. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all." Erysipelas - General Debility-Purify the sil. From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadius Parliament.

sommending it to the affilicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harrey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Trackannock Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forcheat. They rapidly spread until they rorned a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the featering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing clse we had any hope from, we began giving your Sansapantilla, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyeladshes, which had come out, grow again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Moreurial Disease.

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease. Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

From Dr. Hirem Slout, of St. Louis, Missouri.

Il find your SARSAPARILLA a more effectial remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The procession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have.

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Missachusetts.

DR. AYER. Bly dear Sir: I have found your SARSAFARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and effectual in some cases that were too obstinate to yild to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerploy with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required." ful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Van Lieue, of New Brunneick, N. I., had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and Leucorrhæs, Whites, Female Weakness, are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration, and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this SARSTANLLA. Some cases require, however, in aid of the SARSTANLLA, the skillal application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrill, of Cincinnat.

4 I have found your SARSAPANLLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cises of Irregularity, Lencorrhæs, Internal Viceration, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when its effect by properly aided by local treatment."

A lady, unusilling to allow the publication of her mans, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Lencorrhæs of long standing, by two bottless of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rhoumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dys-Leucorrhea, Whites, Female Weakness, Rhoumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia, when caused by Scropula in the system, are rapidly cared by this Ext. SarsaparitLLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need n t do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they have ever done.

WELLS' PETROLEUM WRITING FLUID. JET BLACK AT FIRST. This Ink, unlike all others, contains no acids, and therefore will not corrode steel peus; one pen will last longer than a dozen in any other ink. It flows freely, leaves no sediment in the bottle, and is not injured in the least by freezing. It cannot be wasted from paper either by hot or cold water, and no expressure to head will change the color. These qualities make it invaluable for books and papers contained in safes in case of fire. It is undoubtedly, the best writing fluid ever invented. vented.

The process of manufacturing this invaluable article is known only by the inventors, and we therefore caution all against imitations. Ask for Wells Petroleum Writing Fluid, and see that the full name of LOUIs WELLS & CO. is on the lable. By so doing you will be sure of gerting a bottle of Perfect Ink. N. PRIVATE SALES. VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE. In consequence of poor health the subscriber has concluded to offer his Farm for sale. Said larm is located in Kingston Township. Luzerne Zounty, within four miles of the Wyoming Depot. With good roads and down glade to market. The Farm contains about 170 acres, one hundred and fifteen under good improvement. The soil is good and well adapted to either grass or grain. and being well watered, would make one of the fluest grazing farms in the county. The buildings are Two Dwelling Houses, one large Hay and Grain, Barn, one Cow Barn for Stabling Catile, Carriage House and Stable, and large Corn House. ONE ORCHARD.—It is also well fenced, having several hundred rods of stone wall upon it; is centrally located—two roads crossing at right angles near the buildings. There is also a Church and School House on the premises, and untirecently a Post Office was kept at the place for skiteen years. It is NEAR THE BEST MARKET IN THE STATE.

It is altogether a desirable property, and persons having money to invest in real estate would so well to call on the subscriber and view the premises. Any one desiring further information can call on or address the Editor of the Pittson Gazette. Or RUFUS CARVER.

IMPROVEMENTS IN COOKERY, At the second session of Professor Blot's Academy, more than fifty ladies presented. themselves for the purpose of receiving a les. son in the culinary art. The Professor comby offering the following "bil of fare": Mol an Vent—Oyster Sauce.

Mutton Chopina la Princesse.
Salsity—Bechamel Sauce.
Potatoes—Mnitre d'Hotel.
Meringues—a la Chantilly.
Tartelettes—a la Frangipani. The lesson began by the Professor calling the attention of the ladies to the rules that were to be observed for making good pastry, and gave the following recipe: Half a pound of flour. Half a pound of butter. The butter is divided into two portions -One portion is used with the flour, which is mixed up with cold water enough to fill an ordinary tumbler half full. The dough thus made is sufficiently manipulated to enable the cook to roll it into a cake about half an inch thick. The remaining portion of butter was now placed in the centre of the dough. Each side of the cake was then brought over and laid down lightly upon the butter in the centre. The dough was again folded together, and then the cook took a clean napkin, which she dusted with flour. Into this she placed the dough, which was carefully laid away for half an hour, in a cool place. Subsequently this dough was taken out of the napkin, placed upon a board, and worked in the following manner: The folded portions were pressed into the butter, ma-nipulating it from side to side, thus thoroughincorporating the butter into every part .-After this was done, the dough was rolled out and folded up again, being then carefully replaced in the napkin, which was put away n a cool place for fifteen minutes. Finally this pastry was rolled into the proper thickness for the "volun vent" or "airy nothings," and the "Tarts." The airy nothings were rolled half an inch thick, cut into two sizes, one slightly larger than the other. The smallest, being placed on top of the other, was brushed over with the white of an egg. A Insurance effected in the best Companies on favora-te terms. Losses promptly adjusted and paid without down upon the table. The airy nothings were then placed on the unbuttered side of this paper; the whole being next consigned-INSERANCE COUPANY OF NORTH AMERICA to the oven, the buttered side of the paper being placed directly upon the usual movable grating on the inside of the oven. These articles remained in the oven about twenty minutes, or until cooked. Desiring to show how many different things could be made from the same kind of dough, the Professor caused some of it to be used for the tarts -Rolling it very thin, the cook lined some little tins with it, which were then filled with a mixture prepared as follows: A handful of shelled sweet simonds, Some lemon-peek chapped fine; The white of one egg. These ingredients having been well mixed together in one vessed, the yolks of two eggs and a large spoonful of pulverized sugar, with a few drops of lemon, were now mixed in another vessel. The contents of both vessels were then thoroughly mixed together, and poured into the little placed in the oven until cooked. On being with frawn from the oven and cooled, the them, the tarts being afterward replaced in the oven to harden : The white of four eggs beaten to a stiff froth, while pulverized sugar was being added until the proper consistency and sweet-had been obtained. This preparation was for the 'Meringues,' which were cooked as follows: A tablespoon was filled with white froth. This was dropped in little cakes into a well buttered baking pan. When the pan contained a sufficient number, each lump of froth was sprinkled with pulverized sugar, and then the pan was placed in the oven remaining there long enough to cook—acco ding to the heat of the fire. If the oven is very hot, and the articles likely to burn, a piece of paper should be placed over them. The Meringues having been in the oven until the outside surface was perfectly hard-ened, the cook withdrew the pan, and taking up in her hand each little white lump, tursed it bottom upward. Taking a spoon she pressed it into the bottom of each article. The hollow thus formed was then filled with a mixture composed of the cream skimmed from a quart of milk, which, with sufficient pulverized sugar, was beaten to a froth. The white lumps were stuck together in pairs; the centre of each finished Meringue was thus filled with a creamy froth, and when the whole operation was concluded, a batch of these luxuries lay on a platter prepared for the table. The icing, not required for the manufacture of the Meringues, was used to ornament other articles of pastry; the process being simple. A small piece of letter paper having been fashioned into a funnel, it was having been fashioned into a funnel, it was filled with the icing; which, percolating through a small hole left in one end of the funnel, could be readily passed over the pastry in any desired form or quantity.

A spounful of flour, a lump or butter the size of an egg, a gill of milk, and about as much water, having been placed in a saucepan, and mixed together on the fire until sufficiently cooked, the tenderest partion of sufficiently cooked; the tenderest portion of eighteen dysters, halved and quartered, was added. A few moments additional cooking, and the sauce thus prepared was used to fill a cavity (made by removing a round portion of the pastry) in the center of the 'airy nothings." The Professor explained that jellies or preserves could be substituted for this oyster sauce, if desirable. This completed the ·Vol-au-vent." It must be understood that the operations described above were in progress while the cooking of the other articles on the "bill of fare" was going on.

A breast of mutton having been placed on the kitchen table, was cut by the cook, who separated the meat and each rib bone from the back bone. The end of each rib bone, was then scraped clean; the scrapings and trim-mings being placed in a sauce pan and sub-sequently used for making the gravy. The mutton chops were then cooked as follows: Taking a wire sieve, the cook rubbed some stale bread over the meshes, the crumbs, thus state oread over the meshes, the crumbs, thus made very fine, were placed in a sauce-pan with a small lump of batter, and mixed together over the fire, while standing or the back part of the range, every thing being cooked slowly. Pieces of veal cutiet were now scraned and grated, a little nuture. now scraped and grated; a little nutmeg, a now scraped and graced, a fittle futureg, a little butter, a pinch of flour, a pinch of salt, some pepper and a yolk of an egg being added, were pounded together in a mortar. This was poured into the bread crumbs and butter already on the fire. After being sufficiently cocked, this preparation was placed on a plate previous to being molded into little cakes and fried for a few moments in a panthe bottom of which was covered with broth taken from the "Alphabet Kettle" (described in the 1 roceedings of the first day). These cakes were subsequently served up with the mutton chops. Before frying the mutton chops, each was dipped in a preparation made in the yolk of one egg, pepper, salt, and active better. melted butter. After being dipped, the chops were rolled in the bread crumbs, and afterward fried in butter. Before the mutton cheps came from the fire, the little cakes were placed in the same frying pan, all cooking together. When served up, the chops were laid around the edge of a platter, the meat being toward the centre, the scraped bones turned to the outer, edge, and whole ornamented by the little cakes artistically arranged.

The Salsify or "oyster plants" were next placed in a sauce pan with a pint of broth from the "Alphabet Kettle." Two slices of salt pork, with a spoonful of gravy (from the kettle in which the leg of muton was boiled at the first lesson), some milk or flour sauce was made and poured over the salsify before it was ready for the table. The raw potatoes were peeled and then cut into inney shapes by the vegetable-knife, put MECCA LUBRICATING OIL.
