ATTRACTIVE & VALUABLE PREMIUMS.

On January 5th, 1867, the MINERS JOURNAL will enter upon its Forty-third Volunte, and Thirty-seventh since it came into the hands of the present publisher. publisher.

The Miners Journal is the recognized organ of the Coal Trade of the United States. It is now the largest Paper Paper in the Coal Trade of the United States. It is now the largest Paper Paper in the country exceed it in size. Its circulation never was so large as at this time, and its subscription list has doubled within the last five years, and is daily receiving accessions. With, we think, but a single exception, and that paper has but about a hundred more, it has the largest circulation of any paper published in Pennsylvania, out of Philadelphia and Pitsburg. It is the only paper in this section of the State that is taxed on its advertising receipts, under the law applicable to papers having over two thousand circulation. Its circulation now reaches nearly FURR TIOUSAND.

The Government tax last year on our advertising was Its circulation now reaches nearly FOUR THOUSAND. The Government tax last year on our advertising was $150 SS. We allude to these facts to show that our extended circulation, including, as it does, many thousands of readers, is appreciated by advertisers, and that they make liberal use of our columns.

Our course in the past needs no comment on our part. It is well known. Wherever the right most needed a soldier, we have endeavored to winge the good fight. Human Progress, Freedom and Enlightenment have been the impelling motives in our course, not petty partizan aims. We stood firmly by Freedom during the darkest period of the Slaveholders Rebellion. We have combated the attempted usurpation of a faithless President, and our best energies shall be directed in the future, to secure the full and complete triumph of equal rights to all classes of freemen. In every department of this paper we shall endeavor unceasingly and untiringly, to maintain its character as a FIRST CLASS JOURNAL.

TERMS: $2.75, in advance, or $3.00, if not paid in advance.—The continued high price of paper, labor, &c., compel ns to continue these rates of subscription to the JOURNAL, which is only 37% per cent, advance on the rates charged before the Rebellion, and our paper is one-third larger than it was then.

COAL, IRON, AND OIL, BY DADDOW & BANNAN.

THIS NEW WORK ON OUR MINERAL RESOURCES HAS PROVED A SUCCESS BEYOND OUR MOST

SANGUINE EXPECTATION Its public reception, both at home and abroad, has been extremely encouraging. The first Thorrann has already been disposed of, and the second is going very fast. According to present indications we shall soon exhaust the first edition. We will say to our friends at home, that they will have to supply themselves early if they wish a copy of the present edition. We shall not publish a second edition for some two years, since the cost and labor of collecting statistics to the date of publication will be very great.

Some few of our friends have objected to the price of the Book as being excessive; but we can assure them that such is not the case—it is maquestionably the chempest Work of the kind ever published.

The vast and varied amount of new information The vast and varied amount of new information which it contains, together with the Maps and extensive Illustrations, has called forth commendation and praise from the most influential, scientific and mining

Journals:

[From the Scientific American.]

"Coal, Imon and Oil, is the most practical and exhaustive treatise on the subject that has come under our observation.

"It is a most valuable work and one that deserves to be read by all intelligent men." (From the U. S. Rallroad and Mining Register.) (From the U.S. Rairroad and Mining Register.)
"Coxia, Boox Ano Dia, is a work of extraordinary utility, research and industry. The amount of patient untiring, persevering labor of which this volume is the product can only be measurably appreciated after careful examination of its contents. The intrinsic worth of this book will make it indispensable to all who wish to possess, in a compact, convenient form, testimony that is enthoritative, facts known to be authentic." to be authentic."

the title.

Regarding the work as a whole, it is certainly the most complete manual for the practical colliery manager that has yet been published.

It may safely be said that we have no single work in this country so thoroughly calculated to afford the superior collier and iron-worker all the information be requires in connection with his business as is the book of Messrs. Daddow & Bannan. to meet the wants of those similarly engaged in the United States. The work must have entailed a large amount of labor, and there is ample evidence that the labor has not been applied without being made to yield the largest results of which it was capable."

The leading newspapers of all our great cities and Mining and Manufacturing Districts have given the Book a warm reception, and reviewed it with unqualied praise; while practical and scientific men generally have given us the most gratifying assurance of its value and neefulness, as the only standard work of the kind.

GOVERNOR CURTIN'S MESSAGE. Governor Curtin's last annual message the Legislature of Pennsylvania is a most admirable document. By it we learn the gratifying fact that the State debt was reduced during the past year, $1,854,205 90. The debt now stands $35,622,052 16. A year since it was $37,476 258 06. The Governor estimates that the entire debt of the State can be paid within fifteen years. Every friend of Justice will rejoice in peusing the Message to see how firmly the Governor approves of the Congressional plan of Reconstruction. The Philadelphia Press says in speaking of this portion of the able document. We have nowhere seen a better and clearer presentation of the renewed guilt of the rebel leaders and the imperative duty of the people's representives in regard to the secoled States. Bliefly and cogently he asserts and accepts the Radical remedy. J. W., M. B. Allebach; Secretary, John R. Porter; Treasurer, Weeley Hammer.

If the secretaries of all the Masonic lodges in the County will transmit to us the rames of their t desire to call your attention to the importance of the late discovery at St. Clair, of a vein of Black Band Iron Ore. The ore is being now mined by E. W. McGinnes, Esq., in his shaft fifty feet from the surface, and supposed to lie seven feet under the Diamond Vein. If this vein of ore should extend over our Bed Ash Region, and there is every reason to sunpose that it does the teet under the Diamond Vein. If this vein of ore should extend over our Bed Ash Region, and there is every reason to suppose that it does, there is no felling its value to Schuylkill County. We can erect from and Steel works here, and consume a large portion of our coal product. The ore contains 39 per cent, of carbonaceous matter, so that it will require less coal to make a ton of iron than any other ore outside of the coal region. It will make an iron equal or superior to the Scotch pig, and drive that metal, which we now import in large quantities, out of the market. At Massillon, Ohio, they make fron from Black Banil ore, and the owner of the furnace told me that it had taken the place of the Scotch pig in all that section of country. Mixed with the rich magnetic cross lately found in large veins in Berks County, it could not fail to make Bessemer or other steel of good quality. There the County will transmit to us the names of their new officers we shall be happy to publish them. Mr. B. Pott, says his father used this linestone exclusively at his charcoal funaco in this Dorough. It is not used at present in the Anthracite furnaces, but I take it that nature would not have placed it so near the coal and iron ore, if it was not meant to be combined with them to take iron. In Wales the limestone used is found in proximity to the coal measures. Mr. Griffith who visited England, Scotland and Wales, to examine the iron and steel works, says in a district of twenty miles in South Wales (in a coal region,) from Hermine to Ponty Pool, they turned out 25,000 toms of manufactured iron and steel per week, and consome yearly more coal than we produced in Schuylkill County this year. This iron and steel is all manufactured from coal region ores. They have no magnetics of any account in England or Wales. How much more favorable then is our position. If the furnace, the steel works and the rolling mills were erected here, we could combine all the profits and make iron and steel cheaper than at other, points. Before long steel rails will be wanted in large quantities, as, railroads will not use from rails when they can get an article that will last twenty times as long. Schuylkill County is the place to make them, where we have the coal, from ore and limestone. There are a number of other veins of ore in the County. The Southern Coal Field, from Sharp Mountain to Mine Hill, will probably he found to contain the bulk of the Black Band. It may, however, exist in some of the other Anthracite Coal Fields.

Mr. Lauigan is now using the Black Band. The yield is a tough gray iron of superior quality. He will use the Black Band without admixture as soonas a permainent supply can be had.

They are without lawful governments—they are without mincipal law, and without any claim to participate in the government.

On what principle of law or justice can the rebellious States complain, if after they have rejected the fair and inagganimons terms upon which they are offered brotherhood with us, and a participation in all the blessings of our freedom, and they have refused; if the government, in the exercise of its powers, shouldenter anew upon the work of reconstruction at the very foundation; and then the necessity will be forced upon us to discard all discrimination in favor of the enemies of our nationality, to give us and them enduring freedom and imparial justice.

The Constitution has defined treason, and has given express power to suppress insurrection, by war, if necessary. It has not provided, in detail, the terms to be granted after such a war. How could it do so? It would probably not be contended by the wildest partisan, that those States had a right to be represented in Congress, at a time when they were carrying on open war against the government, or that Congress was not then a lawful body, notwithstanding their exclusion. How then have they regained the right of representation? Surely not by simply laying down their arms when they could no longer hold them. The United States have the right, and it is their duty, to exact such securities for future good conduct as they may deem sufficient, and the offenders, from whom they may deem sufficient, and the offenders, from whom they may deem sufficient, and the offenders, from whom they are to be exacted, can have no right to participate in our connects in the decision of the question of what their punishment shall be. ment shall be.

Practically, common sense determined the question of their right so to participate, when Congress proceeded in the enactrent of laws, after the surrender of the last: rebe, militery force. It was determined again, when the now pending amendments, were proposed by Congress. If two-thirds of Congress, as now consituated, could lawfully propose those amendments, then three-fourths of the States not excluded from representation in Congress, form a sufficient majority to effect their lawful adoption. It was determined again by the formal sanction of both the great political practice where This calculation is a fair relative estimate; but is perhaps in excess of the actual quantity, because the thickness in feet as given above, may not bear this as an average. The maximum thickness of the workable coal beds in the Schuylkill Region is 205 feet—the minimum 60. ted, could lawfully propose those amendments, then three-fourths of the States not excluded from representation in Gongress, form a sufficient majority to effect their lawful adoption. It was determined again by the formal sanction of both the great political parties, when Congress by an almost unanimous vote, declared the rebellmons States without the right of representation in the Electoral Gollege in 1884.

We ought to go on resolutely and rapidly, with all measures deemed necessary to the future safety of the country, so that all parts of it may, at the earliest day, be restored to just and equal political privileges.

The annual report of Hon. Thomas H. Burrewes. Superintendent of the maintenance and education of the soldiers orphans, will exhibit the present condition and the result thus far of that undertaking. Nearly three thousand of the destitute children of the brave men who laid down their lives that the nation might live; are now not only comfortably provided for and guarded from temptation, but are receiving an education-shich will fit them to re-pay the care of the State. The appropriation made for this purpose at the last seasion, has been rafficient to meet all expenses of the financial year just closed. And irecommend whatever appropriation may be necessary, to continue and perfect the system under which the schools are conducted. There can be no donbt that the appropriation will be made. Were I to select any State interest which I would more warmly commend to your prompt attention and liberality than another, it would be this. All Pennsylvianians are proud of it, and it lies near the hearts of all true men.

J. P. Wickersham. It is due to Mr. Coburn to say, that he fulfilled all the duties of his office faithfully and efficiently. It appears from his report, that there were in the school year of 1863, 1863 school districts in the State; 18, 146 schools; 16, 141 teachers, and 723, 312 pupils, with an average attendance of 443,066. The total cost of the school system, for the entire State, including taxes level and State appropriation, was for the year 1883, $4, 198, 285.

The increase in the number of school districts was 26; in the number of schools, 222; in the number of children attending school, 19, 932; in the number of children attending school, 19, 932; in the number of children attending school, 19, 932; in the number of children attending school, 19, 932; in the swerage attendance at school, 18, 943, and in the total cost of the system, $38, 1020, 93. Invite your attention to the valuable suggestions made in his report, and that of Col. Wickersham, and commend our system of public instruction to the continued to tering care of the Legislature.

I invite your attention to the condition of the Arseall. It is too small—unsafe as a depository for the large amount of valuable military material to be kept in it, and is, in all respects, inconvenient and not adapted to on the near approach of the entire liquidation of the public debt.

Since my last Annual Message, I have drawn from the Treasary two thousand dollars of the fund placed in the hands of the Governor for secret service and other extraordinary expenses, which I have expended, in payment of my personal staff, and for other purposes, we heretofore, except five hundred and six'y-three dollars and forty-eight cents, which I have returned into the Treasury.

I present, for your consideration, the amendments to the Constitution of the United States, proposed to the Legislatures of the several States by a resolution of both Houses of Congress, passed on the 16th day of June last; I was glad that it was possible, without delaying the floal adoption of these amendments, to ascertain the opinion of our people upon them, at the reperal election, in October last. By the election of a larke majority of members openly favoring and advocating the amendments, that opinion seems to me to have been abundantly expressed. Indeed, the amendments are so moderate and reasonable in their character, that it would have been astoriabling if the, people had failed to approve them. That every person, born in the United States, and free, whether by birth or manumission, is a citizen of the United States, and that no State has a right to abridge the privileges of citizens of the United States—these are principles which were never seriously doubled anywhere, until and is, in all respects, inconvenient and not adapted to the purposes.

Much incohvenience was experienced during the war for want of sufficient room and safety, and I recommend that ground be precured, and a new and commodious areanal be creeted in or near the Capital of the State.

Since the adjournment of the the Legislature I drew my warrant on the Treasury for five thousand dollars, appropriated to the National Cemetery at Anticiam, and appointed Major General Jno. R. Brooke, truetee to represent the State. Before the warrant was drawn I appointed Col. Wm. H. Blair and Capitain J. Merrill Linu, who examined the ground and made a full irrestigation, their report of which a companies this message. It will be noticed that they report seven hundred and ninety-seven bodies of Pennsylvanians that will be removed into the cemetery, and recommend an additional appropriation. In which I most cordially unite.

I cannot close my last Annual Message, without removal into the cemetery, and recommend on the cemen of the Commonwealth, for the hearty approval with which they have cheered the labors of the Evenutive niwing the expression of my gratitude to the freemen of the Commonwealth, for the hearty approval with which they have cheered the labors of the Executive Office. To have earned such approval by my official conduct, during the last six years, must always be a source of pride to myself and children. Without the consciousness that I was endeavring to deserve their approval, and without the hope that I should succeed, in attaining it I must have sunk under the responsibilities of my position. It was only a reliance on Divine Providence, and the active, resulte, hearty support and zeal of the people, and, their representatives, that encouraged me during the dark and terrible crisis through which the country has pissed. I tried to do my duty to my country, and know I was at least faithful to her in her deep distress, and I conceived that duty not to be limited to the increty putting of men into the field to suppress treason and rebellion, and maintain the national life, and doing of everything in my-power to sustain the just war to reed upon us. It felt also bound, so far as I could, to protect and promote the rights and countorts of our volunteers, after they had left the States, to aid and relieve the sick and wounded, and to care for the transmission, to their bereaved families, of the precious bodies of the slain, and the maintenance and education of their orphans as honored children of the country.

To have been the Chief Magristrate of this great Coimmonwealth, during the period through which we have nassed, and to have earned and maintained (if in which were never zeriously doubted anywhere; until after the insane crusade in favor of slavery had been for some time in progress. What was called the decis-ion of the Supreme Court of the United States, in the Dred Scott case, has made it expedient and proper to reaseer these, vital principles in an authoritative man-ner, and this is done in the first clause of the proposed amendments.

Dred Scott case, has made it expedient and proper to reasert these vital principles in an authoritative manner, and this is done in the first clause of the proposed amendments.

The tight of prescribing the qualifications of voters is exercised by the respective States, under the Constitution of 17192, three-fithis of the alayes were counted in ascertaining this representative population of the soveral States. The amendment to the constitution abolished slavery in all the States and Territories.—Though it was formerly otherwise in most, if not all of the old Southern States, yet for many years past free Negroes have not in any of these, been permitted to vote. At present, therefore, the late slave States would be entitled to count the whole of thair former elive population, as a basis of representation, instead of three-fifths thereof. That is to eay, they would have in the existing ratio about twenty more members of Congress than they had before slavery was abolished, and the free States would lose the same number, making a difference of about forty members of Congress, or, say, one-sixth of the whole body. In other words, the treason of the rebellious States, the suppression of which has cost us so many hundreds of thousands of precious lives, and so many thousands of millions of treasure, would be rewarded by giving them avast increase of political power. This absurdity, the second clause of the proposed amendments, designs to prevent by the just, equal and moderate provision, that in future, the representative population of each State shall be accretained by making a proportionate deduction from the whole population thereof, if its lawe exclude from the privilege of voting, any male citizens, not criminals, of the agree of twenty-one years. I have yet to learn that any plansible objection can be offered to such a provision.

The third clause of the proposed amendments excludes from Congress, and from the College of Electors, and from the College of Electors, and from the College of the constitution of the U To have been the Chief Maristrate of this great Commonwealth, during the period through which we have passed, and to have earned and maintained (if indeed I have done so) the confidence and affection of her people and their representatives, are quite enough to satisfy the highest ambition, and in my retirement from the high trust given me. I pray God that the State may continue to grow in power and strength, and her people in prosperity and happiness.

thry should stand as adopted amendments of that instrument.

A question has been raised whether the States lately in rebellion, and not yet restored to their privileges by Congress, are to be counted on this vote-in other words whether those who have rebelled and been subdued shall be entitled to a potential vote in the question of the guarantees to be required of them for future obedience to the laws. So monstrons a proposition is, it appears to me, not supported by the words or spirit of the Constitution. The power to suppress insurrection, includes the power of making provision against its breaking out airest. The States have made an unjust war upon our Common Government and their Sister States, and the power given by the Constitution to make war on our part, includes the power to dictate, after our success, the terms of peace and restoration. Strange, but True.—Every young lady and gentleman in the United States can hear something very much to their advantage by return mail (free of charge,) by sidtresting the undersigned. Those having fears of being humburged will oblige by not noticing this card. All others will please address their obedient servant, THOS. F. CHAPMAN, Jan 27, '66—4-1y S31 Broadway, N. Y. tition to make war on our part, includes the power to dictate, after our success, the terms of peace and restoration.

The power of Congress to guarantee to every State a Republican form of Government, would cover much more cogent action than has yet been had.

The duty imposed upon Congress, to provide and maintain republican governments for the States, is to be accepted in the broadest meaning of the term. It is not a mere formal or unnecessary provision. The power was conferred, and the duty erjoined, to preserve free institutions against all enricoathments, or the more violent elements of despotism and anarchy. And now that treason has, by rebellion, subverted the governments of a number of States, forfetting for the people all the rights guaranteed by the Constitution, including even those of property and life, the work of restoration for fiere States; rests with the National Government, and it should be faithfully and fearlessly performed.

By their passage by Congress, and the declaration of the people at the late elections, the faith of the nation is pledged to the amendments, and they will be fairly carried out, and their benefits given to the rebellions States. But when the amendments shall have passed into the organic law, should the people lately in rebellion persist in their rejection, and in continued disbedience, and the obstruction of the execution of the national laws, it will be an admonition to the nation that the animus and force of treason still exist among a people who enjoy none of the privileges of the government, save of its generous tolerance. With their rejection, all hope of reconstruction, with the co-operation of the rebellious States, on a basis that would secure to the Republic the logical results of the war, will have vanished, and the duty must then deverued with a proper and the duty must then deverued to the secure for those States the character of governments demanded by the Constitution.

By our existing laws juries are selected by the sheriff and commissioners of the respective counties. As these officers are generally of similar political affloities, the system has always been in danger of being abused for partizan purposes. During the harf six years it has been frequently so abused in many of the counties.

To secure as far as possible the administration of equal justice hereafter, I recommend that jury commissioners shall be elected in each county, in the same manner as inspectors of elections are chosen, each citizen voting for one jury commissioner, and the two persons having the highest number of votes to be the jury commissioners of the respective county, to perform the same duries in the selection of jurors, that are now impressed upon the sheriff and county commissioners.

It is impossible to provide in all respects for the increasing and changing interests of, our people by the enactment of general laws, but to a large extent it is practicable to relieve the Legislature from special legislation which is demanded and occupies so much of its sessions. Special legislation is generally passed without due consideration, much of it at the close of the session, and is chiefly objectionable from the partiality with which powers and privileges are conferred.

I again recommend the passage of general laws, when it is at all practicable, and, in this connection recommend the passage of a general law regulating railroads now existing and the incorporation of new companies, so that so flar as possible there may be just uniformity in the franchises granted, and equal facilities afforded to the people of all sections of the Commonwealth.

There are at this time in the various prisons, a number of persons under sentence of death, some of them for many years, and as it has become a custom that an incoming Governor should not lieue a warrant of execution in cases unacted on by his predecessor, it not unfrequently, happens that in many cases, some of which are re-ent. while some punishment should be inf COLDS!

HOW TO EFFECT A CERTAIN AND PERMANENT CURE.

Some occupations of life predispose to costiveness, especially those which allow but little exercise. Persons who contract this unfortunate habit of body, under such circumstances, might possibly be relieved by changing their sedentary employments for others of a more active kind; but this is by no means certain. Habitm at eastipation is a very obstinate disorder. All the ordinary eo-called remedies invariably aggravate it.—

Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE.

Pain Killer, taken internally, should be adulterated with milk or water, and sweetened with sugar if desired, or made into a syrup with molasses. For a Cough, a few drops on sugar eaten will be more effective than anything else. For Sore Throat, gargle the throat with a mixture of Pain Killer and water, and relief is immediate and the cure positive.

It should not be forgotten that the Pain Killer is equally as good to take internally, as to use externally.
