

Republican State Ticket.

For Judge of the Supreme Court. HON. ISAAC G. GORDON, OF JEFFERSON COUNTY.

For State Treasurer, HON. R. W. MACKEY, OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

THE Democratic County Convention at the Court House on Tuesday, 2d inst., pursuant to call, and its proceedings were conducted with a spirit of harmony and unanimity that could hardly be expected even allowing the efforts of our cotemporary across the way to have had their full effect.

The ticket nominated is like the offence of Hamlet's uncle. It needs more than the presence of one respectable name upon it to disinfect it and render it at all fit for people with ordinarily sensitive olfactories to associate with, at least we would prefer to be to the windward of it. Carbolic soap, "bromo-chloralum," chloride of lime, and other disinfectants may clean up this sweet-scented posy, but we would prefer three ordinary sized rattlesnakes and a well-developed case of small-pox in our house.

We haven't space, ability, or material to give a full review of the ticket this week, but give in another column a part of it, which we hope will be accepted by our readers as a sort of an apology until the return of our devil from New York, whither we have sent him, for men and material to do the subject justice.

Letter from Ohio.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, September 2nd, 1873.

DEAR ADVOCATE—With the thought that a letter from your truly might be welcome or otherwise, and perhaps both, I take up my pen, and proceed. You and I know of a certain editor, or ex-editor, who used to cut the letters of some of his correspondents pretty freely: perhaps my letters will share the same fate at your hands. It would, perhaps, be more to your taste—and your subscribers too—if you were to cut out all between "Dear Advocate," and the signature. However I hope for more mercy. What the world is doing in Elk, I hear once in a while; but whether there are six papers there, or more, I couldn't say from actual inspection. Let it be recorded that this should be remedied.

POLITICAL.

Of course you have heard of the various political births in Ohio, this year and last: the political deaths will come in next Fall. First of all, you will please understand that I'm still a Democrat, and feel more copper bottomed than ever. So don't expect anything but a fair whacking away at the subject generally. For I have too good sense, I hope, to thrust forward Democratic views through a Republican paper, even if I thought you would publish them. A paper, now-a-days, should publish the news, as it is; and in that way I propose to give it. Nevertheless, allow me to say, between us two, that if a hungry patriot can't be suited in either the Republican or Democratic party, he had better get up a little establishment of his own, or join the "Liberal" party—of sore-heads and political bummers. The situation in Ohio, is, however, decidedly interesting. The famous ALLEN COUNTY RESOLUTIONS, which culminated in the Liberal or New Party, or Third Party movement, Convention, (as it is differently called) at Columbus, O., on July 30th, were gotten up in this city, and sent off to Allen county, so as to make it appear they came "fresh" from the "people" in the country; apart from the influences of the city ward politicians. They were intrusted to the FAMOUS CUNNINGHAM, and introduced in the Democratic Convention of Allen county; and the joke of the movement coming from the Democratic party will be better appreciated when it is considered that Cunningham's Democracy is not over four or five years old, and only cooled off, to be moulded into Liberalism, when the Allen Democracy declined to permit him to erect his breeches pocket into an abiding place for its tenants. Here, in Hamilton county, both old parties are pretty well split up: the backsliders from Republicanism. I admit are not so numerous as those from Democracy; but it is hard telling who belongs to any party just now. The Liberals announced a ticket in this county, and the Democratic Convention of Allen county, and the joke of the movement coming from the Democratic party will be better appreciated when it is considered that Cunningham's Democracy is not over four or five years old, and only cooled off, to be moulded into Liberalism, when the Allen Democracy declined to permit him to erect his breeches pocket into an abiding place for its tenants. Here, in Hamilton county, both old parties are pretty well split up: the backsliders from Republicanism. I admit are not so numerous as those from Democracy; but it is hard telling who belongs to any party just now. The Liberals announced a ticket in this county, and the Democratic Convention of Allen county, of the Republican party to be successful, and if success were attainable through the aid of good men on the new ticket, the Republicans should make use of that means to succeed. Next day it took the back track with a vengeance, and now takes its loyal "pap" like a little man. The Gazette, strict, blue-nosed, straight laced, dignified Republican took up the new party with its editorial tongs, turned it over, smelled it and then chucked it away with holy horror: the Commercial, the leading paper of the west, (and one of the few real newspapers of the United States) in Liberalism, cackled over the youthful party in high glee, regarding it as the one thing altogether lovely; the Enquirer, the Democratic copper lined (that's me) organ, treats it as small game—which, may be, is a mistake—and goes for the Republican candidate for Governor, in rather a lively style. The German papers are equally divided.

THE AFRICAN IN THE LUMBER YARD. Not to be outdone in busting things in general, by the white trash, the colored aristocracy of Ohio, met in solemn and dark conclave at Chillicothe, Ohio, lately, and resolved with a wherewith, that they regretted the Republican party considered its favors done the African: in the nature of a fee simple interest in their votes. Col. Bob Harlan, a good-looking, smart chap of Cincinnati, (he is a son of Ex. Gov. Harlan (of Kentucky) and a slave woman,) with a Federal appointment in the Post Office, to the tune of $3,000 a year, tried to get in a RESOLUTION ENDORSING GRANT, but the convention, under the lead of Peter H. Clark, wouldn't resolutely worth a cent on Harlan's motion, and the meeting broke up in a row. The truth of this matter is that Peter H. Clark is mad because Bob Harlan got the office he wanted for himself. That the negro vote may be counted for the Republican party, in Ohio at least, I think is beyond a doubt, and, to me, it seems as though it would be exceedingly ungrateful in them to desert the REPUBLICAN FOR THE DEMOCRATIC party, all the latter organization ever did for our colored lambs of the flock, could be readily packed away in a flea's eye. Personally, and seeking to make no one responsible for my assertion, I never was in favor of granting them the right of suffrage. A number of GERMAN AND IRISH met in separate conventions last week, and vigorously resolved that they had been doing the work of the great parties long enough; and, unless their claims were admitted, they would hereafter (as the Irishmen resolved) vote with whatever party most fully recognized their claims for office; and the Germans did substantially the same. They are every one of them

SORE HEADS who have been the "Tite Barnacles," feeding off the great parties, and are mad because somebody else has got a grab. The respectable IRISH AND GERMAN element is already denouncing the movement. Many, whose names were used, have published cards denouncing the whole thing. It is a species of Know-nothingism which the people will very properly denounce. The German and Irish are too sensible to be led by the demagogues of their nations. From what I have written, you will see the coming FIGHT IN OHIO will be an exceedingly lively one. In my next I will try to be interesting, and say something. Understand, I am simply trying to tell you the facts, and if any expression of a partizan nature, be wedged in, excuse it; the opinions are my own, and who then could expect them to be sensible? L. J. B.

They find in New York that there is no provision in the new license law for prosecuting those who sell without a license. A lady correspondent writes that she knows very little about the back pay question; but she is going to draw her back hair up over her head, according to the prevailing fashion, if it lifts her off her heels and endangers her equilibrium, and she would like to know what the newspapers are going to do about it. A local journal reports that at Tremont, Schuykill county, recently a dog pursued a large rat into a brewery, and the rat seeing no means of escape, jumped into the throat of the dog, just as the latter had extended his jaws for the purpose of seizing the animal. It became wedged in the dog's throat, so that it was impossible to remove it, and the dog died of strangulation. We are cautiously reminded that the New World is becoming an old world by the recent discovery of ruins of three Spanish cities in the mountains of Talamanca, Costa Rica. A century has passed since those cities were inhabited, and among the ruins is a fort with cannon all decayed and rusty. The remains of the first white settlements in America should be as interesting to American antiquarians as the beggar-infested relics of ancient Rome.
