

Elk County Advocate.

J. S. BORDWELL, Editor. SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1870.

FOR CONGRESS.

HON. GLENNI W. SCOFFIELD.

FOR ASSEMBLY.

WILLIAM E. LATHEY

FOR PRESIDENT JUDGE.

L. D. WETMORE

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

For County Commissioner, A. W. GRAY, of Jay township.

For Jury Commissioner, CHARLES MEAD, of Ridgway.

For County Surveyor, J. L. BROWN, of Jones township.

For County Auditor, CHARLES McVEAN, of St. Marys.

A Word to the Charitable and the Prosperous.

In the fall of 1868 this paper was in the hands of, and owned by J. F. Moore, Esq., and was Democratic, advocating the Election of Seymour and Blair. Two weeks prior to the Presidential election, and after the State election, Mr. Moore was called to another field of labor, and the office and paper was offered for sale. The Republican party in the County then was in a state of hilarity, and some of the leading Republicans in this place, without knowing the difference between before election and after election, thought it would be a good move for the party, and for the morals of the county, to purchase the concern and make it a Republican paper. A contract was made with Mr. Moore, and James H. Hagerty, J. S. Bordwell and John R. Baird, acting as trustees for those who paid a portion of the purchase money in hand to Mr. Moore, and for those who should pay thereafter, and the paper was purchased. These gentlemen had assurances that the money to pay for it would be obtained, but only a portion of it has been forthcoming. Mr. Moore assigned his contract to a very worthy and liberal member of the Democratic party in this place, for a debt due the latter gentleman, who after waiting patiently for the money due him, fully as long as any Republican would or ought to have waited, sued the Trustees and obtained a judgment against them for the balance due upon the contract, about $900. Upon this judgment a very worthy Republican became bail for stay of execution as time was of importance to the whole republican party of this county, numbering as settled by the resolution of the late Republican County Convention of Elk County $63, as against $907 in that county. The time for the stay run out some time ago. A Judgment ripe for execution is recorded in the court of the highest civil power in this county, we cannot disguise the fact; the Sheriff has now in his hands a paper, with a seal upon it, and upon that seal is the Coat of arms of this Commonwealth impressed, and the opening paragraph of the paper is "The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to the Sheriff of Elk County, Greeting: The kind Sheriff says it is a 'Fie far' and he must have it paid. He was asked if he had no bowels of compassion, and he replied 'not one entrail' The document, and the money must be returned to the court, which meets in this place the 7th day of November. The debt was at first $1200, it is now about $900. If we can raise $500 from that description of persons who are referred to at the head of the article, the balance can be made up here, and the organ of the proud Republican party in this county saved. If not it must disgracefully trail in the dust, and the three gentlemen who acted as Trustees for the Republican party must pay the debt which belongs to the party to pay, which would be gross injustice to them. If we had officeholders in this county we would bleed them; but we have not. We tried to have a candidate that he might have been depleted for this purpose, but he was wrenched from us. We are politically poor and impecunious. We implore aid now, material aid, and we can be saved. If any one doubts what we can do we can send to the Prothonotary of this county and get a certified copy of this record.

Friends and fellow citizens, remittances sent to James H. Hagerty or J. S. Bordwell, of this place (Ridgway, Elk County, Pa.) will be thankfully received, and appropriated to a good cause, and acknowledged in our columns, if requested, and the autographs of the senders preserved for future reference. If we are not relieved as we desire, this may be the last appeal we shall ever make to a liberal and benevolent public, for our confidence in it will be lost.

'In the almanacs,' says a Paris paper, 'we find a list of nine princes of the Bonaparte family; how many of them are in front of the enemy?'

Response of Erie Co. Committee.

Below we give the response of the Erie County Committee to a communication of our Committee:

ERIE, Pa., Sept 19 1870. W. S. Hamlin, Esq., Chairman of Elk Co. Republican Committee.

DEAR SIR.—I have the honor of acknowledging the receipt of your letter of the 3d inst., addressed to me in reply, to the offer of the Erie County Committee made at their meeting on the 25th ult.

I have to state that your communication together with one from the Warren Committee on the same subject were regarded by me as presenting questions of so grave a character as to need the aid and advice of the County Committee. Accordingly that body was called to meet on the 13th inst. Nearly all of the members of our large committee responded to the call.

The replies from Warren and Elk counties were laid before them for action. A delegation from Warren being present for consultation, a committee was appointed to confer with them, who after an interview made a report with the following resolution annexed:

"Resolved That waiving the question of the regularity or irregularity of the nomination made on the 11th of August at Irvinton, we do in behalf of the Republicans of Erie County, nominate and present the name of Hon. L. D. Wetmore as our candidate for President Judge of the sixth Judicial District, hereby pledging the hearty support of the Republicans of Erie County." Which was passed.

This action prompted by the unanimity with which the nominee was being supported by the Republicans of Elk County, and by the representations of the high character, the fine attainments, irreproachable life and eminent fitness of Mr. Wetmore for the position, made by his Warren neighbors has now placed the three counties of the District in political union; and in commending the fact I can officially and personally respond to accept the kind sentiments expressed by you towards Mr. Wetmore, a fact now alluded to with more emphasis as you know from the proceedings at Irvinton the zeal and pertinacity with which I adhered to our county's first choice, Hon. S. E. Woodruff. Be assured that now, prompted by the same wish towards having, which you have so well expressed, it will be the aim of our Republicans to maintain at this election the prestige which Erie County has so long enjoyed as the Banner County of the North West.

Our ticket now complete, we are hard at work and trust that the same activity throughout the Sixth Judicial, and the Nineteenth Congressional Districts may give to our candidates the majorities they merit.

Very truly yours, D. B. McCREARY, Chairman. M. E. DUNLAP, Secretary.

THE WAR IN EUROPE

LONDON, September 24.—A correspondent's letter just received, which left Paris on the night of the 20th, brings eight hours later advices than previously received. It confirms the rumor previously expressed of another revolution in the capital, this time in the interest of the extreme radical party known as "Reds."

There is great danger of a revolutionary outbreak, involving another change of Government.

The Reds are furious against the present leaders, and express themselves eager for place and power. They have been thoroughly organized, and evince a disposition to seize possession of the Hotel de Ville as the initial step of their rebellious programme. Resistance to their plans will be difficult. It is impossible to say what would be the effect of their obtaining control of the Government, but the people dread pillage and assassination.

LONDON, September 24.—The Times has the following details of the meeting of King William of Prussia and the Emperor Napoleon at Bellevue: The meeting was very cordial apparently. After shaking hands they entered the conservatory. The officers came out, leaving the two alone. A dialogue then took place, of which the following is the substance:

King William—"God has given our arms victory in the war you have precipitated."

Emperor Napoleon—"The war was not sought by me, but was imposed upon me by public opinion."

The King, asserting emphatically, 'Your ministers created that opinion. Your army, however, certainly fought bravely.'

The Emperor—"But the Prussians had the discipline that mine has recently lacked."

The King—"Before and since 1866 we studied carefully the experience and inventions of other nations."

The Emperor—"Your artillery now is everything; it is the finest in the world."

The King—"In the matter of artillery particularly, we have utilized the experience of other nations."

The Emperor—"Prince Frederick Charles decided the event of the last battle, his army carrying out my last position.'

The King—"You err; it was my son who fought at Sedan."

The Emperor—"Where then was Prince Frederick Charles?"

The King—"His army corps is before Metz."

The Emperor's self-possession apparently deserted him momentarily on receiving this intelligence.

The King continued; 'Have you anything to propose?'

The Emperor—"Nothing whatever; I am a prisoner."

The King—"With whom, then, am I to treat?'

The Emperor—"With the Empress; with the Government at Paris; I am powerless; I can make no terms and give no orders."

The King—"Will Wilhelmshöhe suit you as a residence?'

The Emperor—"Yes."

The conversation was continued a short time, the King expressing condolence for the Emperor's misfortunes. He at length withdrew with every mark of respect.

TOWNS, September 28.—A letter dated Paris 24th, says the population is animated by one sentiment, the defence of the capital. The Mobile and National Guard's behavior with great calmness and determination. A Zouave who fled in the recent fight without firing a shot, and afterwards attempted to kill the officer who arrested him, has been shot by order of court martial.

Severe measures have been taken with regard to others who behaved badly. The cowards are mostly recruits, who joined the fragments of the Zouave regiments which escaped from Sedan.

THE CORPS IN MICHIGAN.—The Detroit Free Press says the splendid weather of the past week (ending September 10) has been well improved by farmers in their fall work. A large amount of wheat has been sown, and a very large amount of ground prepared that will be sown the coming week. The hot weather has ripened the corn and put it out of danger from frost, and at least half of the crop is cut and put in shock. The large crop of buckwheat is maturing rapidly, and will soon be harvested. In some few localities the potato crop is nearly destroyed by the bug, but where the insect has not appeared the crop is first rate. A large amount of hay has been cut and secured during the week. The late cut grass will make a sufficient amount of fodder, of superior quality. The crop of broom-corn is excellent, and all of it out of the way of frost.
