THE DEPARTMENT REPORTS. It is impossible for a newspaper with lim-Tred space such as ours, to give these interesting reports at length. They abound with information of moment, which anould be laid before the people. We should like to see them published in book form, not only in English but in German, and distributed throughout the length and breadth of the

Mr. McCulloch, the Secretary of the Treasury, has by his report, increased the confidence which the public previously reposed in him. It is true that he might with great propriety, have dwelt upon the great importance of protecting our industry and preventing a ruinous influx of foreign goods, and that his theory of finance may elicit criticism from those who hold opposite opinions, but it would be difficult to find a better man-one more honestly devoted to the interests of the people of the United States-to fill the important post of Secretary of the Treasury. The able Secretary of War after giving interesting details of military operations, etc., been countenanced sums up the causes which contributed to overthrow the rebellion, "besides the signal success vouchsafed to our arms." They are so striking that we direct especial attention to them. The Secretary says that among

A The result of the presidential election of 1864, ex-erted an important influence upon the war. Intercepted letters and despirates between the rebel leaders show-ed that their hopes of success rested greatly upon the presidential election. If the Union party prevailed, the prosecution of the war intil the national authority about be restored appeared inevitable, and the rebel cause desperate. Even on the battle-field the influence of the election was felt. The overwhelming voice of the period arting in a hopeless cause. D The faith of the presidential election encouraged the heroic daring of our own troops, and dismayed those who were fighting in a hopeless cause. D The faith of the people in the unitional sutcess, as multised by their support of the groeple who ad-ranced their money ou government credit. While thousands upon thousands of brave men filed the ranks of the army, millions of money were required for the trasaury. These were furnished by the respone, who ad-ranced their money ou government securities, and free-ly staked their fortunes for the national defonce. are admirable. They show that he has thought much upon a judicious application of means to the end to enable the government not only to meet all its pecuniary obligations

Abandoning all hope of securing needed legislation, our tax-payers should turn their attention to having a vigilant, active agent at Harrisburg, who will watch every bill affecting the inter-ests of this County, which is introduced, and keep our people posted, so that iniquitous legislation may be defeated. Pay a competent man a fair salary for the session, and it will be the means of saving thousands to our neople. It is useless to call upon any of the officials in this County, of the so called Democracy, to do their duty. We urged the Commissioners last Winter to have a bill passed, giving the Treasurer a salary, instead of permitting him to charge a per centage for his services, by which he received an annual compensation equal to the pay of the President of the United States. Instead of doing it, they busied themselves only in obtaining an increase of their own salaries, and capped the climax by voting themselves extra compensation. All of which came out of the pockets of the people. In no other County in the State did the Commissioners attempt such extortion The private sale of the Poor-house lands was another outrage, which should never have

Comptroller says : How long this encouraging state of affairs in connection with the Post Office Department, will last, it is difficult to predict. But we believe that if due care is taken in establishing only necessary routes in the South, and if the pernicious system of carrying merchandise in the mails should be abolished, the department will not only show annually, a handsome surplus, but the rates of postage could be reduced. There are two prominent evils connected with the system of carrying merchan-

The existing financial condition of the nation obri-ously requires that all our national resources, and the product of every industrial pursuit should contribute to the payment of the national debt. The wisdom of Con-gress must decide whether the public interest would be better promoted by a sale in fee of these mineral lands, or by raising a revenue from their annual product. The impolicy of suffering them to remain in their pre-sent condition, without any species of legislation eggi-lating or defining the rights of the partices in interest, must be apparent to all. There are many other interesting points in these reports which we would like to partice ularize, but our space forbids. Congress would do well to authorize the publication for general distribution of all the reports, in order that the people might read and thor-onghly understand all of the weighty ma tter pressing for action.
