REMEDY FOR COUGHS.—A correspondent of the Maine Farmer says the following is an effective remedy for cough: "Half a tablespoon of pulverized alum in a little molasses. It is a simple remedy, one almost always at hand, and one dose seldom fails to give relief. If it should, repeat it after an hour."

ANOTHER SWINDLE.—We notice by our exchanges that a new swindling game has been discovered in various places, which consists in an agent calling at a house and displaying a number of sealed envelopes containing samples of silk, merino, catios, etc., collecting twenty-five cents for a choice and promising to send a dress pattern like the sample in the envelope chosen, for the small sum of one dollar; but neither man nor dress is ever seen afterward. Our readers should look out for these swindlers.

AVERAGE WEIGHT AND SIZE OF MEN.—Dr. Hutchinson collected the height and weight of upwards of 5,000 persons. The following table, according to his calculation, shows the relation which should exist between height and weight in a healthy person—

Table with 2 columns: HEIGHT and WEIGHT. Lists measurements from 5 feet 1 inch to 6 feet 11 inches and corresponding weights.

ARE the patrons of our public school aware that every day their children spend in our elegant new school house, they are exposing their health because the furnace intended to warm the building proves insufficient for that purpose? Let those who are interested attend to this, that the proper steps may be taken to have this evil remedied, and immediately, for this of all things needs prompt action. It is simply a system of torure to students and teachers to compel them to shiver through these cold winter days, in a room insufficiently warmed, resulting in nothing but evil, for either teachers or scholars can do themselves justice while laboring in an uncomfortable school room. The attention of the school directors is called to the matter. It would seem the better plan to be a little extra expense to provide for the comfort of the schools than to pay doctor bills next Spring.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for January, 1872.—This number of Godey contains a handsome steel plate with the title "The Secret," a steel plate title-page, a tableau picture, and one of the finest fashion-plates we have seen for some time. In addition to this an extra fine plate will be found of parlor ornaments, or more properly a design for furnishing a bay window, printed in a variety of rich colors. Then we have the double plate—"Mrs. Lollipop's Party"—the first of the promised series. "A New Year's Call" is a choice wood-cut. And any number of engravings belonging to the numerous departments for which the Book is noted. A goodly number of stories and miscellaneous reading, an excellent piece of music by the musical editor, and a suburban residence in the Italian style by the Messrs. Hobbs complete the attractions of the January number.

DEATH FROM BLOWING DOWN A LAMP CHIMNEY.—The Luzerne Union records another terrible accident resulting from the too common practice of blowing down a lamp chimney to extinguish the light. The casualty occurred in Cleveland, Pa., a few nights since. Mrs. Elizabeth Stark disturbed to retire about 10 o'clock. She attempted to extinguish her coal oil lamp, in a very common manner, by blowing down the chimney. The lamp exploded, throwing over her the blazing liquid, and in an instant she was enveloped in flames and was terribly burned. There seems no end to accidents resulting from the careless use of kerosene, and people cannot be too careful how they manage and handle their lighted lamps.

Hints on Health.

First of all, see to it that you start right. It is vitally important. Avoid all hereditary taints. Be continually anxious about yourself. Remember we are fearfully and wonderfully made, and this curious mechanism may at any time get out of repair. It may break down altogether. This is death. Be on the lookout for symptoms. They generally precede a disease. Consult your pulse every half hour, and make sure by frequent personal observations that your tongue isn't coated. You should weigh yourself at least once a day, though it is not necessary to test your lungs more than once a week. Keep your feet and your friendship warm.

Food is very important. No man can live long without it. That Chinaman succeed in doing it, and laying up money besides, proves nothing. Your food should be taken in moderation, avoiding overeating, to which one is very prone when dining at somebody else's expense; and equally cautious not to eat too little, unless you happen to occupy a seat at a cheap boarding house. A good, plain, nutritious diet is what you want. Mention it to your landlady and you'll probably get it. I cannot lay down any special rules as to what you'd better eat. Breadstuffs are bad. Never eat bread. The products by which the article is rendered light and white is very deleterious to health. Never eat hot cakes—nor cold ones. Corn bread is fatal. Take to the wheat in grain; carry some in your pockets, and chew the food nature designed for you. If your teeth are bad, or you have none, soak the wheat in castor oil. For dinner you want something substantial—poik, for example. If you choose pork, stick to it right through the year; many a man has built himself up in the pork packing business; and then abrupt changes are dangerous.

For tea something very light should be taken, such as lobsters and milk, cucumbers and ice cream, or cold mince pie, pickles and hard cider. Then for lunch (which is to be eaten, of course, immediately before going to bed), we have always found plenty of sourkrot, Welsh rabbit, pickled walnuts, hot saleratus biscuit, with London porter and green tea, very agreeable and soothing. Take plenty of exercise in the open air, or in a treadmill, if well ventilated Join a circus. Walking is excellent; so running, particularly if you can run ahead of your ticket. Men who do not believe in advertising are about the first ones to rush to the editor when they get into a scrape, to get him not to mention it.

As daylight can be seen through very small holes, so little things will illustrate a person's character.

HAIR VIGOR.—In common with many others we have felt a lively interest in the investigations which Dr. Ayer has been making to discover the causes of failure of the hair, and to provide a remedy. His researches are said to have been much more thorough and exhaustive than any ever made before. The result is now before us under the name of Ayer's Hair Vigor. We have given it a trial, and with full satisfaction. It equals our most favorable anticipations. Our gray hairs have disappeared, or resumed their original color; and a visible crop of soft, silken hair has sprung on part of the scalp which was entirely bald.—[Daily Voice, Boston.]

BURLINGTON.

Leaving the East and arriving at Chicago or Indianapolis, how shall we reach the West? The best Line is acknowledged to be the C. B. & Q., joined together with the B. & M. Railroad by the Iron Bridge at Burlington, and called the Burlington Route.

The Main line of the Route running to Omaha, connects with the great Pacific Roads, and forms to-day the leading route to California. The Middle Branch, entering Nebraska at Plattsmouth, passes through Lincoln, the State Capital, and will this year be finished to Fort Kearney, forming the shortest route across the Continent by over 100 miles.

Another branch of the B. M., diverging at Red Oak, falls into a line running down the Missouri through St Joe to Kansas City, and all Kansas.

Passengers by this route to Kansas, see Illinois, Southern Iowa, and Missouri, and by a slight divergence, can see Nebraska also.

Lovers of fine views should remember the Burlington Route, for its towns "high-gleaming from afar"—its tree-fringed streams—its rough bluffs and quarries—its corn-oceans stretching over the prairies further than the eye can reach.

Land-buyers will be sure to remember it, for they have friends among the two thousand who have already bought farms from Geo. S. Harris, the Land Commissioner of the B. & M. R. R. at Burlington, Iowa, or among the four thousand home-steaders and pre-emptors who last year filed claims in the Lincoln land office, where "Uncle Sam is rich enough to give us all a farm."
