very thal' have distriptioned, there will be no "other services" la the South. Her actual population will then services at the South. Her actual population will then services the theorem of the services of any Northern State. But again, this is on the supportany Northern State. But again, this is on the supportany Northern State. But again, this is on the supportany Northern State is loyal, and therefore entitled to vote.

Are the half of all Southern male adults at this time, or will they be for years to come, more than lin-loyal, if even that? I think you will not say that they are.— It would surely be an extravagant calculation. If more It would surely be an extravagant calculation. If more It would surely be an extravagant calculation. If more It would surely be an extravagant calculation. If more It would surely be an extravagant calculation. If more than half the whites in extravagant calculation. If more than half they must be surely of the Union, through the the late secretion portion of the Union, through the sarency of its enemies? One-third would be a full estimate, in my ludgment, for the truly loyal.

But let us assume that two-thirds of all the white male adults of the South become voters, and that they exclude from suffrage, by law or by Constitutional provision, all persons of color, what would be the political consequences under such a state of things? If (as we may roughly estimate), by destruction through war and by depletion of propulation through emigration to Mexico, to Europe and elsewhere, the number of whites throughout the late Rebel States shall have been reduced until blacks and whites exist there in nearly equal numbers, then, in the case above supposed, each voter in these States, when he approached the ballot box during a Concressional or Presidential election, would do so wielding Turker rums as much political influence as a voter in a Northern State. This vast advantage once gained by Southern whites, is it likely that they will ever re inquilak it?

Nor, i we dustranchise the negro, is there any escape from some such consummation, except by rooting out from the Constitution the principle that the whole number of free persons shall be the basis of representation. But that principl raid it.

Thus it appears that the present experiment in reconstruction, if suffered to run its course, and if interpreted as I think we have just cause to fear that it will be, tend (inevitably, it may be said) to bring about two results. preted as I think we have just cause to fear that it will be, tend (inevitably, it may be said) to bring about two results:

First—To cause the disfranchisement of the freedman. Whether we effect this directly, as by provision of law or by a disqualifying clause in a proclamation, or whether we do it by leaving the decision to his former masters and his old enemies, matters nothing except in form and in words; the result is brought about with equal certitude in either way. Passion, prejudice and self-interest concar to produce this result.

Szconn—It establishes—not the odious thet-fifth clause, not even merely a ryz_fifth clause—but something much worse than either. It permits the investiture of the Southern white with a preponderance of political power, such as no class of men, in a democratic republic, ever enjoyed since the world began.

I do not—believe me in this. Mr. President—overlook or underrate the grave embarrassments that beset your path, turn as you will. I call to mind the overbearing infinence of passion and of prejudice, and I admit that when these prevail, in exaggerated form, throughdut a large portion of any nation, a wise ruler recognizes the fact of their existence and regulates his acts accordingly. But the sway of passion sud prejudice, despotic for a season, has but a limited term of endurance, and should be treated as an evanescent thing. It is too transient and unstable to furnish basis for a comprehensive system of policy. Tenderly it should be treated, but not falsely respected or weakly obeyed.

Mercy, God-like attribute as it is, may run riot. It is very well, by act of grace to restore to penitent southern insurgents their legally forfeited rights; let us be friends and fellow-citizens once more, as Christianity and comity enjoin. But to suffer each of these returning rebels, when about to cast his vote for President or for Representatives of the people, to be clothed with three times as much power as is, possessed by a Northern voter exercising a similar right, is, very surely, ly, a smewhat superfluous stretch of elemency.

And what mainer of men. I pray you, are those whom we propose thus to select from smoughter fellows—granting them political powers unknown to democracy, investing them with Privileges of an olicar chical character? It is digenerous to speak harably of a vanquished foe especially of one who has shown courage and constancy worthy of the noblest cause: but the truth is the truth, and is ever fitly spoken.

Unance-sin! Rebels cannot: by bits of paper called Secession ordinances, take a State out of the Union; but by tevying civil war, they can convert all the inhabitants of a State into public enemies, deprived, as such, by law, of their political rights. The United States can restore these rights—can pardon these public enemies. And we have the right to pardon on conditions; as, for example, on the condition that Slavery shall cease to exist; or on the condition that none of these persons, who form the basis of representation, shall, because of color, be deprived of the right of suffrage. frage.

If we neglect to impose the first condition: the cause of the late Rebellion will continue and will, some day, produce mother. If we neglect to impose the second condition, an oligarchy, on an extended scale, will grow up it one large section of the country, working grave injustice toward the voters of another section. THE REPUBLICAN PARTY AND NEGRO SUFFRAGE.

The opponents of the party of true progress, of the party which has been successful because its highest aims are the welfare of the human race and the advance in virtue, liberty and independence of the Republic, are predicting divisions in the party on the question of negro suffrage. But if their present predictions have no stronger basis than those made heretofore in reference to the party, on the emancipation and other national questions, which they thought were breakers on which the party would split, we

they are men whose terrible misfortune it has been to be born and bred under a system the most cruel and demoralizing the world ever saw. The wisest of those who have been subjected to such a surrounding have routessed its evil power. "There must doubtlese," said Jefferson in his Notes on Virginia, "be an unhappy influence on the manners of our people, produced by the world existence of slavery among us. The whole commerce between master and slave is a perpetual exercise of the most boistering nassions—the most nareomatic. nature of the Republican party not only to In this spirit the Republican party is now en gaged in discussing the negro suffrage quesion in reference to the justice involved in it, The slaveholders proper, many of whom are excluded from pardon by the Proclamation of Amnesty; the 'poor whites,' and what may be called the yeomen of the South—of which last our country feels that her worthy President is a noble type, and of which we may regard stout-hearted Parson Brownlow as a clerical example. sure in an honest spirit, the Republican ence as a voter in the North. The unjust tree-fifth principle will have disappeared torever. And if color is to be deemed cause of exclusion, then all the political power which is withheld from the emancipated slave is gained by the Southern white. The great evils which would arise from this manifestly unjust state of things, are clearly shown by Mr. Owens, and we commend his letter to the perusal of every candid, thoughtful man.

On Thursday evening Mr. Newcomer met a number of his friends, and gave them a substantial welcome to the American House. Although he modestly called it a collation, it was really one of the finest dinners ever served up in Pottsvillé. The dishes were varied and unexceptionable in preparation, showing that the American will have what ista great desuderatum to health, well cooked food. It a enough to make one groan to think of the amount of badly cooked food the people of this country eat in the course of a year. No wonder we are a nation of dyspeptics. Ignorant cooks murder us by inches. Our world upon it the guests of the American will have no cause to complain in this respect, for the cooks are the best that could be procured in New York.

We congratulate our citizens that the American House has been reopened by so capable and courteous a host as Mr. Newcomer, and heartilly recommend it to the patronage of the public, as a hotel, in which every convenience and comfort can be found. ing placed under contract from Pottevine to de-Clair, and its construction commenced at an ear-ly day. "Usen by our most eminent Physicians and Clerox."

Dr. Swayn & Son: Some six years ago I began to lose my hair, and continued to do so mit the scalp became as bue as the palm of my hand; froubled also with a disagreeable itching fever, great heat, and dandruff, small pustules would form, quite sore to the touch, and the remaining portion of the hair on the side and back of my head became quite gray. After using a number of Restoratives (so called) without success, and my head hearly destitute of hair, I reluctantly commenced using the "LONDON HAIR COLOR RESTURER AND DRESTNG." Now, candor and justice compelmy to say to all, that through its use I now possess a new and beautiful growth of hair, completely restored to its original dark and glossy appearance, and I venture the assertion, the world furuishes no preparation equal to this; and I do, conscientiously, say to all who are gray, or ball, hair dry and harsh, or falling, to use, at once this cleanly and delightfully perfumed article.
