The law imposes a sax of 5 per cost-on the printed book and s tax of 3 per cent, on the paper, 6 per cent, on the ink, 6 per cent, on the leather used for binding, and other materant on the leather used for building, and other maker. Is so used. All cloths are taxed six per cent., and the menta made therefrom, are taxed again six per cent. be same in trme of leather, and the articles made referom. By the Art of March 8, 1833, it was provided that there ould be deduced from the duties assessed upon Rail and Cars, any duies which had been assessed and id on car wheels. The same act provided that cast-or of all descriptions a wheen a stored upon Rail d cars, any duies which had been assessed and id on car wheels. The same act provided that cast-or of all descriptions a wheen and cars.

Neither of these privileges are re-inverted in, or re-enacted by the Act of June 80, 1864, or the Amendatory Act of March 3, 1865. It has not been the practice of this office to multiply parts, upon which to assess a separate and independent tax: but only to impose the tax, in cases where the making of such parts has become a speciality, and the parts themselves are well-known articles of trade and commerce.

parts themselves are well known articles of trade and commerce. Such articles as nalls, spikes, rivets, bolts, nuts, washers, spindles, screyrs, tabes, pines, springs, axles, tites, cir, wheels and castings of all descriptions, ex-ceeding ten pounds in weight, are taxable, either, by express provision and by name, or nuder the general provision as manifactures not otherwise provided for. Many of these articles, with others not named, are used or consumed in the manufacture and in the repairs of cars, locomotives, &c., and there is no provision of law, in citier case, in asserting the tax on a new car, engine or boller, or on a repaired car, &c., for deduc-ing the tax paid opion these parts of materials. And the law further provides, that when a producer or manifacturer base or consumes any articles, &c., which, if removed for sale, would be liable to tarathon, he shall be assessed on the salable value of the article spixed.

he shall be assessed on the satable value of the article o used. A boiler builder, purchases boiler-iron, castings, tubes, rivets, dcc. all of which have been previously assessed and a tax paid thereon, and builds a boiler, re-turns the same to the Assessor, and pays 6 per cent tax on the entire value. The law allows him no deductions. Suppose a railroad, company to build their own en-gines and boilers, and, instead of purchasing iron, cast-ines, tubes, nuts, dcc, they roll their own iron, make their own integy boils, rivers, castings, dcc., what is the company's inability under the present Excise law f it is to return and per tax on all the materials they have manufactured and gaed, and then return the finish-ed boiler at its market value.

From Monday's issue of the TRIBUNE WO copy the following, which we commend to the serious consideration of workingmen and the whole business community: The cost of from in dollars and cents depends upon the wages paid for the labor which produces it. The contrast between British and American, wages in the production of rails, is presented at a glance in the folproduction of rais, is pulse lowing tables is60, 1864, 1865, is ton, is day, is ton, is day, is ton is day. Wagen of Ame rican puddlers $3 04 $1 52 $6 49 $3 24 $6 54 $3 27 Wages of Brit ages of Drit-a juddlers, 1 20 60 1 68 84 1 80 98

Wages of Brit-ish juddlers, 1 20 60 1 68 64 1 80 98 The question of the protection of American industry, which the selfashness of British capitalists and mer-chants, and the perifdy of the American industry, which the selfashness of British capitalists and mer-chants, and the perifdy of the American industry, which the selfashness of British capitalists and mer-chants, and the perifdy of the American tools whom they have hired to advocate Free Trade, have Again thrast upon our legislation and our politics, surely should be instantly decided, so far as ircs is concerned, by the simple exhibit of figures. There are $80 of wages in every ton of American rails. That portion of the price of a ton of marketed American iron which stands for the wages of labor rep-resents district.school education. Iresh and wholesome food, good and handsome clothing, the homesteaid, an-limited freedom of movement and change of occupa-tion, participation in Manicipal, State, and Nátionat government, with a prospect of confortable old age, dividing accumulated earnings at last with blessings among prosperous children. There are $20 of wages in every ton of British rails. That portion of the price of a ton of imported from which stands for the wages of labor represents gross and enforced ignorance, coarse lood mean and insuffi-cient clothing, political nullity, serfdom for life in a poor-house, and a paper's barial by the parish. Brithe Free Trade purposes to drag down American from workmen from their hight of freedom and well-being, to wrestle for existence with the Staffordshire and Weikh slaves who sell their labor for the sheer means to keep sonil and hody together. When crimes against country get traly defined, this crime will be called trason.

Senator Connell remarked today, that they would send on this day (the 14th of February, St. Valentines, day) a Valentine to every laxpayer of Pennsylvania, reteoring them from the payment of State taxes on real estate and they have fulfilled that promise by passing a bill finally, this day, for that purpose. Hereafter all real estate is exempt from taxation for State purposes. The bill, as passed by both houses, rends as follows: Stornow 1. MINE INSPECTION .- There can be no ques ion that a period has arrived in the mining history of this Region, when the appointment of one or more inspectors of mines, is neces cary and desirable. We observe that a bill was introduced this week into the Legislature with this object in view. We have not seen its provisions, and therefore, cannot speak of its merits and demerits. We might remark however, that so important a matter, affecting as it would when adopted, mining economy in this Region, should not be finally acted upon, until all interested have had an opportunity of seeing what the provisions of the act are. The bill should be carefully drawn up, and approved by those who know exactly what is wanted here to protect life and property in connection with working

The flags over all the public buildings were at half mast, and busi- ness in the city was pretty generally suspend- ed. The proceedings took place in the half of the House of Representatives. The Presi- dent and Cabinet, Diplomatic Corps, Senstors and Representatives. Governors of several States, Lieutenant General Grant and a num- ber of army and navy officers were present. Rev. Dr. Boynton offered prayer, and then Hon. Lafayette S. Foster, President protem. of the Senste, made a brief address, introdu- cing Hon. George Brancrot, the orstor of the day, who then delivered the memorial address. This oration is attracting much at- tention, and will probably, be read by more persona in this and foreign countries than any other of modern times. We will publish it	Copperheads to get the representatives of the unrepentant traitors in o Congress, that they may through their assistance, break down our Protective Tariff. The London Mining Journal and other English papers, express the greatest sympathy with the ef- fort of these people to get back into power, for they know that they can get Free Trade only by their return to governing the coun- try. As the Copperhead papers contain no articles favoring Protection, the connection in the interest of the British manufacturers is plain. Workingmen, are you willing to assist in bringing back red-handed traitors into power, and in closing your workshops and mines? Think 1 Ma.
