ADEQUATE PROTECTION. There is no question that is still of more importance to the interests of capitalists, of workingmen, and to the Government-for if the means of adding to her revenues are cut off, financial difficulties ensue-than that of adequate protection to the industry of the country. Pennsylvania as an iron producing State, years since felt this necessity, which the West and South, as they increase their productive power, will more keenly realize. In fact in the West even now, the subject is attracting attention, and the next Congress will be petitioned to protect our products by imposing adequate duties on imports. Another object in this which will be beneficial, will be to prevent a drain of gold from this country to Europe, thus keeping the balance of trade in our favor and the country from mean, despicable condition, they are beneath being impoverished. The necessity for this hatred ; we despise them, yet feel asentiment movement is the more urgent, as a "Free of pity that humanity can become so degra-

He plumply refused, saying that he would not give a peuny for the purpose. This individual is Member of Congress from this District. How long, oh, how cost to the people of the country. It h been proven on the trial of the alleged assassins at Washington, that Benjamin Wood's paper, the New York News, a vile sheet, was supported by Southern money, and we have no doubt that similar relief was extended to the lesser fry throughout the country. Injured by being Upset.—On Saturday last An-drew Robinson of New Philadelphia, was serious-ly injured by the upsetting of a sulky in which he was riding. It seems that while attempting to pass a wagon loaded with hay be struck a pig which was in the road, which upset the vehicle and threw him violently to the ground. His in-juries were attended to by Dr. Halberstadt. The accused were brought to this Bor-ough; had a hearing before Squire Corisman, and were committed in default of $500 ball each; to ---were committed in default of $500 bail each, to answer.

Ran. Over and Killed.—James Gaven, living at Lock No. 7, Schuvikill Navigation, in attempting on Thursday last to jump on an empty ceal train-going to Fort Carbon, missed his hold and fell ou-the track. Several of the cars passed over his body, mingling it in a sheeking manner. Coron-er Johnson held an inquest the same day. The verdict was "accidental death," no blame attach-ing to the Bailroad Company or employees. ing to the Railroad Company or employees. -----

The Eisteddfod for this County, was held in this Borough at the beautiful grounds of the Water Company on Wednesday and Thureday last. The exercises were very interesting; and the successful competitors in essays, poetry, music, oratory, etc., were duly awarded prizes. Our hunited space this week forbids a detailed description. We have the able to publish it in our next. The whole affair was one of the most pleasant ever held here.

has the largest circulation of any German paper published in the United States, in its issue of Tuesday last, the 4th of July, takes strong ground in favor of negro suffrage .-The editor says "it is a folly and periody to demand that men who are free, be excluded from the right of suffrage, inasmuch as the Constitution of the United States does not say-a word of color or race being a reason for denying the right of suffrage."

Notable Fact.—Wisely or unwisely, a number of Copporheads were appointed Assistant-Mar-shale for the Fourth of July procession here, not one of whom acted. Why should they? They've no particular interest in the Fourith of July, or they would have attended the machings held by our loyal cuizens to make arrangements to cele-brate the day. Not one of them was at those meetings, and but one was observed listening to the speakors on the Fourth. They kept aloof. The truth is that nine-teaths of th

'wherever they please.'

There is a trite proverb that "charity begins at home." We believe in it. Great Britain did not act with such generosity to us during the War as to claim much consideration at our hands. Our commerce preyed, upon by the piratical craft that sailed from her ports armed with English guns and manned by English sailors, is a record against her which she will find it difficult to blot out. But what will our position be without an adequate Protective Tariff? What is the present condition of the iron and banking interests of the country? Our readers may glean from the following remarks made by factory to know that the full importance to Mr. E. B. Ward, President of the American | the business interests of Pottsville, of these Iron and Steel Association, at a recent meet- railway projects, is appreciated by our mering of the iron manufacturers and coal operators held at Cleveland : GENTLEMEN.—I appear before you for the purpose of inviting your co-operation and assistance in the pub-lishing and distribution of information among the peo-ple of the Northwest on the subject of free trade and import duties on manufactures. Many of you undorbitedly suppose that the tariff on improva is now amole for protection as well as for rev-

Import dattes on infimutatives. Many of you indonabtedly suppose that the tariff on imports is now ample for protection as well as for rev-ence, and that any effort on year part for its increase is therefore nunecessary. You may appreciate your mistake when you learn that nine-tenths of all the blast fornaces are idle; that most of the rolling mills are working on half time or idle; that the machine shops are destitute of orders; that there was nearly $20,000, 000 worth of iron and steel (currency value) imported from Europe last year; that the coin in the banks of the United States has been reduced from $102,000,000 to the United States has been reduced for a resumption of massacinesits, have $13,000,000 of circulation, with less than $20,000,000 now available for a resumption, with less than $20,000,000 now; that the United States have exported over $200,000 of coin during the past two years; that our imports largely exceed our exports in exported over $200,000,000 of coin mining the past two years; that our imports largely exceed our exports in value, and that the balance are paid in coin or United States bonds; that Europe now holds $500,000,000 of National, State and Italiroad securities, requiring more that all the 'California products' to pay the interest; that a strong organization is now forming in Europe to destroy the tariff we now have, and that the cumo-lative taxes on home manufactures is so great as to leave too small a margue between the price of labor and control in Europe to enable the American manufacture terver too shart a harger between the American manufacture capital in Europe to enable the American manufacture ref to compete successfully with the foreign manufacture rurer. These and other reasons render it essential to your interests that prompt and efficient action be take to meet impending funncial evils and suve your Gov rnment as well as yourselves from future bankruptcy No remedy can be at all effectual but Lign import du ies, thereby checking the purchase of foreign lities to the values of our exports exclusives of And policy short of this will cud in disaster, and it is mostant that Congress should be brought to under tand this subject at the earliest practical moment. Th order to stimulate the views of Congress on this ques-tion, it is proposed to publish and distribute among of this country two million papers on the l portance of a sufficient tariff over the home taxation t enable the manufacturers of America to supply th country with the greater proportion of its merchandis instead of buying it in Europe. Our Canadian trade particularly injurious to American interests under th Reciprocity Treaty. Our trade with France is hamper-ea with restrictions discriminating against American ships and interest which no nation possessing any selfspect or power should submit to an nour without re aliatory restrictions. These are a few of the reasons why Americans should reanize and act in delence of their own interests. How wer humiliating it may be to you, to be obliged to ap beal to an American Congress to protect American in terests against the mercenaries who advocate free trade in the United states and practice high protection in Europe. It must be done, as I see no other hope for our national debt or the nation's prosperity. Captin Ward was followed by D. P. Rhodes, M C. Younglove, D. W. Cross, J. Pope and others, when, on ion of Mr. James Mason the following resolution Motion of al. - starts mission the following resolution was adopted: Resolucia, That a committee consisting of Messrs, A. B. Stone, Win. Bingham, U. P. Risdes Fayette Brown, M. C. Younglove, S. L. Matner, Win. E. Castle, J. Pope, and S. M. Carpenter, be appointed, whose duty it shall be to report a plan for the organization of an association for the State of Unio, the object of which shall be to procure funds to disceminate among the people of Ohlo information of a protective tariff, and people of Ohlo information of a protective time to aid in securing proper legislation ; the same to be suxiliary to the American Iron and Steel Association. As this question is important to the steady progress of the Republic in wealth and population, we are glad to see that efforts will be made to place it before the people of the West in the proper light. The Government must depend for many years upon the manufactures of the country for the bulk of its revenue, and it should make it a point to protect the fountain head of its financial strength. Auy other policy would weaken us as a nation, and enrich the haughty aristocrats of Earo, e, who hate us and, would repoice to see us ruined financially and politically. Our best buiwark against their malignant intentions, after the breasts of a free, intelligent people, is an adequate Protective Tariff. Let the people resolve that it shall be enacted.

CONSISTENT .- The Rebel organ and Copperhead smut-machine, published in this Borough-in a community which largely loyal, has the most thorough contempt for it

Catholics, having arrayed themselves against the Government of the country during the Rebellion, together with their hostility to the negro, are exciting comment everywhere throughout the country, and particularly in the religious press. Yes, the men who have been in the ranks of our country's enemies; the prosecution of the war, and the restoration of the union of States, are loudest of all in their protestations against the negroes being invested with the rights of freemen, which their loyally to their country has purchased. I would say if the right of suffrage is to be withheld from any body of men, let i. be withheld from (not Copper-heads, that is too mild a term.) northern rebels, who for four years have not giver, the brave defenders of our country one word of encouragement; men who have flocked together, forming a strong, powerful, mighty and traitorous organization, having for their object the embarrassment of the Administration, unlawful resist-ance to the draft, and the raising of a counter-rebellion in the North to co-operate with their brethren, the reb-els in arms.
