PREMIUMS. On January 5th, 1867, the MINERS JOURNAL Debt paying interest, will enter upon its Forty-third Volume, and Thirtyseventh since it came into the hands of the present publisher.
The Miners' Journal is the recognized organ of the Coal Trade of the United States. It is now the LARGEST PAPER PUBLISHED IN PENNSYLVANIA, and but three or four in the country exceed it in size. Its circulation never was so large as at this time, and its subscriptio list has doubled within the last five years, and is daily receiving accessions. With, we think, but a single ex ception, and that paper has but about a hundred more, it has the largest circulation of any paper published in Pennsylvania, out of Philadelphia and Pittsburg. It is the only paper in this section of the State that h taxed on its advertising receipts, under the law applic able to papers having over two thousand circulation Its circulation now reaches nearly FOUR THOUSAND. The Government tax last year on our advertising was $150 88. We aliade to these facts to show that our extended circulation, including, as it does, many thous ands of readers, is appreciated by advertisers, and that they make liberal use of our columns. Our course in the past needs no comment on our part. It is well known. Wherever the right most nce led a soldier, we have endeavored to wage the good fight. . Human Progress, Freedom and Enlightenn have been the impelling motives in our course, not petty partizan aims. We stood firmly by Freedom during the darkest period of the Slaveholders: Rehellion. We have combated the attempted usurpation of a faithless President, and our best energies shall be directed in the future, to secure the full and complete triumph of equal rights to all classes of freemen. In every department of this paper we shall endeavor unceasingly and untiringly, to maintain its character as a FIRST CLASS JOURNAL The following departments will receive full and careful attention from the editors, in the new Volume: THE STATE OF THE COAL TRADE. A resolution of inquiry relative to the withdrawal of the French troops from Mexicowas objected to and went over. Mr. Sherman presented a bill to prevent the illevial provides that no money shall be paid to any person nominated for any office, rejected by the Senate, and subsequently reappointed by the President, and prescribes penalties to be imposed on any person who enters upon the duties of an office after such rejection, and upon any accounting officer who may pay claims of such appointecs for selary of the Treasury was presented.

HOUSE.—Three members from Tennessee and three from Kentocky were sworn in. Mr. Eliot introduced a bill to repeal the act of 1862, which authorizes the President to grant pardon and amnesty to certain persons who have participated in the rebellion. Obj. ction was made, but the rules were suspended and the bill was passed by a vote of 111 yeas to 29 nays. The Secretary of State was directed to present copies of all correspondence relative to the discovery of John H. Surratt. Mr. Boutwell offered a bill to fix the time for the regular meeting of Congress—providing for three sends of the Committee. Mr. Stevense introduced a bill to create and organize a Department of Internal Revenue. Referred to the Judiciary Committee. Mr. Stevense introduced a bill providing that in all instances of appointments to office by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, the power of removal shall be Alike the outrages perpetrated upon the loyal millions of the South and the sufferings of the ignorant populace who persecute them, demand prompt and stringent remedies. Never before have the Southern people been so accursed with reckless and revengeful leaders who, while proclaiming the starvation and the poverty of the multiluced a bill to repeal the increas the starvation and the poverty of the multitudes they led into the rebellion, defy the people who alone can relieve and rescue these multitudes, and allow the innocent and unoffending friends of the Government to be hunted down like so many wild beasts. The disfranchisement of these leaders must not only be insisted upon, according to the third section of the constitutional amendment, but the government of the seceded States must be placed in the hands of loyal men, and no representation allowed in the National Legislature until republican institutions have been fashioned for the permanent protection of the interests and rights of all. When this isdone, and not till then, will we insure prosperty and peace in the South.

The Pacific Railroad.—It is predicted that in four years by means of this road we shall have uninterrupted communication with San Francisco. The eastern branch of the road is now constructed to Fort Riley, 1500 miles distant from Philadelphia, and it is said to be graded sixty miles beyond that point. It is expected that in little more than a year it will be opened to Denyer City, the capital of Colorado, 2000 miles from the Delaware river, and distant from Salt Lake City only 403 of Colorado, 2000 miles from the Delaware river, and distant from Salt Lake City only 403 miles, where the California section, or western division of this mighty highway begins and which is now being built as rapidly as the resources of the capitalists will allow.—

A discussion ensued upon a reference of the bill and several amendments were offered. Finally the bill and several amendme and which is now being built as rapidly as the resources of the capitalists will allow.

As regards the western end of the road, it is already built and in operation from San Francisco to within twelve miles of the sum mit of the Sierra Nevada range of mountains. But these twelve miles are the heaviest on the route, and will take a great deal of work to finish them. Meantime the work east of the summit will be progressing, so that when the summit is reached the road can be opened through to Virginia City, in Nevada territory.

CAPTURE OF JOHN H. SURRATT.—Mr. Hall, United States Consul at Alexandria, Egypt, telegraphs to Mr. Seward that he has arrested John H. Surratt, one of President Lincoln's assassins. It is said our Government, as long ago as last where, had information that Surratt had gone to Enrope. The person who communicated the facts conversed with him during the voyage across the Atlantic, and also reported that Surratt, believing that he was far removed from danger, was free and outspoken about his connection.

A bill fixing the first Monday in November as the day for the election of members of Congress was introduced, and was referred to the Committee ou Elections. Mr. Miller introduced a bill granting pensions to the soldiers of 1812. Mr. Eliot proposed the appointment of a committee of three to investigate the New Orleans riots. Agreed to. The Judiciary Committee was instructed to inquire into the expediency of passing a law to provide more perfectly for the punishment of bribery at electious, and to make any person ineligible to office who shall be found guilty of purchasing votes. Several resolutions of instruction to committees were adopted. Mr. Meyers offered a resolution requesting the President to communicate the names of all persons reappointed by him after rejection by the Senate, etc.; adopted. Mr. Schenk's bill fixing the time for the regular meetings of Congress was taken up, and was debated by Messrs. Schenk, Bingham, Morrill, Dawes, Garfield, Le Blond, and others. Several amendments were offered, but were not finally acted upon. Adjourned until murder of the lamented Lincoln, this arrest of Surratt will lead to an investigation in the matter. Mr. Boutwell of Massachusetts a member of the House, is preparing to enter duct of Andrew Johnson. This investiga tion will probably involve complicity with the massacre of New Orleans on the 30th of July: the reappointment of rejected officials: the refusal to commission some who had been confirmed; the profligate use of the public money for political purposes; the threats against the Congress of the United Statesespecially that of arraigning it as an unconstitutional "body hanging on the verge of the Government;" the advice given to the Mississippi politicians to disregard the civil rights law; his connection with the Baltimore elecwere not finally acted upon. THE MANUFACTURERS' AND CONSUMERS' LAILROAD. -The subscriptions to this road are progressing, and there is a determination raise the sum required. The citizens of Pottsville have resolved to raise one-third of the amount, if not more. It would be strange f the rest of the County and the interests abroad could not raise the balance. We would suggest the holding of public meetings throughout the coal region, with a view of showing the great importance of this project more fully to the people, before it is too late. Now is the time to act. THE MANUFACTURERS' AND CONSUMERS' AN HRACITE RAILROAD COMPANY. - The New Tork American Railroad Journal has the folowing reference to the Anthracite Railroad, House .- The House instructed the Post-office chartered at the last session of the Pennsylvania Legislature:

yania Legislature:

In addition to these various enterprises, all of which are important, a number of influential capitalists of this city and Philadelphia, having large interests in the Schuylkill and Wyoming regions, have projected a scheme that under wise direction is likely very early to assume commanding magnitude, and to exercise a powerful influence in the development of the whole anthracite region. In view of the monopoly maintained by existing coal carrying companies, and its injurious influence on mining enterprise and the growth of the trade, the Pennsylvania Legislature at its last session chartered a company known as the Manufacturers' and Consumers' Anthracite Railroad Company, with authority to construct an additional line of road between Philadelphia and the Schuylkill region, with a branch by the most feasible-route from a point near the head of the Schuylkill valley to the Delaware river, and thence to this city. During the summer the whole ground has been carefully examined by experienced and competent engineers, and at recent conferences the projectors of the enterprise have expressed the numer gratification at the character of their reports. From Philadelphia it is believed a route can be secured scarcely less favorable for coal transportation than even the Beading road, and but a very few miles greater in extent, while the route to the Delaware lies nearly in a straight line, and is unexpectedly free from heavy gradients. The charter of the company authorizes the use of any existing road as a part of the main, line, if desirable, and the plan of the enterprise as now contemplated comprehends, through the combination of existing interests, as far as may be a great line and wyoming regions to widdle and woming regions to In addition to these various enterprises, all of In France a steam carriage for towing boats be a great line bottenward troil Finaceibna through the Lehigh and Wyoming regions to middle and western New York, intersected in the victnity of Perryville on the Lehigh by an air line from this city, and extending thence down the Schuylkill valley, thus opening the whole region east of the Susquehanna both to this city and Philadelphia by routes that will defy competition react the investment of capital. At it is, it is ineminently strong and experienced hands, and cannot fail to become the great coal carrier of the country, effectually correcting existing abuses in the carrying trade, and permanently cheapening, the price of coal, since the charter limits the

the price of coal, since the charter minic top-charges for transportation to two cents per ton-per mile when carried in the cars of operators and two and a half cents per ton when the cars are provided by the company, being about half the rates heretofore exacted by the monopolists.

Philadelphia by routes that will defy competition.

The details of the plan of operations embrace an immense and perfectly-appointed shipping depot in the vicinity of this city, and another of like character on the Delaware adjacent to League Island, the latter to be reached from above Philadelphia by the Connecting railroad, now in course of construction, and extensions of the Pennsylvania railroad below the city. The peculiar advantages of such a depot, should League Island be selected as the site for a national naval station for the construction of iron vessels of war, would be very great, if only with respect to the requirements of the government in receiving its supplies of coal and iron. But there are other considerations making the location specially desirable. It is at a point on the Delaware that it is almost wholly free from ice during the winter, when the Reading railroad wharves at Richmond are inaccessible, and, moreover, practically has the advantage of a whole day for sea-going colliers over those loading at the Richmond wharves.

The charter of the company is exceedingly, liberal in its provisions, and even with a less inviting field of operations the enterprise would attract the investment of capital. As it is, it is in eminently strong and experienced hands, and cannot be the company of hard First Presbyterian Church, corner Mahantongo and Third Streets. Rev. Isaac Rier, Pastor. $5.31. The average was $5.10. This with freights at $3.79 to New York from Schuylkill Haven gives (adding 70 cents for freight from Elizabethport) the operator 50 cents a ton for lump coal, and $1.99 for stove. Where the profit comes in I cannot tell.

The operators however, seem to think differently.—
There are now I am assured, more than 500 unloaded cargoes of coal at "the Hospital." This is located on the North River at foot of Clarkon street, and there the "tick" cargoes are sent. At other places where berths can be had there are other boats, so that it is fair to calculate that there are to day in New York 400 unsoled cargoes paying demurrage or likely to pay it.

As they will average 170 tons to the cargo, this shows $4,000 tons of Schuylkill coal on the market beyond the demand.

To day I can buy in this city as many cargoes of 64,000 ions of Schuylkili coal on the market beyond the demand.

To-day I can buy in this city as many cargoes of Schuylkill egg and stove coal as I wish for $5 a ton—and at that price the operator receives about $1, 'after deducting commissions and other charges. This state of things must hurt somebody. If it continues long the sheriff of Schuylkill County will soon make more money than any operator. He will have his hands full of fat cases. It is rumored here that many colleries are already under his treatment, and that several companies are in a state of collapse.

It is feared that you will have some trouble in Schuylkill County this winter. There being no work the men will have nothing to carry them through until spring. Will not the office-seckers who led the voters by the nose last election, contribute to support them a lew months? They should take care of their friends.

COAL, IRON, AND OIL, BY DADDOW & BANNAN. THIS NEW WORK _# ON OUR MINERAL RESOURCES

HAS PROVED A SUCCESS BEYOND OUR MOST SANGUINE EXPECTATION. Its public reception, both at home and abroad, has been extremely encouraging. The first Thorsash has already been disposed of, and the second is going very fast. According to present indications we shall soon exhaust the first edition.
