THE mercury stood at 10° above zero this morning. Winter appears to be in a great hurry to get into active business this season.

THE SNOW STORM .- We have been visited during the last few days with a continued and severe snow storm. The snow is three feet leep on the level ground, and sl.ighing will commence as soon as the roads are broken out. The P. & E. R. R. thus far has been kept time in some cases, yet the regular trips have reach Philadelphia.

Coxoness met last Monday. The President at last accounts had not sent in his message. When he does it will be a gratification to know that in all probabity it will be the last annual one which A. Johnson will ever send to the Congress of the United States This is one reason why we may look forward to " a happy new year."

Joseph Green a well known, and old citizen of Tidioute, Warren Co. Pa., was one of the per sons lost in the late steam boat disaster on the Ohio River. Mr. Green was an extensive lumberman and oil operator. Some time previous to his death he had been engaged in a board yard at Cincinnati.

R. DICAL RESTORATION .- Its good effects are permanent. It not only restores the color of the hair, but the quantity and natural glossiness. This is said by every one using Mrs. S. A. Allen's Improved (new style) Hair Restorer or Dressing (in one bottle.) Every Druggist sells it. Price One Dollar,

Some one who has evidently seen the world, and experienced whereof he speaks, gives vent to his feelings as follows : " If you wish to keep a town from thriving, don't put up any more buildings than you can conveniently ocenpy yourselves. It you should accidently have an empty dwelling and any one wants to rent it, ask him about three times the actual value for it. Demand a Shylock price for every spot of ground God has given you stewardship over. Turn a cold shoulder on every mechanic or business man seeking a home among you. Look at every new comer with a scowl. Run down the work of every new workman. Go abroad for wares rather than trade with those who seek to do business in your midst. Fail to advertise or in any way support your paper, so that people abroad may not know whether any business is going on in your place or not. Wrap yourselves up with yourselves, and cover yourselves up with a cont of imperious selfishness. There is no more effectual way to retard the growth of a town than actions like these enumerated.

THE Pennsylvania State Temperance Union through itangents has presented to audiences in different parts of the State, not less than three hundred Temperance Sermons, and addresse, this year. These have been spoken at the instance, and by the request of, Lodges of Good Templars, Divisions of Sons of Temperance, Temples of Honor, and Temperance Churches, schools, and private individuals. The lecturing force has been, and desires still to be, constantly employed in pleading for total abstinence and prohibition. All persons who desire to hear the claims of the cause presented wisely, and acceptably, can be gratified by writing to William Nicholson, Esq., 115 South 7th St. Philadelphia, or to Rev. Powell Combe, 513 Arch St. Philadelphia.

A Temperance Convention is to be held at Harrisburg in February next-

FATAL ACCIDENT. -On last Monday evening (Nov. 30) Lorenzo Brownlee of Caledonia this county, met with a shocking and sudden death. He and others were in the woods cutting down trees for sawlogs. About dark they fell a tree intending it to complete the day's work. It struck an old rotten stump twenty-five or thirty feet in highth, causing it to oscillate for a few moments, and soon it ceased moving, and all thought the stump would not fall, so the started home, but a they were passing, it suddenly fell striking the deceased and breaking his neck, back, leg and arm causing instant death. The unfortunate man leaves a wife and two children to mourn their loss. He was 26 years of age.

County Advocate. Buy AT Home.—If you do not support home enterprise how do you expect to be sustained BUY AT HOME.-If you do not support home yourself in a home business? Some persons have a perfect mania for going out of town to purchase that which they can buy at hone, as though a foreign article was better than the same at home. This is decidedly wrong, and detrimental to the place in which you live. " Live and let live," should be our moto. The only way to build up and keep a town alive is to spend your money at home. By so doing you will not be compelled to sell out and go elsewhere in order to find a "live town."

THE POOR .- As the winter is already at our doors and fireless hearths and empty pantries, must follow a scarcity of out-door labor, we should not forget in the midst of our abundance, the wants of the suffering poor. There are families in our town who require looking after, and those who have been blessed with abundance of this world's goods, should open their hearts and their purse strings to the wants and necessities of others. The rich can afford to be liberal when, called upon for the exercise of Christian charity and benevolence, and no stronger appeal to their sympathies could be presented than an army of helpless women at d children suffering the pangs of hungerand of want. If there are any such at present in our midst, let them be properly cared for. The Almighty has lavished His blessings upon our country during the year that is passed. Our fields have been crowned with plenty, and our garners are overflowing with the fruit; of the barvest. Give to the needy and let the poor be provided for. It is a Christian duty, to say nothing of that chain of sympathy which links us together in a common humanity.

MISPENT EVENINGS .- The boy who spends an hour of each evening lounging on a street corner, wastes in the course of a single year three hundred and sixty-five precious hours, which, if applied to study, would familiarize him with the rudiments, at least, of almost any of the familiar sciences. If in addition to the wasting for a cigar, which is usually the case, the amount thus worse than wasted, would pay for four of the leading magazines of the country Think how much precious time and good money you are wasting, and for what? The gradification afforded by the lounge on the corner or by the cigar is not only temporary, but positively hurtful. You acquire idle and wasteful habits, which will cling to you with each succeeding year. You may in after life shake them off; but the probabilities are that habits thus formed in early life will remain with you open. Although the trains have been behind till your dying day. Be cautioned then in time, and resolve that as the hour spent in idlebeen made. The storm did not, we understand ness is gone forever, you will improve each passing one, and thereby fit yourselves for usefulness and happiness.
