facts because an effort has been made by the Copperhead papers to create the impression that it is the Republican party that has or ganized the Free Trade League. This is not true. We do not know of a single paper now adhering to the Republican party, that advocates free trade, while nearly all the Copperhead and so called Democratic papers support that policy. This is admitted by the World, the leading Copperhead paper in New York, as the following extract from that paper of November 17th, shows:

We notice the movement here initiated first: be cause we think it timely, and wish it success; and sec ondy, because the "Free Trade League" springs up outside the Democratic party; which is, and always has been, the great free trade organization of the country.

The formation of this "Free Trade League," which, if euccessful, will have its affiliated societies all over the country is a significant sign of the times. It proves that the tendencies of the policic mind run parallel to the policy of the Democratic party. There can be no doubt that the free trade doctrines are destined to tri-nmph. The party that champions them is the party of the luture.

say that they have seen it, assert most positively that it has followed them up the road which runs that night. In the old coach shop in Market street, recently, two workinen were employed with coat oil lamps. They (the lamps) were full of oil and the wicks well trimingd. One of the work-men was up, the other down stairs. Suddenly, without apparent cause, both lamps were extin-guished precisely at the same moment. This we have from the fips of one of the workmen. As this is some distance from the spot where the gloost is seen to walk, we can only attribute this inviterious coscission business to the fact that
