We publish the President's Message on our first page to-day. It is well worth reading.

COAL has been found on the land of J. S. Hyde about one mile south-west of this place. The coal vein is about five feet thick, and is of a good quality.

"Geo. P. Rowell & Co., the N. Y. Advertising Agents, have the monopoly of space and location in many hundred newspapers, and know, by their experience, just where to invest money to the best advantage."

ITS ROSES, the poisonous hair preparations have had their day and done their mischief. Now comes along Nature's Hair Restorative, a perfectly clear article, which restores gray hair and keeps the head in a healthy condition. See advertisement. 412.

"GOOD MORNING, Mr. A! Why that is a splendid suit of clothes you have on, and what an elegant fit they give you, where did you get it?"

"This suit, Mr. B. I purchased at the new clothing and gent's furnishing store of HORTON & MILLER at a surprisingly low price, and so well am I satisfied with it that I advise all those who wish to be fitted, to give them a call."

The last son of Mr. B. he was making a "B." line for HORTON & MILLER'S.

Wilcox, Elk Co., Pa., Dec. 11, 1871. Editor of the ADVOCATE:

The Rip Van Winkles of the ancient village of Smethport have roused themselves from twenty years sleep; rubbed their eyes and their rheumatic joints, and are making daily new discoveries, and mention two

1st. That oil exists in the said county of McKean and from the jubilant tone of the McKean Miner of the 7th inst. we would suppose the "Five Mile Well" is five miles from Smethport and was shut down by McKean county enterprise and money. The well in question is miles from Wilcox, eighteen miles from Smethport and not a dollar of McKean county money has ever gone into it. Some time since a Wilcox man offered an engine to the sleepy village free of charge to test the oil question but the villagers couldn't raise half enough to run it. "How high is that?"

Second discovery is that small pox has made its appearance at this place; over this the Miner waxeth very facetious, so very facetious, indeed, we should fear a brain fever as the result did we not remember the small place it would have to work in. We have had one case of small pox and two or three cases of varioloid, but owing to the prompt, efficient and judicious measures taken and over which the Miner is so funny, the progress of the disease was arrested; we here know nothing of "liver complaint or heart disease," but we hazard the opinion that the Miner man is troubled with worms.

The idea that the fossilized old town of Smethport with its grass grown streets and its Rip Van Winkles, should have the impudence to criticize this wide awake, go-ahead, "git-up-and-dust" city of Wilcox, with its big tannery, its big mill, and its oil well, is so absurd we drop the subject in disgust and subscribe ourselves

PETROLEUM.-The Pittsville Herald gives the following as the latest solution of the origin of petroleum: It is now asserted that petroleum is not of vegetable origin, but is derived from animal fat which has been subjected to heat and pressure. The absence of iodine proves that it cannot have been derived from sea weed, and the presence of ammonia, which does not belong to the vegetable kingdom, is also corroborative evidence that it is derived from animal remains.

BURLINGTON.

Leaving the East and arriving at Chicago or Indianapolis, how shall we reach the West? The best Line is acknowledged to be the C. B. & Q. joined together with the B. & M. Railroad by the Iron Bridge at Burlington, and called the Burlington Route.

The Main Line of the Route running to Omaha, connects with the great Pacific Roads, and forms to-day the leading route to California. The Middle Branch, entering Nebraska at Plattsmouth, passes through Lincoln, the State Capital, and will this year be finished to Fort Kearney, forming the shortest route across the Continent by over 100 miles.

Another branch of the B. M., diverging at Red Oak, falls into a line running down the Missouri through St. Joe to Kansas City, and all Kansas.

Passengers by this route to Kansas, see Illinois, Southern Iowa, and Missouri, and, by a slight divergence, can see Nebraska also.

Lovers of fine views should remember the Burlington Route, for its towns "high-gleaming from afar"-its tree-fringed streams-its rough bluffs and quarries-its corn-oceans stretching over the prairies further than the eye can reach.

Land-buyers will be sure to remember it, for they have friends among the two thousand who have already bought farms from Geo. S. Harris, the Land Commissioner of the B. & M. R. R. at Burlington, Iowa, or among the four thousand home-steaders and pre-emptors who last year filed claims in the Lincoln land office, where "Uncle Sam is rich enough to give us all a farm."
