CONFEDERT X ROADS (wich is in the Stait to Keniucky), November 26, 1866 .- The papers u the country are very generally discussin the ques tion: "Shel the Democratic party live or die? wich when we take into considerashen the fact that the corps: is afore us, seems to me holler mockery, and a heartless triflin with the feelins uv the friends uv the deceast. Ther aint p yoose uv talkin uv its fucher, coz its in its fucher now, and a tombstun mite ez well be put up, re gardlis of expense, commemoratin its virchoos. The Chicago Times and various papers are advocatin the ijee of floppin over to negro suffrage. I her let my Websterian intellek tite into this subject at various times, and the more I hev considerered it, the more I am satisfied that it wont do. A naber of mine wunst hed a stumick-ack, and applied to me for a remedy. In a spirit of jccularity I told him that striknine wood cure that, ez well es all other physicle ill. The poor fellow. not seein it wuz a joke took an onnce or two, and need I state the result? He sleeps in the valley. Nigger suffrage wich is rank pizen, wood end the troubles of the Democrisy, but woonden't it end

NASBY.

Democrisy also? We mite die gracefully as Democrate, but wood our resurrection as Ablishinists be certain?-Wooden't the people, when we ware wanst entombed, forget to awaken us? My objections are these: 1. We can't gobble Ablishen votes with nigger au Trage, for the reason that ef the people desire it they'd probably go to the inventors thereof, that they might be asshoored uv gettin the gerooine article. 2. Wecan't get the nigger after he is a man and a brother. The Times' ide is, we'd ketch 'em on the score that the trash natorally gravitates to us. We are too late for this. The nigger jus now is lookin up-not down, and of the tax wuz taken off uv whisky, so ez to bring that essenshi to Dimecratic success wunst more within our means, and we shood devote ourselves cuthoosiastically to the work, we wooden't be able to get 'em down to our work, we wooden't be able to get 'em down to our 'level in twenty years.

Afore that time I shel hey gone into that other world wher polytix won't trouble me, and ef the orthodox religns beleefs up the day is correct in the department of the tother world in wich I shel the department of the tother world in wich I shel pull up, there will be a strong Democratic ma-. Its instant releef we need, and ef life is ever pumped into the carcass afore us, it must be done to wunst. I hev an ijee for the salvation of the party, wich, of acted on, will give us a leese uv power for years-Mexico. Here is suthin feasibl. Let the South adoptthe Constooshnel Amendment to wunst, providing Congress will knock out the third section, wich disfranchies the heft of us who are fit for Congress. blown in the ghiss. and also repeel the test oath, and immejitly le Johnson annex Mexico. How will it stand then? We have ten States out, wich we kin depend upon. Kentucky, Delaware and Maryland make thirteen, and Mexico kin be cut up into twenty more or thirty for that matter, givin us a clean majority in the Senit, House and Electoral College. I hev let my intellek out onto this subjeck and ain't mistaken. In Mexico is the precis populashen we kin best work upon. "They can't understand our speekers," sez one objector. Very good to admit it, and what do we want uv voters who kin understand us? The downfall of Democrisy commenst, the minit people begun to understand us. So ez they took things on trust, it wuz all right, but when they begun to question, the jig wuz up. Intelligence is a good thing in the abstrack, but you must be moderit in its yoose. Enuff uv us wood hev to emigrate thither, uv cocrse, to be sent back to Washington. Seward and I, for instance, wood go to the Senit from mahua, Doolittle and Dr. Olds, uv Ohio, from San Juan, Henry Clay Dean and Cowan from Tamaulipas, John Morrissey and Randall from Matamoras, Vallandigham and Slocum from Tehuantenec, Custar and Beecher-no they've gone back on us -Jim Steedman and Jesso D. Brite from Puebla, et seltry. There wood be room for every one uv the leadin

Democrats North in these States. Ther wood be sixty seats in the Senit and three hundred in the House to be filled, besides the State offiscs. The hundreds uv thousands uv Dimokrats now mournin for offises, and who can't be supplied, wood here find openins. Think uv it! Thirty States turned over to us with a people wich coods't compete with us for the offises. My solo expands with the thot. The field wood be a rich one for Androo Jaxon Rogers to stump, for the people not understandin a word uv wot he wuz a sayin, and hevin a high opinion uv him, the Mexikins wood think he wuz talkin sence! And His eggs lency, the President! wat a chance it wood by for him! He cood hev Duglis dug up and rebu ried at Monterey, so ez he cood hev a excoose for makin a tour to his tomb, or, of the friends uv the statesman objected to that, he cood go to Chicago by the way uv the City uv Mexico, and cood make his speech at the way stations through that country without fear. The Mexikins wood reseeve the constitueshun and stars gladly, and ez they don't understand the language, they woodent reserve his speech with peels of lafture ez they did on his late memorable toor thro Noo York, Ohio, Michigan, Illinoy, et settry, the remembrance of wich, even at this day, sends a thrill uv anguish to the Presidential breast wich even the triumph in Delaware and Maryland can-The people of the North wood receeve the proposishen gladly. I menshund the matter to a leadin merchant ny Philadelphia, who had just declined to give six months credit for a small stock nv goods to a friend of mine, on my endorsement, but who in the most gentlemanly manner expressed a willingness to sell for cash, and he warmly appoved uv it "Go," sed he. " and of it will work cz yoo say and take them incubuses out ov this country, I think I kin not only promise you the co-operashen uv the people ny the North, but also money enuff to pay your fares to the land uv voor choice.

And he bust into teers. 'Wat are you weepin for?" sed I, astonished. "Those teers," sed he, "are for Mexico. Sho hoz endoored much, but her cup uv woe is not yet This is the only hope uv Democrisy. The pcop'e her bin brought face to face with slavery, and they smasht it. They hev bin brought face to face with nigger equality, and they don't scare at it at all. They wuz brought up before Southern sooperiority, and they punctoored that. They took some rather extensive toors thro the South, and somehow they come home with singular ideas, and wondered that they hed bin rooled so long by sich emptiness. The Booth speculashun didn't pay, for the we shot Linkin, we couldn't shoot Linkin's principles, and they remain to tor cher us. When he fell, others, sumhow, stent forrered and took up the ark, and they hey bin carryin it rite along. Johnson interposed the post offisis, but they kicked em aside contemptu ously. Only by addishun kin we hope in the fucher to rool. The sole uv John Brown is marchin on, and ez far ez I kin see, our plan is to let it march and git out uv its way. ... PETROLEUM V. NASBY, P. M., (wheih is Postmaster.) ON SEATING AND WINTER. We commend the item to all skaters and everybody else who can enjoy a laugh: Winter is the coldest season of the year, because it comes in the winter, mostly. SNOW POWDER Patented May 29, 1866.

Patented May 29, 1866.

This is an article for, washing without rubbing, except in very dirty places, which will require a very slight rub, and unlike other preparations offered for a like purpose, will not not the clothes, but will leave them much whiter than ordinary methods, without the usual wear and tear.

It removes grease spots as if by magic, and softens the dirt by soaking, so that rinsing will in ordinary cases entirely remove it.

This powder is prepared in accordance with chemical science, and upon a process peculiar to itself, which is secured by letters patent. It has been in use for more than a year, and has proved itself an universal favorite wherever it has been used. Among the advantages claimed are the following, viz:

It saves all the expense of soap usually used on cotton and linen goods.

It saves most of the labor of rubbing, and wear and tear. tear.

Also, for cleaning windows it is unsurpassed. With one quarter the time and labor usually required it imparts a beautiful gloss and lustre, much superior to any other mode. No water required except to moisten the roweder. Other mode. No water required except to moment powder.

MANURING AS PRACTICED IN Meadows situated on the banks of rivers are usually overflowed in the spring and a rich sedimentary deposit is left upon them, so that they very seldom require manuring out the upland meadows are manured with compost or liquid manure, with excellent results. In some districts wood ashes and gu. and are mixed for manuring. In Loburg ashes and plaster are added after, and some times before the liquid manure is applied in Liebenwerda bone dust and guano are a plied with better effect than guano and cabes Since the culture of forage plants has be come more extensive, stock has been being fed, and larger quantities of better monure have been made, and which has be n treated and kept with more care in the stable as well as in the barnyard. In Alfmark the manure remains in the stable until it is havied on the field. In Neuhaldersleben the stables have been built so as to have an apartment special ly for manure; but it is believed that this plan is injurious to the animals hog's manute is deemed to be specially nexious. In order to conserve the manure in the barnyard, it is mostly trodden down compactly and strata; earth, plaster and lime are strewed between it with good results; in Ranis calcerous sand s substituted; in Halberstadt mould and pers are used. In Obisfelde the horse, cattle and ihog manure is frequently thrown together in heaps, with strata of peat in equal parts. Dry peat is also used in long straw for litter in sheep folds-this prevents the evaporation of the ammonia. As a rule, however, earth is strewed in the sheep folds, and the sheep dung is rarely hauled away, except it is taken directly to the field and plowed under. In Halberstadt sheep dung is daily strewed over with a mixture of 2 cwts, of plaster and 2 cits, of bone dust to 120 cwts, of manure. Barnyard manure is generally used for torage and hoed crops, winter grain, pulse and rape. In Querfurt it is found that manured burley vields less than unmanured in dry special unless the manure has bandauers of the previous year. I needs for the castle tons of manure october, A M. See (3ths. of an acre. W. M. This 10 to 15 tons are ap-suce stul farmers apply this quantity every two years; and they give as a reason that the land is very level and contains lime and sand largely. As a rule, the manure is spread and plowed under as fast as it is hauled on the field, except in Sonderhausen it is hauled every month and spread, and then let lie until plowing time. Experience has taught them that the manure spread and lying on the field during winter, mellows the surface of the soil and has an excellent effect upon the first crop, but very little or no effect on succeeding ones. In Halberstadt manure is usually plowed 6 to 8 inches deep for grain crops and 10 inches for potatoes—this is done with a four horse team; but in Dachwig it is plowed 3 to 4 inches only for grain creps. The cost of barnyard manure is very relative-where stock is well kept and abundantly fed, the new nure is produced at less cost than where slock is indifferently or poorly fed. The cost of producing a ton of manure, including straw, s estimated to cost from $1.75 to $3-25. But even at these prices barnyard manure is held to be cheaper, more profitable, and more readily obtained than the artificial or com-

LIQUID MANURE. - The careful collection of liquid manure in walled reservoirs, and its application, is being more generally adopted. In Erfurt this progress is due partly to a legal decree forbidding the flow of liquid manures in the gutters, and partly to the recommendations of the local agricultural society. But on many estates it is not collected. It is applied in various ways; most generally it is used for moistening the compost and dry manures, or else is mixed with peat. The most favorable results were obtained where the liquid manure was applied directly to meadows, and upon compost heaps: The results of liquid manure are not uniformly as favora ble on large manors where technological trinches of industry are conducted. Experience has demonstrated that liquid manure is more effective on hoed crops than-on cereals. On an examination of farms conneting in the culture of sugar beets, it was found that in Sonderhausen the yield of beets per morgen had been increased from 450 to 800 cwts., by the application of liquid manure. In Neusechmidtstedt it has greatly increased the product of potatoes. In Zwethan it had an excellent effect on Maize (Indian corn.) On some farms it has been found that the application of liquid manure surcharges the soil with saits which are too readily soluble and thus injure instead of benefit crops. COMPOST. - Every kind of offal, debris, rub bish of all kinds, go to the compost heapeven the soap from the wash-room; and it is held that the greater the variety of substances put into the compost heap the more valuable it becomes, because the substances act and react upon each other and thus form more perfect plant food. Factory offal, beet pumice, apple pumice, and everything of the kind finds a place in the compost heap—hence the residences and barn-yards are made and kept more cleanly, whilst the compost heap is being enriched. Earth or peat is mixed with the heap and is very frequently turned over, and after the second year it is applied to the land. The lime from burnt limestone has been found to be much more efficient for agricultural purposes, than the lime from burnt mussle shells. In the fall muck is hauled on the field in neighborhoods where it can be obtained, and is plowed in with ma. nure the next fall after having been stirred several times during the summer. The application of compost on meadows is most common and profitable; this manner of manuring has produced surprising results; nay the yield has been doubled and the quality much improved. In Obisfelde many meadows are irrigated, and on these compost has produced unexpectedly favorable results. Compost has proved to be better for any crops other than cereals.

ARTIFICIAL MINERAL MANURE AND GU-ANO. -Of the commercial manures, Peruvian guano is the most extensively used in the province of Saxony, especially in connection with bone dust and superphosphates, &c., The application of commercial manures in general has of late rapidly increased, even among small farmers. Thus in the small districts of Stumsdorf, consisting almost exclusively of small farmers, there are now at least 10,000 cwts. of guano, and 3,000 to 4,000 cwts. of superphosphates used every year. The application of guano is effected by guano strewing machines and partly by harrowing in; when plowed in deeply it is not so effective. Guano has very little effect when applied on a limestone soil. In the district of Kothen, guano and phosphate of lime mixed in equal parts, is chiefly applied for sugar beets: on fields bearing the second crop, 11 cwts. are applied; on exhausted fields, two cwts. and even more per Morgen. A farmer in the district of Nordhausen, during a period of thirteen years, applied guano partly mixed with bone dust plaster and earth, for cereals, beets and potatoes, with excellent success. In general experience has proved that the constant application of guano is injurious. Farmers are of the opinon that artificial manures can have a fasting effect only in connection with a due porportion of barnyard or other vegetable manures, therefore after manuring for two or three years with artificial manures, they apply barnyard manure exclusively and in generous quantities. In Ranis several farmers applied oil cake as manure, and found it to be equally as efficient as guano, and that its efects were of equally long duration.
