

long and bloody four years of war, opposed successfully, secession. We are led involuntarily, to these reflections by the notes of alarm sounded by the loyal papers of the South. It seems that in every section of the South, as soon as the leading rebels are pardoned, they become insolent and arrogant to avowed Union men, and commence oppressing the freedmen. In referring to the rapid increase of rebel papers, and the growing disloyalty arising from nistaken leniency, the Raleigh, (N. C.) Pro- 23 Wednesday, 5 18:6 59 24 Thorsday, 5 18:6 47 25 Felday, 5 20:6 45 gress of July 17, sounds the alarm, in the following appeal to the Administration:

lowing appeal to the Administration:

The fact is, that with the exception of five or six, the whole press of the State shows clearly and unmistakably its sympathy with the rebellion, and its affection for its leaders. These men in North Carolina, who a little over a year ago arrogantly styled themselves "patriots" and property-holders, and who extorted money from a trembling people, whom they had helped to enslave, take courage from the extreme leniency of those in authority, and are starting their organs, here and there for the purpose of making war, covert and Judas-like at first, but eventually and violent, on the Government and those who administer it; and if allowed to go on, and the leaders be pardoned and placed upon a footing with men who are really loyal, the end of the strife and trouble in North Carolina is not yet. We ring these truths in the ears of the authorities at Washington and Raleigh, and appeal to them to save those who are friends of the Government from further rebellion and blood-shed; and we appeal to the loyal people throughout the Stateshould a mistaken leniency grant the mercy of amnesty to the traitors, to show them no favor at the ballot-box.

We must remember the downward steps

this country took years ago when the chain of slavery bound the national limbs; how came that dark, and bloody demon which it was, when, four years ago, it aimed its blow was, when, four years ago, it aimed its blow at the nation's life? In the days when our fathers compromised with it, it was comparitively innocent. The slave was not then the brutally treated chattel that he afterwards be brutally treated chattel that he afterwards became, but would have been fairly pictured as that careless, happy, fiddling being which it has been the delight of slavery's recent defenders to picture.

ties were the only laws it knew, and as the increased from $100 to $1000, the chains tightened around him. As the negro under the ever-widening influence of civilization that the ever-widening country that the ever-widenin became more of a man and less of an animal, harder codes were enacted. Then followed laws against agitating the question of his treedom. In North Carolina, where ouce Benjamin Lundy organized fourteen abolition socicties, no abolitionist's life would have been safe since 1840. In short, slavery, as we knew it in this decade, was a thing that grew, and grew gradually, out of a mild-sceming embryo. "Nettle-roots sting not," observes Lord Bacon; "but let them spring up into nettles, and the hand will suffer that grasps

Deep and important is the lesson for us contained in these facts. Nothing can be more absolutely certain than that the President's recognition of the political caste in the South leaves all the nettle-roots in the ground. Nothing can be more certain than that to leave the power in the Southern States in the hands of the whites, alone, is to ensure a gradual and fatal downward path to Southern socie- of Schuyikill. ty, which will end in an abyss similar to that from which we are—or thought ourselves just emerging. It is as illegal as it is unjust; and to do it, is to say that we have not the simplest means of self-protection. If Con-

GEN. GEARY VS. CUPPERHEADS. - Gen. Geary does not seem to have any sympathy in common with Copperheads. The Harrisburg Telegraph states that a few days ago two prominent Copperheads of that city vielted Gen. Geary at his residence and indulged in the talk so common to men of their charncter. The General quictly listened to them for some time, but finally could stand it no longer, and quite surprised his secession sympathising visitors by informing them that he had hung traitors for saying less than they had against the country, and that unless they left his house at once he would kick them out. They took the hint, and stood not on the order of their going, but went.

sixth Penna. Regiment, has been mustered out after a faithful service of nearly four year's dura-tion. He enlisted Sept 15, 1861, as a private, when only 18 years of age, and rose step by step, o the Majority of his command. He served with to the Majority of his command. He served with his Regiment in South Carolina, an i was with Buffer in his movements on the James, in 1864; cooperating with Gen. Grant, and at Fort Fisher. In March, 1865, Major Moorhead was captured by the rebels and imprisoned for two months until exchanged. His career was highly bonorable in every respect, and we are proud of him as a son of Schwikill

Richards, Esq., who after a residence of some years in this Borough, in the practice of his profession, the law, left in 1858 to practice at the Pittsburg bur, was one of the unfortunate soldiers who fell a victim to rebel cruelty. He was a member of a New York Regiment, and, being gress, which we cannot believe, should allow any State to enter without negro-suffrage, it does not require a prophetic genius to see until within a few days past that he could accertain his fate. Mr. Richards was well known to our citizens as a young man of ability, and of ge-

Convention of the Modern Democracy.—Great was the interest manifested at the delegate cleations of the so-talled democracy on Saturday last, and impossible was it to get a vote in unless solemn outh was taken by the would be voter, that he had voted for McClellan, and that he supthat he had voted for acciental, and that he sub-ported under all circumstances, the Democratic ticket. At the polls of the North-west Ward in this Borough, the distinguished representative in Congress of this District. Alyer Stronge, superin-tended the administration in due form, of the re-On Sunday evening the delegates began to ar-On Sunday evening the delegates began to arrive at the Hotel de Feger, and elevating their heels on the portice of the establishment, entertained the passers by by vehemently discussing the merits of their respective, favorites. To church goers as they passed, the refined language used must have been eminently refresh-On Monday morning at 8 o'clock, Mr. F. W.

On Monday morning at 8 o'clock, Mr. F. W. Hughes delivered a lecture at the Town-Hall, to which the delegates had been invited to listen without money and without price, but to which very few of them did listen, as they were kept away by the ringites and office-brokers, to imbibe tanglefoot oreparatory to the important duties of the day. Mr. Hughes told his andience however, a good many truths in reference to, the character of the men who have been placed in office, year, after year by his party in Schuylkill County. He fully endorsed what has been published repeated by in the columns of the Miners' Journal in reference to the rascality and incompetency of these ly in the columns of the Miners. Journal in ref-erence to the rascality and incompetency of these men. His lecture aside from some twaddle about the tyranny of the Government, and the mission of the Democratic party to save the country, was good, but impotent to effect reform in the management of affairs in this County, by his party.

The Convention met in the Court House at 10

The Convention met in the Court House at 10 o'clock, and organized by electing Major J. M. Wetherill President. He read an address. We heard only the concluding portion. One of, his ideas—quite original in its character—was that the day would come under Democratic auspices; when the country would be as proud of the victories achieved by Stonewall Jackson and Lee, as fether see by Genet and Sterman. We on the when the country would be as prout or ries achieved by Stonewall Jackson and Lee, as of those won by Grant and Sherman. We on the contrary, hope that the day may be far distantivition any great number of our people will commend acts which for awhile imperilled the very existence of the nation, and rendered treason and murder holiday sport. But modern Democracy thinks otherwise, and acts on the principle that the armed enemies of the Government did no wrong, and now that they have been conquered, should, be reinstated in all their old rights and privileges, notwithstanding the fact that they entertain, still a rebellions enpirit. But such is not the opinion of a large majority of the people. Rebellion must and will be entirely crushed; even if another contest should be rendered necessary.
