POTTSVILLE, PA. DIEUM & SUELL'S NEW COMBINATION COAL SCREENS The undersigned take pleasure in announcing to Coal Operators and others, that they are manufacturing a new COAL SCREEN of their invention, which they operators and others, that they are manufacturing a new COAL SCREEN of their invention, which they will guarantee to wear twice as long, and do its work, better than any crimped wire Screen in use. The segments turned out by us can be bent to any circle required. We also guarantee that the mesh will always retain its original wise until entirely worn out. In the crimped wire Screens the meshes frequently slip, and loss the proper mesh, before the Screen is half worn out. We manufacture any street mesh of our New Combination Screen, used in the trade.

If Mr. Diehm, who was associated with Mr. Beacham in the business of manufacturing Screens, at Norwegian and Railroad streets. Pottsville, having dissolved partnership, and disposed of his interest, has removed to Railroad street, in the roar of D. Esterly's Hardware Store, Centre Street, and associated with him in the manufacture of their new Coal Screens of all descriptions, Mr. Jasper Snell. He solicits a continuance of the partnership specially bestowed upon him.

WIRE SCREENS. We are also manufacturing a style of Wire Screen by a process different from that used in making crimped wire screens, as good in every respect, to which the attention of Coal Operators is invited.

CONSUMPTION

Testimony of Adam J. Mengle.

WM. Levan & Co.:—In the Spring I was attacked with a bad cough, lightness of breathing, night sweats, and spitting of blood from the lungs. I kept getting worse and worse till I had to give np work. I was so weak loould hardly get along. My cough kept getting worse, and I became very hoarse. I tried every thing and finally commenced to use the Extene. I have used it about two months—the cough, spitting of blood, night sweats and tightness of the chest are gone. I am at my trade again, working as hard as ever. My appetite never was better in my life. I am entirely cured.

ADAM J. MENGLE.

At Whiteman's Shoe Store, Penn St., near Seventh. Reading, December 22, 1864. ASTHMA.

Wu. Levan & Co.—About eight years ago I was attacked with Asthma. It is a family complaint, my mother having died with if. I tieed everything, but of no use. I was so bad with if in the army that I was discharged from the 47th Regiment. Pennsylvania volunteers, and also exempted at Reading, on account of it. I could not walk fifty yards, nor ascend a flight of steps without resting; my heart became discused also from it. I had palpitation and pain. I used four bottles of Extene, and am entirely well, and working at my trade, blacksmithing. Its effects with me were wonderful. Yours, CHARLES A. HENRY, March 3, 1865. Cor. CONSUMPTION.

Mr. Levan & Co.:—In the Spring I was attacked with cough and spliting of blood from the langs, and night sweats, my father, mother, and six brothers and sisters have died with consumption; they all commenced the same as me. My husband had just died, and I was left alone with four small, children; I consulted Mr. Davis, of this city, stating my case and that I was poor. He told me that Cod Liver Oil might cure me, if I wished to try it; and also mentioned the Extene, stating that the proprietors were claiming to cure consumption with it; I bought two bottles of you and am entirely cured of it.

BRONCHITIS.

Certificate of Rev. George Prints of Reading.

Levan & Co.—I have been suffering with cough and soreness of the chest all winter. I am entirely rolieved of the soreness; the cough is much better; the Bronchial tubes were completely elogiced with matter; the Extene has cleaned them out entirely. I have used three bottles, and can condially recommend it for any affection of the chest. GEORGE PRINTZ, March 18, 1865.

I have also been troubled for a number of years with a very sore throat so that I was obliged to give up singing in church, for I had lost my voice. I had great trouble in my head, terrible noises, simost to craziness. My head felt numb and stupid, and was a source of constant trouble to me.

I tried every remedy that could be thought of. I went to surists, but as they wanted to use instruments, I would have nothing to do with them. About one monthr-since, I obtained Mrs. M. G. Brown's Metaphysical Discovery, and used it according to the directions on the bottles. And the result is that the bearing of both ears is perfectly restored, so that I can hear as well as any man. The great trouble in my head is entirely gone. My head feels perfectly easy and at rest. My throat, which was so diseased, is entirely curad, and I have recovered my voice again. I would not take one thousand doltars for the benefit I have received in the use of Mrs. Brown's Metaphysical Discovery.

CATARRH OF THIRTY YEARS STANDING CURED. I. S. C. Chase, of Cambridgeport, do certify that I have been troubled with a bad catarrh for nuwards of thirty years. I obtained Mrs. M. G. Brown's Metaphysical Discovery, and in ten minutes after using it found relief that I never found before. I have used the medicine faithfully, and I believe that it went to the poot of my disease, and I feel as if catarrh was cradicated from my system, the foul effects of said disease having ceased. My wife also has been suffering from a complication of diseases. On using the Discovery, clotted blood and matter rushed from her head, and she found immediate relief, and has been gaining her general health ever since. Under these circumstances I heartify recommend the Metaphysical Discovery to all who suffer.

Certificate of Mr. J. P. LITCH, of Charlestown, Math.
This is to certify that mue weeks since I was attacked with Neuralgia, in the most violent form. Several physicians were applied to, who did all they could to relieve me, but to no purpose. Every patent medicine and remedy that could be found, were applied without effect. My face was poulticed and handaged in order to find relief. Since the Neuralgia attacked me I lost twenty-seven pounds of flesh. In this state a friend of mine recommended me to try Mrs. M. G. Brown's Metaphysical Discovery, as it had cured a friend of his of very bad eyes which had bailled the skill of the most eminent physicians.

Consequently I went to Mrs. M. G. Brown's office.

y bad eyes , which had bailled the skill of the aminent physicians.

Consequently I went to Mrs. M. G. Brown's office, and obtained her Metaphysical Discovery, on Saturday the nineteenth instant. I applied it at four o'clock in the afternoon. The result was that Neuralgia subsided. Almost immediately I felt relief. I slept well, without any populate as before; and at the time of giving this certificate, the 21st inst., I consider myself delivered of my disease, and recommend the Metaphysical Discoverage. Read the following Cretificate, handed to Mrs. M. G. Brown, of 410 Arch Street, by Rev. P. S. Henson, pastor of Broad Street Baptist Church:

Philadelphia, October 17, 1882.

From injuries received in my right eye, when a boy, a chropic inflammation had been produced, in consequence of which I suffered constant martrydom. Every moment of my waking life was embittered, and I was frequently unable to sleep at night.

A variety of remedies had been resorted to without success, and I entertained the purpose, as a last resort, of having the ball taken out of the socket, in the hope of thus finding relief.

TRAMP, TRAMP, TRAMP. In the prison cell I sit.
Thinking, mother, dear of you,
And our bright and happy home so far away,
And the tears they fill my eyes
Spite of all that I can do,
Tho' I try to cheer my comrades and be gay.
Crooks— Chosus—Champ, tramp, the boys are marching,
O cheer up comrades they will come;
And beneath the starry flag
We shall breathe the air again.
Of the freeland in our own beloved home

In the battle front we stood
Where their fiercest charge they made,
And they swept us off a hundred men or more,
But before we reached their lines,
They were beaten back dismayed,
And we heard the cry of vict'ry o'er and o'er.

So within the prison cell,
We are waiting for the day
That shall come to open wide the iron door,
And the bollow eyes grow bright,
And the poor heart almost gay,
As we think of seeing home and friends once more. MR. COOKE AND HIS PAMPHLET.

An ancient writer, whose language is even now dead to the common sight of men, once wrote these words. "It is a pleasure to stand upon the shore, and to see ships tossed upon the sea; a pleasure to stand in the window the sea; a pleasure to stand in the window of a castle, and to see a buttle, and the adventurers thereof, below; but no pleasure is comparable to the standing upon the vantage ground of truth, and to see the errors, and wanderings, and mists, and tempests, in the valuebelow." Something of this must be felt by Mr. Jay Cooke, as he sees the comments excited by the publication now before the world prepared by Samuel Wilkinson, but bearing the great financier's sanction. It is not often the lot of man to be the first to stand up and declare a truth; nor is it given to the multitude to be able to see truth when it comes to them. This is beautifully illustrated in our recent history. When Mr. Sumner said, ten years ago, that freedom was national and slavery sectional, all the world but Massachusetts laughed; for Slavery set upon a throne and gave evidences of ery sat upon a throne, and gave evidences of power, and declared that her scepter should be borne to Bunker Hill. When Mr. Doug las anticipated universal suffrage by declaring in tayor of popular sovereignty, men did not see that truth was speaking through the lips of the politician and making itself manifest amid many false surroundings. Truth is not always agreeable to men who have found error pleasant—but in the end it reigns. We might as well call the dead from the grave and bid them speak to us as to attempt the re-establishment of slavery in America, or serfdom in Russis, or the reign of Louis XIV.

in France, or the corn laws in England. And yet, in this day, all these issues were living elements of Society.

When the war was in its deepest gloom, There is only one root in the human body which gives birth to and sustains the life of disease. No matter what name is given to disease; no matter where or how it is located in the system; no matter the where or how it is located in the system; no matter how long standing, or whether it is hereditary or not. I might call the disease which the body is subject to from ignorance of the first cause. Legion. But understand and remember that I do not treat disease; I treat the cause. Remember there is but one cause. Everything overlying that is an effect. Were I to treat effects, I should only be hastening the patients to their long resting place in the lone church-yard, where they are now carried in thousands daily.

When the war was in its deepest gloom, and we were in the high agony of national effort, it became necessary to ask our people to accept the faith of the government as the ownering. The people gave this money, and, it became their "national debt." In other words, the government accepted the nation's confidence, as expressed in every way, and debt" was the most potent element of war, those who were in arms against us, and all those who were in arms against us, and all who sympathized with them, took every means to destroy the credit upon which it was based. In every political campaign, men were found willing to argue that these obligations were unjust and unnatural—that they oppressed the poor, and were a fraud upon mankind in this, that they could never be paid. We know the effect of this oppo terprises to ridicule and scorn, and great journals like the London Times gravely argued that, of all the fools then cursing America with their folly, none were greater than the liead of our financial system, Mr. Secretary Chase. Our obligations were treated rudely. Men did not want the note-of-hand of the fool ridden republic. If they did take it, it was as something capricious—uncertain -not what it claimed to be, and only acceptable with a heavy discount. Our friends usustantly expressed, had some importance, and, instead of standing up manfully and saying,

"This note of obligation, signed by the Unted States of America, represents every stone and stick, every farm and workshop, every railroad and canal, everything we have of wealth or convertible into wealth in these, broad States," they pleaded for it, and entreated that it should not be dishonored, and implored men of commerce and enterprise not to refuse it, and made long, patient, honest arguments to show that it could never be repudiated. "Gentlemen," said the great Napoleon, as he stood on the deck of a man-ofwar, in the Mediterraneau, looking at the glories of an Italian night, and listening to a

From constant kneeling and entreating, and dreading, the war left us burdened with a great error. We had incurred a great debt—thousands of millions—and were, therefore, so we reasoned, by the fact of this debt, behind the world in the race of prosperity.— Because our obligations were in the hands imagined we were, to the amount of these obligations, poorer than England or France; yea, even Mexico and Central America, and the Latin republics around the Equator. And the Worldly-Wisemen believed that, after all, there was not much value in our victo ries, and that the capture of Lee was little more than a Fourth of July triumph, for it left us so wretchedly poor and involved that we might as well be dead as lead the life of a sponging-house victim. Why not? Had we not all been on our knees, begging the world to believe that we were not going to chest.

A REMARKABLE CURE OF BLINDNESS.

Canisloga, C. W., July 23, 1864—Mrs. M. G. Brown:

Dear Madame:—I have been quite blind in my right eye for seven years. I have been to several doctors, whom I heard could restore my eyesight, but they never done me any good. I spent large sums of money in travelling to where I heard there were doctors who could benefit me, but none of them could do me any good. I shought my case hopeless, multi told by a friend you could relieve me. I sent by a friend and procured your "Metaphysical Discovery," and in twenty-four hours after the first treatment, I could see quite distinctly. I am very thankful for my deliverance.

I remain yours, truly,

While ending his work, Mr. Cooke his had the courage to speak the truth in reference to the national debt. It is perhaps, an unfortunate selection of terms to speak of the national debt as a "national blessing"—unfortunate in this, that it does not fu'lly express the idea conveyed by Mr. Cooke in his remarkable pamplilet. A blessing implies something bestowed upon us by a superior power—a gift, a reward. a means of happiness, deserved or undeserved. The national debt is a mere figure of speech in the sense in which the money of borrower of lender is concerned. It is national responsibility—national stewardship—the mobilization of national labor. Every dollar of the national debt represents so much labor performed; and the accruing interest is only the wages for the performance of labor. It represents national confidence and tredit—establish the mere max that England did not regard her debt as a solemn frust and responsibility, and the consols of Great Britain might be purchased by any enterprising trunk—maker for twenty pounds. In themselves they are gaily decorated sheets of paper. In the fact that they represent our government, they are, as Mr. Wilkeson so felicitously expresses it, a "first mortgage upon the United States of America." We might have stumbled along without incurring these obligations; but in their stead, we should have had obligations countersigned by the officers of Jefferson Davis. We might have surrendered our war; and avoided the purchase of cannon, and arms, and food for arm bly affected the foreign demand or its nurchase of cannon, and arms, and food for arm bly affected the foreign demand or its nurchase. chase of cannon, and arms, and food for armes; but we should have been as Mexico and the Latin republics.
