The undersigned take pleasure in announcing to Coal Operators and others, that they are, manufacturing a new COAL SCREEN of their invention, which they will guarantee to wear twice as long, and do its work better than any crimped wire Screen in use. The segments turned out by us can be bent to any circle required. We also quarantee that the mesh will always retain its original size until entirety worn out. In the crimped wire Screens the meshes frequently slip, and lose the proper mesh, before the Screen is half, worn out. We manufacture any sized mesh of our New Combination Screen, used in the trade.

[Extract of a letter]

Gonnos, Schuylkill Co. Pa. I

Mas. M. G. Brows—Madan:—From the date of my birth (23 years are) I have been afflicted with far stated, and treated it as such, and would obtain a short respite, for from one month to two, when I would Invariably be troubled with a rejectition of it—I esting from one to two months. I then became convinced that it was something more, as I began to feel low spirited, morose and sullen. I also became taciture, tarely speaking unless directly appealed to, and felt as if I were a fineumbrance to myself, and everybody around me. My memory, which was very powerful, began to fall me, so that I could not remember the particulars of any occurrence two days after it happened.

About this time (which was about three years ago) a celebrated Aurist, who was on a professional ton throughout the country, made a stop of a few days where I was then living. I accordingly called upon plaint and the remedy for it.

But I was doomed to disappointment. He told me it was caused by scrofula, but it being of the bone and not of the fiesh. I would be an utter impossibility for human hands or remedies to effect a cire. Yet, I did not despair; I went to others but was told the same. I was beginning then to lose all hopes, when chance placed one of your advertisements under my eye. I then became hopeful and resolved not to rest utill had tried your remedies. I have tried them and with the following results:

My memory is improving—my former lively spirite the following results:

My memory is improving—my former lively spirite and administrative, of the State governments;

the following results:

My memory is improving—my former lively spirits have returned. Formerly, niy sleep was broken and disturbed; and Lalways arose with a very bad headache; but now my sleep is regular and sound, and I headache.

These are the happy results so far, through the use of your Mctaphysical Discovery—and I trust by the blessing of God, and continuance of its use, to be a cured man.

FATHER IS COMING. The clock is on the stroke of six,

The father's work is done;
Sweep up the hearth, and mend the fire,
And put the kettle on.

The wild night-wind is blowing cold,

Tis dreary crossing over the wold. He is coming o'er the wold apace, He is stronger than the storm: He does not feel the cold, not he, His heart it is so warm.

He makes all toil, all hardship light-Would all nien were the same—so ready to be pleased, so kind,
So very slow to blame!
Polks need not be unkind, austere,
For love bath readier will than fear. Nay, do not close the shutters, child; or father's heart is stout and true is ever human bosom knew.

For far along the faue
The little window looks, and he Can see it shining plain
I've heard him say he loves to mark
The cheerful firelight through the dark. And we'll do all that father likes, His wishes are so few,
Would they were more! that every hour
Some wish of his I knew!
I'm sure it makes a happy day
When I can please him any way.

I know he's coming by this sign—
The baby's almost wild:
See how he laughs, and crows, and stares—
Heaven bless the merry child!
He's father's self in face and limb, and fathers heart is strong in him. Hark! hark! I hear his footsteps now He's through the garden gate, Run, little Bess, and ope the door, And do not let him wait.

Shout, haby, shout! and clap thy hands, For father on the threshold stands.

NEGRO SUFFRAGE IN THE SOUTH. The following letter on this subject is from the celebrated John Stuart Mill, the English polltical economist. It is a strong argument; presents the question in a clear light, and will be read by all reflecting men with in-terest. A gentleman of Ohio sent the distinguished writer the speech of General Cox, the Republican candidate for Governor of that State, in which he took ground in favor of separating the two races in the South, giving the negroes exclusive control of certain States, and the following rejoinder was made in answer to that letter: BLACKHEASH PARK, KENR, Sept. 1, 1865.

DEAR SIR: I am sincerely obliged to you for giving me an opportunity of reading the letter of General Cox, and your excellent paper in reply.

You ask me for an opinion. I should hesitate very long before obtruding upon any American, and still more upon the American public, any mere opinion of mine respecting their internal concerns.

Ruf it is the concerns. their internal concerns: But it is the concern of all mankind almost as much as of the United States, that the conquests achieved the terrible disaster. Many never rally from this mnutural and violent mode of treatment, some have lost their reason. God's plan is simple and easily inderstood: they that run may read.

THE COUNTY INSTITUTE. As the time fixed for the convening of the County Institute is fast approaching, we feel tour duty to say a few words in reference to it. Every pains has been taken by the executive committee to get up a programme that will make the sessions of the Institute both instructive and interesting. Our indefatigable County Superintendent is laboring why no community, composed exclusively or principally of those who have been engaged in the rebellion, is fit to have a voice in Congress. Of course the States have to be read-mitted; to keep them out and govern them as subjects would be in contradiction to all the principles of the American or any other hard to do everything in his power to make it a complete success. Now we sincerely hope that the teachers, directors, and friends of education in the County will come to free constitution. But the future history of America, perhaps for ages to come, depends (I cannot but think) upon you requiring our aid and assist us in making this the best Institute ever held in the County. The dithem, before admission, to give guarantees to freedom, by admixture with fellow-citizens rectors in many districts in the County, give the teachers the time to attend the Institute, whose interests and feelings are in unison with justice, and with the principles of the free States. Migration from the North will and this year we hope to see this imitated by the directors in the whole County. The Sudo this in time and in part, but only negro suffrage can do it sufficiently. There is one class of teachers in this County that take little or no part in our Institute. We allude to the feachers of private schools. The Institute is intended for all the teachers, and we hope this year to see a large number of them present. The committee have concluded to hold the Institute in this Borough, and we hope to see our citizens attend both day and evening sessions. The evening sessions will be held in the university won honors for his classics and silver cups for his boating. He was be-ginning in earnest the work of an evangelist and hooting, and discharging volleys of sods and other missiles. Finding remonstrance vain, he adopted another course on the Wednesday evening in the week before I heard the story. Making a stand in the middle of the road, at the entrance of the hamlet, just as the storm arose, and looking the savages in the face, he addressed them thus in a firm; quiet voice, which commanded their attention: "My good fellows, I have borne this patiently for ome time, but now I must put a stop to it; and I'll do it in your own way. Choose your best man, and we'll fight it out. If I best, you'll give up, you know." They looked at him unbelievingly; but throwing his coat on a bush, he added, "I am in earnest; send your man." The ruffians laid their heads to gether; and then a burly giant stepped forth and stripped, and made a furious dash at his reverend challenger, who quietly parried the with a more cautious energy: But at once a stomacher stretched him on the road.

There will be class drills and other exercises during the day. The writer, a lady in a distant country, narrated that there had lately come into the next parish a new vicar—a very fine young man, who at school had no superior either in Greek or in his boxing, and who at the university won honors for his classics. This crime is aggravated by the infamous attack made upon the distinguished statesman confined to his bed of suffering, and who, wounded also in his most cherished affecions, seems to leave us little hope of seeing him recover from his physical and mental an-

In the autumn of 1857 I spent a few days
