OUE IRON AND STREEL MANUFAC-TURES. There appears to be at present a general dispo-sition to embark in the manufacture of steel in this comptry, and these who propose investing in this direction should look carefully into the projects that are presented to them. The steel business has about it many fascinations, and it has been making and raining fortunes since the days when Huntsman discovered the encible process. No one attempting the manufacture with less than half a million dollars can now undertake steel making profitably. No one should prepare to make steel without a preliminary series of exper-iments on their iron; only one should prepare to make steel without a preliminary series of exper-iments on their iron; only one should prepare to make steel without a preliminary series of the forty of the anibirative will succeed. LETTER FROM THE SENIOR EDITOR -----We have the pleasure this week of laying before our readers the following letter from. B. Bannan, E.q., senior editor of the Miners' fournal. It was written just before his denaringe for Rome with several other American gentlemen, to witness the ecclesiastical ceremonies incident to the centennial anniversary of the martyrdom of St. Peter. We re gratified to be able to state that Mr. Bannan's health has much improved by his voyage across the Atlantic, and his respite from the cares and anxietles of business :

LONDON, June 22d, 1867. DEAR JOCENAL :--- We arrived safely in Liverpool af-Y rk, accompanies the Committee as stenographic reporter, to record the evidence. er a passage of twelve days, on Wednesday night. On reporter, to record the evidence. The Committee commenced its sessions at the Hall on Tuesday, and continued them daily nutil Thursday, hearing the evidence of a large num-ber of witnesses residing and doing business in this County, coal operators, ir.n. manufacturiers, merchants, and others. Is has been clearly, heare the Committee that the absences of the he Sth of June, beneath a lowering sky and in a driz zling rain, we embarked on board the City of London, fine steamer belonging to the Inman line It is 39 feet in length, and next to the Great Western is the argest steamer plying between New York and Livermerchants, and others. Is has been clearly, show it is the Committee that the charges of the Reading Railroad Company are oppressive upon this community, and that our manufacturers and business men are discriminated against is The most tyrannical and exacting memory. If coal operators murmur they are purshed by having their car facilities cut off, whils the people of Pottsyillo and other towns in this Region are taxed outsreemak in the shape of high charges for The wind promised a stiff gale. Several of the pas engers were accompanied by friends who came or poard with them At the sounding of the bell these friends were wirned to depart. Then came the iss adjens, with kisses and tears ; another bell sounded. and these friends departed, and soon the cannon soun nutrageously in the shape of high charges for freight upon everything they consume, rendering ed, and we found ourselves in motion, d omed to whatthis one of the most expensive places to live in in the State of Pennsylvauia. Why, in consequence of the unjust discrimination against the County, the people of Potryrille and other places in the Region, have positively to pay freight, car ser-vice, etc., until it costs them as much to put a ton of coal into their costs. er fate might betide. Notwithstanding the rocking o pr vessel, we determined bravely to remain on deck to id farewell to the last glimpse of land. It was not long ere that was lost to our sight. Passenger after assenger departed from the deck, feeling ill, and lookvice, etc., until it costs them as much to put a ton of coal into their cellars, as it does the people of Reading, or even Pattstown. Against such put-rageous estortion and d'acrimination the civizens of Schuyfill County ask to be protected, and it is to be hoped that the evidence which this Com-mittee has accommisted, will seenre the much needed reform We believe that it would be a pub-he henefit if the Reading Railroad. REESER'S MABBILE WORKS Batablished is 1853. Mrs. Reser would respectfully anhounce to the pub-llc that she will continue the Marbie Works, at the old stand, corner Callowill and Second Streets, (near Market, Pottwille. Constantly on hand all kinds of witching, and her feet beating a tat too on the floor, as if she was operating on a sewing machine, and every stitch she made was a trifle out of pocket. A young fellow with unexceptionable monstacke, and encased in exquisite garments, deposited a roll of a thousand ince upon one of the figures of the table, and a minute after he raked in thirty six thousand, exchanged them for bills which he stuck in his pocket, then turned on his heels and walked off. Another man lost, in the course of two hours, seventy-four thousand francs, then lit a cigar and refired smoking it, with a countenance had won in rapid succession to the amount of twenty thousand, and was all smilling and Joyous with her success, not able in the least to suppress her triumpliant feelings, but she continued playing, and her "fickle fortune" taking a turn, she lost everything she had won, to ascend and walk about in the lady's head on what I and laid down her last Napolcon as if she was parting forever from her lover, with tears in her eyes, and di the ethmoid bone ; the folds of her hair form seats inte- traction depicted in every lineament of her face. All the while the dalcet cadence of the tinkling gold goes on, and men and woman are tortured with hopes and fears, as it shuffles and shifts into or forever out of their possession. In conclusion, if any person expects to behold me retarning to mine home, arrayed in scarlet plush vest, with heavy chain and ponderous seals, a fishing gem upon my bosom and tilting hat upon my lead, let me kindly suggest to him, to be prepared for woman in the world-though she is heartless, and isappointment.

It was resolved to tender a vote of thanks to the Janior Sons of America, in acknowledgment of their kindness for the use of their room. The following is a list of instruments to be used in the orchestra of the Mozart Musical Associa-tion, as given by the leader Prof. Vehling: 8 vio-lins; 2 violas; 2 violotcellas; 1 bass viol; 2 French horrs; 2 clarionetts; 1 obsc; 2 flatfes; 1 picolo; 1 trumpet; 1 fagot; 1 hombadon; 1 cymbles; 2 small drums; 1 big drum; triangle: On motion a list was made of the instruments already represented. Moved and seconded to ad-journ until next Monday; July 224, to meet again at the Hall of the Junior Sone of America, at half-past eight o'clock, P. M.
