PRINCE ALFRED'S DESCRIPTION OF HIS ELEPAINT HUNT.-The following account of an elephant hunt at the Cape is taken from a letter which the Duke of Edinburgh wrote to the Prince of Wales:-"As soon as the elephant saw us, he charged us. There was so much excitement prevailing, that I thought I had better wait as long as possible. The sight of this enormous beast towering above us, and coming on at this tremendous pace, which one can searcely understand so unwieldy an animal in appearance going, was magnificent-his ears, which are three times as large as those of the Ceylon elephant, spread out square on each side. I could not help being reminded by it of a ship with studdingsails set on both sides. When he had Chapel in Paris. It has forty-nine members. reached about twenty-five yards from us, I fired at his head, The ball struck, and three others fired; and by this time he is the best palindrome, probably, in the was nearly broadside on, when Sir Walmeans the elephant, not Sir Walter) " and & guns." and he rolled over, as I may say, at our was from us as he lay-and we cheered

A TOUGH YARN.-There is a place in Maine so rocky that when the natives plant corn they look for crevices in the rocks, and shoot the grains in with a musket. They can't raise ducks there no how, for the stones are so thick that the ducks can't get their bills between to pick out the grasshoppers, and the only way the sheep can get at the sprigs of bullets in his heart, at about three yards."

But this ain't a circumstances to a place in Maryland. There the land is so poor that it takes two killdeers to cry Kildeer, and on a clear day you can see the grasshoppers climb up a mullen stalk, and look with tears over a fifty acre field, and the bumblebees have to go down on their knees to get at the grass, all the likely to recover.

which can beat that. There the land is in Rome. so sterile that when the wind is northwest they have to tie the children to keep them from being blown away, and takes six frogs to raise one croak, and when the dogs bark they have to lean against the fence-the horses are so thin that it takes twelve of them to make a shadow, and when they kill a beef they have to hold him up to knock him down.

Нурворновіл.—This terrible disease prevails to an alarming extent throughout our country, and in case any persons have the misfortune to be bitten by any of these rabid animals, we reproduce the following remedy. Never having had occasion to try it, we cannot speak of its efficiency, but give it for what it is worth : " An aged German forest keeper, who is on the verge of death, has published a secret cure for hydrophobia, which he says he has used with success for fifty years, saving many men and animals from a horrible death. The wound must be bathed as soon as possible with warm vinegar and water, and when this is dried, a few drops of muriatic acid poured into the wound will destroy the sahva and relieve the patient from danger. This cure appears in the Leipsic Journal, and we give it as we find it,"—Greensburg (Pa.) Argus.

THE Provisional Government of Spain has in many things disappointed the just expectations of that nation and Christendom. -Men whose mission was to be the Apostles of Republicanism, and who started fairly upon that shining road, have preferred to turn back and become the champions of Re action. But at last we have one evidence that the expulsion of the Bourbon has not been in vain; -one illustrious proof that Prim and Serrano comprehend the logic of their insurrection. A Cable dispatch, conveys the authentic intelligence that the Provisional Government will, on the assembly of the Constituent Cortes, submit to it a Constitution of which the great feature will be THE ABOLITION OF SLAVERY THROUGHOUT THE SPANISH DOMINIONS! Thus do the Nations reap the golden fruits of our bloody sowing! Whether Cuban revolt succeed or fail, Cuban slavery is ended.
