A Good Wife .- We can always tell, says an Exchange, what sort of a weman a man marries by the way he'treats the printer. If he gets a common wife, he forgets the printer altogether. If he gets a tolerably good wife, he will send in the notice of his marriage. If he gets a very good one, he will send the printer a slice of eake accompanying the notice. And if he gets an extra good one, he will send a greenonck with the notice. And if gets a glorious, angelic creature-all affection and goodnesshe is sure to send the printer a gold of silver dollar with the notice of his happiness. No good wife allows her husband to owe for his paper, and if their worse half does not attend o these things, it is a clear case of deception : will deceive his wife, and we have our opinion

THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER.-Dr. Franklin remarks that a man as often gets two dollars for he one he spends in informing his mind, as he loes for a dollar he lays out in any other way.
