HARRISBURG, Jan. 18, 1870.

At noon the Speakers and members of the Senate and House assembled upon a platform erected, adjoining the south portico of the State Capitol. Many invited guests were also present. The walks and has smiled upon our fields, and blessed the grounds surrounding the platform were covered with at least three thousand peotion and restore the system to its natural state by alteratives and tonics. I shall hereple.

At an earlier hour of the morning, a procases, such as Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Liver complaint, Catarrh, Ne tralgia, diseases of the throat, urinary organs, and all diseases pecu-liar to females, &c. CATARRH I treat with a new instrument of Capitol.

> The military and civic bodies formed in line on either side of State street, and be tween their ranks the Governor, heads of departments, legislative committees, and invited guests were driven up to the platform. After this the brilliantly attired soldiers and visiting firemen, together with the civilians, marched to a position near the platform where they could hear the inaugural address of the Governor. The temporary stand was decorated with battleflags of Pennsylvania regiments.

The procession, as it was originally designed and as it was intended to be formed, included seven fire companies of -the city of Harrisburg, who were assigned a position in the Sixth and Seventh divisions Among the visiting soldiers were the "Ex. celsior Reserves," a colored regiment from Philadelphia (about one hundred strong). who were assigned a position in the First division, in advance of the firemen. For some reason, either because the negroes were given the preference in the line, or because they objected to march in company with the colored mea, the seven Harrisburg fire companies withdrew from the procession, and refused to take part in the proceedings. They, however, left a detail of five men as an escort to the Good Will Engine and Good Will Hose Companies of Philadelphia. These two visiting companies maintained their respective positions to the end, and nore much admired stimulate our people to fresh energies, and to the development of new enterprises. Our manufactories have multiplied, plenty labors of the husbandman. Peace has restored our people to their homes, and cheer. ed our firesides. The rates of taxation have been reduced, and are entirely abolished upon real estate for the use of the Commonwealth. Our State debt is being steadily and surely liquidated. Immense sums have been paid for pensions and other charities The cause of education has advanced, and the institutions for the support and tuition of the soldiers' orphans have been liberal. ly supplied. Railroads have been constructed, and new material resources developed. And thus our State and nation are rapidly progressing in the attainment of those ele. ments of greatness which have already placed our country in the foremost rank of the Powers of the earth. The great Railroad which binds our State to the far West, and it in turn to the Oriental nations, has been completed, and all our efforts to add to our material prosperity have been erowned with unparalleled success.

It was my privilege to announce from this stand three years ago the principles which would guide me in the administration of the office of Governor. At that time I dwelt upon and expressed my views in reference to all questions then occupying a share of public attention. I have since, from time to time, in messages to the Legislature, set forth the condition of the State, recommended such mersures as 1 deemed expedient and calculated to ad vance her interests, and expressed my views upon the various topics of the day that were of State or National importance. And having fully reflected thereon, I am the more confirmed therein, and know of no rea son why I should not endorse and reiterate them as fully on this occasion as if again promulgated, word for word. And now acknowledging my responsibility in its broadest sense, as a representative to bry constituents, and considering the magnitude of the interests which have again been committed to my charge, I feel it is due to the people, and incumbent upon myself, to refer them to the documents indicated for an outline of the general policy which is in tended as a guide for the incoming admin istration, rather than encutaber this address or unnecessarily delay this audience with their repetition. I have no new pledges to make, but confidently refer to the record of my past life as evidence, at least, to my zeal and devotion to the best interests of my State and country, and for the rectitude o my intentions. And although the ability which I bring to the discharge of such high duties may be limited. I shall confidently rely upon the kind indulgence of my fel low citizens and upon a conscientious effort

Owing to the many efforts made on the part of free traders for the abolishment of the natural and wholesome protection now afforded to our home industry and to tabor, I consider it a subject which claims a portion of our time and attention. If our national industry and natural productions, represented by thousands of factories, mines and other sources of labor, are to be preserved, there should be no reduction of duties which shall enable the underpaid and overworked population of the Old World to flood our States with the product of their mines and workshops at the cost of our des. truction. The articles thus admitted would undersell the products of our artisans at our very doors, and our factories would be closed, as heretotore, by summar causes. This will throw out of employment thousands of industrious mon, and entail ruin upon them and their families merely for the benefit and aggran lizement of foreign manafacturers and capitalists. As soon as our industabl arms are paralyzed and competition is destroyed, the monopolist can command his own price, and it is thus clear that the policy of free trade can never permantly boncht any country that will sometion its adoption. Impelled by every feeling of interest, humanity, and justice for our arti. snus and laborers, we should undesitatingly set our faces against this heresy. We shold therefore, not only ennestly legislate for the benefit of capital but for the toiling sons and daughters of our country. In should be our constant effort to improve their social condition, to advance their in tellectual status, and, above all, to shield them from the dstitution which is threat-

I earnestly invoke a continuance of the blessine's and favors which we, as a people, have long enjoyed ; that Pennsylvania may be ever ready to extend her sypathies to these strugling for liberty, to succor the helpless exile, and be an asylum to the persecuted and oppressed ; and thus forever identify herself with the cause of conal rights and with the interests of universal freedom, justice, and humanity. Then can we with truth and pride proclaim, "Long live the commonweathh," whose guiding principles are found in the motto of our State, Virtue, Liberty, and Independence."

At the conclusion of the Governor's ad. dress, about thirty members of the Scott Legion, headed by Colonel Reynolds, addressed the Governor in a speech of congratulation. His reply touched upon old associ. ations connected with the Mexican war, and was applauded.

Governor Geary's Cabinet will remain the same as heretofore. Indeed, no changes will be made in any of the positions of hich he has the appointment for the resent. The following are the officers of he Administration now on duty here :

INAUGURAL / DDRESS. Fellow Citizens: - Having been honor-

'ed, a second time, by the voluntary suffrages of my countrymen as their choice for Chief Magistrate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I have, in the presence of God, and of this assembled multitude, renewed the solemn and binding obligation required of me by law, to support the State and National Constitutions, and to perform with fidelity the duties devolving Handbills, &c., done in a neat manner. and at the LOWEST PRICE, FOR CASH, at upon me as Governor. It shall be my constant aim and most earnest effort to observe the very letter as well as the full spirit, meaning, and intent, of the obligation I have just taken.

> Deeply impressed with the most profound gratitude, I can but express my most hearty thanks to the good citizens of this Commonwealth for the generous confidence and partiality they have reposed in me by re-election to the most houorable and most responsible position in their gift. But knowing well their exactions and requirements of one who occupies a position so exalted, it is with extreme diffidence, 1 again undertake responsibilities of such vast importance, which even the boldest and most gifted might hesitate to assume. And how. ever determined may be my endeavors to realize the expectations of my friends in support of the right, and to battle against whatever, in my judgment, may be wrong. still I am conscious of the necessity for some sustaining power, and, therefore, I unhesitatingly acknowledge my dependence upon the enlightened support and patriotism of my fellow-citizens, and my firm reliance upon the unerring wisdom and never failing aid of Him who controls alike day. the destinies of individuals and of nations. Difficulties of no trdinary character con stantly suround your Executive officer in the discharge of the many duties de volving upon him, concerning each of which there may be conflicting opinious. It be, ing, therefore, impossible to satisfy all, his only safeguard is to adopt, and act in accordance with those sterling and beneficent maxims to which the early fathers gave utterance, which have been sauctioned by wisdom, prosperity of our institutions, and the liberty and happiness of our people. The constitution vests othe supreme executive power" of the State Governor, and directs that "he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed." The supreme earthly authority recognized by us. therefore, is the law - the rightfully determined will of the people. "No citizen is so exalted as to be above, and none so low as to be beneath its power." The execu tive is as much the subject of the laws of the State as the humblest individual withn its borders. In pursuance of these principles, and in the execution of the laws, I have endeavored during my term of office faithfully to dicharge every official duty with a full reference to my sworn obligation, and as I shall answer at the last great industrial pursuits In my several messages to the Legislature, I have taken occasion to refer to a subject which I regard as of paramount importance to the prosperity, and even stabil ity of our Government. No nation can long exist that attempts to violate any of its ob ligations. The most prominent moong these is the faithful payment of all its indebted ness. No good reason can be given for the repudiation of a single farthing. I said in my message of January, 1868, "The people of Pennsylvania, ever true to the Union und unswerving in their determination to preserve its honor, integrity, and perpetuity, are proud and free to assert the sacredness of the untional dobt, and that its ultimate payment in full must be secured. In my message of 1869 I called attention to the same subject, in these words : "The voice of Pennsylvania, as well as that of the ma-

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18-This evening here was a display of fireworks in front of the Jones House, witnessed by several thousand people.

The band attached to the Good Will Fire Company this evening screwaded State Freusurer Mackey at his rooms at the Lochiel House. They were afterwards cuter. tained by Mr. Mackey, who neknowledged their courtesy, and called upon Joseph Bonham, of l'hiladelphia, to express his thanks at length.

Governor Geary is understood to express is disappointment as to the course of the Inreisburg fire companies. They received in annual appropriation of one hundred dollars, each, from the Legislature, which will probably be withdrawn by the Republicau majority. This course is at least threatened.
