If that party had the disposition to save the peckets of our people from robbery, the County Comnissioners would have applied—as we urged them to do-st the last session of the Legislature for a law to provide a salary for the Treasurer, in place of permitting him to charge and receive $18,000 a year-more than four times what is paid to the Governor of the State. This is in itself a gross outrage, which should receive at the polls in October next a rebuke from the fleeced tax-payers of the County. POTTSVILLE, PA.

SATURDAY, JULY 99, 1865.

There in the United States a large body of men their numbers increasing as we may be continued, who are as ignorant and as uneducated as the Irish Oatholics. But they have no common religious faith, nor does the confessional put them and their vectors in the power of any man or any prieschood. There are four millions of them; almost the exact number that there are of Catholics; all hlack, all loyal, and nearly all Protestant. Like the Irish, they show a reast desire and aptitude for intellectual improvement. Without any free school system whatever, their children are counted in free schools by tens of thousands, while in Washington, Norfolk, Richmond, Newbern, wherever Northern philanthropy is willing to teach, thousands of adult blacks, laboring by day, study by night. They are unlike the Catholic Irish, they show a reast desires and aptitude for intellectual improvement. Without any free school system whatever, their children are counted in free schools by tens of thousands, while in Washington, Norfolk, Richmond, Newbern, wherever Northern philanthropy is willing to teach, thousands of adult blacks, laboring by day, study by night. They are unlike the Catholic Irish, they religious aspirations are valuable characteristics. In persistency of labor, for stern and rugged with, the Irish are supplement of the more beartiful qualities of humanity, the blacks. But the Christian especially notes the fact that the Irish are all Catholic, all hostile to the Bable, all haters of Protestantism, while the blacks have an intense desire to read the Word of God, are nearly all Protestant, and all followers of him who came to let the oppressed go free.

There im the United States a large body of men their numbers are not as the power of the more beartiful qualities of humanity, the Catholic of the Bable, all haters of Protestantism, while in the United States a large body of men in the qualities lacking in the other. the other. To one the franchise is granted from his birth, or after a temporary residence. The other must rise from poverty to be worth $250 before he can vote in New York. In States west and south of New York he cannot vote at all. Now, if it is desirable to meet the positive Catholic element is sufficient and cannot with the cannot be considered. Now, if it is desirable to meet the positive cattled lice element in politics or religion by one equally positive in another direction, we have but to clothe the black with the same political power we have already given the white. True, the black is uncultivated and ignorant; but so is the Irish. In all our political debates on this question, we remember no argument against a black voter that is not equally adverse to an Irish one. And the black voter has these advantages; his voter that is not equally adverse to an Irish one. And the black voter has these advantages: his instincts are on the side of freedom and of Protestantism; he is more susceptible of cultivation, and he is not the tool of priest or layman. The gift of franchise to the black insures the perpetuity of free education and religion in our land. Give the black man a vote, and every Southern State will be loyal, every Northern State true to freedom. Refuse him the franchise, and the rebellion will not be ended with the generation

THE CROPS - The July report of Commissioner Newton, of the Agricultural Bureau of the Interior Department, represents the present prospects of the various grain crops, as well as the potatoe, throughout the country, to be highly favorable. The wheat yield is very abundant, though the quality of the grain is not quite equal to that of last year. It is believed that there is a sufficiency to meet all export demands, which late advices from Europe indicate will be large. The condition of the corn crop is favorable, and of the beetle kind, has made its appearance among the potatoes; but, notwithstanding the recent weather has been so favorable that the prospect of a good yield is promising.

The grave of the mother of our late President is located in Sponcer County, Indiana, near the little village of Gautiville, embowered amid the majestic forces trees of the, country. There is neither headstone nor monument to denote the neither headstone nor monument to denote the sacred spot, and the place, where the remains he buried is an unfrequented locality, or compara-tively so. A short time before his death, Mr. Linsively so. A short time before his death, Mr. Lincoln wrote a letter, expressing his intention to visit the grave this summer, and cause a suitable monument to be erected; and in this letter (to a rriend) he expressed the regret that the business care of life had so long compelled him to postpone this duty. The father and mother of Mr.
Lincoln were members of a Baptist Church.
When his mother ded (a widow) no minister could be obtained to attend the funeral, owing to the great distance of the family from any church. be obtained to attend the funeral, owing to the great distance of the family from any church, and the difficulty of traveling at that season of the year. Some six months after the foneral, however, Abraham Lincoln went on foot thirty miles and got a Baptist minister to come and preach his mother's funeral sermon. Beautiful example of fifial love and tender regard! Let sons and daughters take note of it. Every truly great man was first an obedient and loving sor Corr. Home Ecangelist

EDITORS MINERS JOURNAL, -- You are correct in you opinions of the policy or making concessions to appliants of any denomination. It was concession that brought on the late terrible war, and it may bring on brought on the late terrible war, and it may bring on one even more terrible. There have been many concessions made to the Papal powers, that should never have been submitted to by the people, as it was the work of political aspirants. A great error was dismissing the Bible from the Public Schools, for it was a great stumbling block in the way of the Papal church. Continue these concessions, and evil will follow. There is no doubt that there is a fixed idea in the minds of Papalsta, that they are going to rule this country. Let the Press be diligent in observing all political movements, and warn the people of danger.
