The lasses they eat every day.
Would keep a house a winter:
They have so much that I'll be bound.
They cat it when they we a mind to.
Yankee doodle, &c. And there we see a swamping gun,

Large as a log of maple.
Upon a deuced little cart.
A load for father's cattle.
Yankee doodle, &c. And every time they shoot it off
It takes a noise like father's gun,
Only a nation louder.
Yankee doodle, &c.

I went as nigh to one myself As 'Sinh's under binning:
And father went as nigh sgain.
I thought the deuce was in him.
Yankee doodle, &c. Cousin Simon grew so bold
I thougat he would have cocked it:
It scared me so. I streaked it off,
And hung by father's pocket.

But Captain Davis had a gun,
He kind of clapped his hand on't,
He stuck a crooked stabbing iron
Upon the little end on't.
Yankee doodle &c. And there I see a pumpkin shell
As big as mother's basin.
And every time they touched it off
They scamperd like the nation.
Yankee doodle, &c.

I see a little barrel, too,
The heads were made of leather,
They knocked upon it with little clubs,
And called the folks together.
Yankee doodle, &c.

And there was Captain Washington,
And gentle folks about him;
They say he's grown so tarnal prond
He will not ride without 'em.
Yankee doodle, &c. He got him on his meeting clothes,
Upon a slapping stallion:
He set the world along in rows,
In hundreds and in millions.

result competent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is vacaused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, fith and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and above all, by the venercal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will. visit the infquities of the fathers upon their

either produces or is that fluid becomes in-children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indi-gestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, known by all who have given it a trial. That t does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases. Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individua cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its, use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER's SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital | tion in a way before unknown ions, and thus expels the distempers on any part of it.

which lurk within the system or burst out We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so un-versally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that i may be relied on to do all it has ever done. Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co.,

Schenck's Mandrake Pills

FOR

SICK HEADACHE,

Its Symptoms, Cause and Cure.

THE S has received its name, from a constant nat sea or sickness at the stomach, which attends the there is a distressingly oppressive feeling in the head, which gradually merges into a severe heavy pain in th temples, frequently attended by a sense of fallness and ness in one eye, and extending across the fore hend. There is a clammy, unpleasant taste in the mouth, an offensive breath, and the tongue covered with a yellowish white fur. The sufferer desires to be alone in a dark room. As soon as the patient feels the fulness in the head and pain in the temples, take a large dose of Schenck's Mandrake Pills, and in an hour or two they will feel as well as ever. This has been tried by thousands, and is always sure to cure, and instead of the sick headache coming on every week or ten days, they will not be troubled with it once in three months.

Scheuck's Mandrake Pills are composed of a number of roots besides Podophinin, or concentrated Mandrake and act more prompt than blue pills or mercury, with out leaving any dangerous effects. In a bilious perso they will show themselves by the stools. They will expel worms, mucus, bile and all morbid matter from the system. In sick headache, if they are taken as disymptoms of it) Dr. Schenck will and has directed his M. IMPORTANT TO ALL INVALIDS

IRON IN THE BLOOD. It is well known to the medical profession that RON is the vital Principle or Life Element of the blood. This is derived chiefly from the food we eat; but if the food is not properly digested, or if, from any cause whatever, the necessary quantity of iron is not taken into the circulation, or becomes reduced, the whole system suffers. The bad blood will irritate the heart, will clog up, the langs, will stupefy the brain, will obstruct the liver, and will send its disease-producing elements to all parts of the system, and every one will sufto all parts of the system, and every one will suf-fer in whatever organ may be predisposed to dis-

The great value of Iron as a Medicine Is well known and acknowledged by all medical men. The difficulty has been to obtain such a preparation of it as will enter the circulation and assimilate at once with the blood. This point, says Dr. Hayes, Massachusetts State Chemist, has been attained in the Peruvian Syrup, by combination in a way before inknown. THE HAYMAKERS.

As row by row the mowers go, On every face a smile. Each corn-flower blue wears a jewel of dew, And over the bright green sea.

The stalks between bright fashing, keen, Sweep on each glittering ceythe; Of the sorrel red, and the thirde head, They take a royal tithe.

But when the moon, no whit too soon, Comes with its lessening shadow, They sit and laugh, and joke and quaff, Under the oak in the meadow

Then when sun sets, and cold dew were The tawny hills of hav. Homeward they go, and the after glow Greets them upon their way, From the Country Gentleman and Cultivator,

USE OF MILES-POINTS IN JUDGIE. I see by an advertisemens in our city papers, that there is a large number of mules to be sold by the Quartermaster's Department at Washington and Nashville. Gen. Meigs. in his adverti-ement, says : "These animals are to be sold at public auction; they willnot bring anything like their value, and such an opportunity for farmers to get working animals will never occur again."

The amount these animals have cost the ove nment varies from one hundred and wenty five to one hundred and eighty-seven dollars eac . . They were purchased in large numbers, and at much lower prices than a small number could have been bought by individuals for their own use. These mules that have endured the hardships of from one to three years campaign, have proved themselves to be possessed of extraordinary constitutions.

The fact cannot be too deeply impressed on the minds of our Northern farmers, that there s nothing in the shape of working animals. that can do the same amount of work in a generally variably climate, for as low a con to the own r as the mule. It would be worth the while of any person who has any doubts as to the docility, endurance or capacity for education of the mule to inquire of a returned soldier, one who has been on the long and hard marches with either of our glorious armies, as to the use of which the patient mule has been, and the manner their part of the marches have been performed. But one opinion can be given: they are the strongest animals for their size, will endure the most hard work, and get along with the least to cat or drink of any animal we use for work. Oh, you cannot kill a mule! I am sorry to say that this last is the idea of too many of the drivers the poor creatures have to control them. The impression that all mules are vicious has also happily exploded as experience has taught us that among the tens of thousands of mules in the army, it is but seldom one kicks or has any vice that has not been taugh em. To teach a team of mules to guide perfectly with one line is but the work of a few days; a perfectly green team, one : at never has been harnessed, is expected to take its place regularly in the train in less than one week after being fint hitched up or harnessed. There are with mules, as with horses, all qualities, from bad to good: and in the purchase of an animal we should never endeavor to get one of an interior quality; a good one at an ordinray price is circap, and a poor one for nothing is dear. Size is desirable, but by no means should great consideration be placed upon height; it does not constitute size proper, although the purchases for the army were based upon the height of the animal. Let your judgment for a mule be in size as for a ox, high from the ground to top of shoulder, but short legs. Beware of long-legged, slab-sided, small-bellied mules; they are not reliable. Look well to the size of the barrel or body of the mule; den't think you are choosing a running horse; a small body that become even smaller at the hind quarters, is not what you want, but rather look for a mule that reembles the best brood mares in shape of body or barrel; they have endurance and are most easily kept. Being thin is no great obection; it rather assists in picking out the orm o ho y to build upon.

Much information as to the character, disposition, &c., &c., of the mule, can be gained by noticing the way the head and ears are carried, both when in and out of motion. A fine mule will carry a high head with earin motion—is ve y quak to see and hear all that is passing. As in the herse, blood will tell: the in-always leave his impress on his offspring. as will others of more humble origin. The mule from the imported Jack can be discovered as quickly and with as much certain ty as a colt from thorough-bred stallion. The legs of the mule should be broad and thin; like a fine blood horse, the joints should be uncommonly large in proportion to the legs. The objections of the legs being to light, I have never known to hold good with mules if they were wide. The most durable colors are black, brown, grey, dun, spotted including roans and sorrels. This is quite question of fancy, as many persons present one above the other: for work there is about the same general difference as in the horse except the black mule seems to have as good eyes as any other color. . The hoofs of mos army mules are suffering from a very conmon disease among the horses in our best stables, contraction of the heels. It is as easy to cure this disease in the mule as in the horse, if you can make the blacksmith take sufficient interest in the animal, and not think

Much good to both classes of animals, and great saving to owners would occur if the use of the Goodenough horse-shoe, or some other of equally good kind were more gener ally introduced. I have already given in former article the relative value of the multiple and horse for work for a term of years, and recommended to our northern farmers it use of the cheapest and best animal for fare

Further, it should be understood that mule are good animals to drive in carriages of pleasure as well as work. They are neith bad looking or bad drivers, and are used many persons of wealth and taste in this ty, because of their ability to endure has driving on hard roads; 6 to 10 miles an hor is considered a good guit for a pair of driving mules. If good driving mules are wanted don't use a whip about them; never let the become accustomed to a continual touching

Public opinion in the north is opposed the use of mules. John Quincy Adams 5 "Opinion is the queen of the world; it give motion to the springs and direction to wheels of power." Can we overcome foolish opinion or prejudice, or must we be to the power and give up, the use of a value ble animal? This is a question that the fare er must answer for himself, and I feel assurd we are not so far behind our southern broth ers in even one thing that we cannot make good use of their most successful means dator.
