PLAYING DOUBLE .- D. P. Baird, the Democratic nominee for Assembly, is playing fast and loose on local questions in which Elk County is interested. We have from undoubted sources the fact that Mr. Baird has pledged the St. Mary's people to use his influence, if he announcing his readiness to starve at pracis elected, to have the county seat removed to their borough, and he has also pledged to the people of this section not to aid the St. Mary's people in their effort to remove the county seat. Is such a man to be trusted? See to it citizens of Elk that he is defeated!

The premiums offered at the Rome, Ga., fair, for the most efficient cook among the girls of the district, gave rise to a more lively competition than any other premium offered. There is a traditional belief among the girls that whoever wins a premium will get a husband before the year is out.

Letter from Ohio.

CINCINNATI, OHIO,) October 7th, 1873.] DEAR ADVOCATE:

THE PANTO. I am happy to say, has not been produc tive of serious evils in this section. The Banks continue to pay on checks to depositors, but refuse discounting. This is exceedingly creditable, and shows the solidity of Cinciunati, compared with cities both east and west; notably Chicago and New York: but as Chicago is mainly owned in New York and Boston, and as New York is mainly owned by the restless devil of stock gambling propensities, perhaps there is not so much matter for surprise in the panicky condition of those "sattlements." The Banks of Covington and Newport, Kentucky which cities are immediately opposite Cincinnati-have followed in the wake of heir larger sister. Since Jay Cooke -whose collapse started this panie -used to announce the National Debt a national blessing, I wonder whether he considers his own a chip of the old block?

THE GREAT EXPOSITION

closed last Saturday. The average daily attendance has been a little over 20,000; REV. WM. MARTIN, of Ridgway, making the handsome number of 600,000 month. Of this enormous number perhaps 450,000 were now residents of the city. The best test of the wonderful success of the Exposition was the unabated interest exhibited up to the closing moments. Its expenses were $80,000: the exact figures of receipts-except for admission-are not yet precisely ascertained, a guarantee fund of 250,000 has been raised for the Exposition of next year, which will be a success equal to any that have preceeded it. The showing of Textile fabrics, Manufactures, Statuary, Paintings, Gold and Silver ware, Tebac cos, Clothing, Sewing Machines, Millinery Goods, Provisions, Fancy work &c., &c., spread out over eight and one half acres, and arranged in the most elegant style; the vast crowds in attendance: the music, the brave women and fair men. self, and if you don't have to go hone on a shutter, it will be because, being a printer, you of course, are able to stand anything even to trying to tell the truth and making a reasonable failure of the job.

THERE IS A PARTY which has the happiest faculty of knowing just how "not to do it " A party which carries a razor in its pocket and cuts its throat-the party's throat that is-at the critical moment. That's the party to which I belong. Since last Thursday it has been going round with its gullet sewed up and full of life as a last year's potate bug It has slaughtered itself in Hamilton County and the vo'e here will carry the State. The opinion of Democrats who repudiate a political trick, is, that the action of the Enquirer and the late Convention in its residutions demanding the indictment of the present Governor of Ohio, and Republiyears ago, "Carpet bagged" from Massachusetts to Ohio, and hung out his shingle tising law. He didu't starve. A very few years had elapsed, when he was elected City Solicitor; which office he filled with average credit. On the breaking out of the late misunderstanding, he volunteered as a Brigadier General, but didn't fill that office throughout the war; for, by some mistake, a cannon ball got in the way of his right leg, and the leg got out of the way of the ball. He was brought home, and on recovery, and resuming the practice of law, was elected Probate Judge. The office was worth some $20,000 per year, The Probate Judge being, also clerk of his own court, receives fees instead of a salary. The office is a compound of your Begister. Orphan's Court, and so far as Roads are concerned, has a little sprinkling of the Quarter Sessions. During his term the County Commissioners-Republicans-contracted with Judge Noyes to index the records of Births, Marriages and Deaths, and to do some other clerical work which had run behind. He was to receive fifteen cents a name for indexing; and, having done the work, took his pay like a little man, and nobody said "nay."

TIME BOLLED ITS CRASLESS CYCLES BOUND, as it has a habit of doing, in this part of the country, and Judge Noyes, having been rotated by the aforesaid "Cycles" out of office again, devoted himself to the romantic history of Damon and Pythas, John Doe. and Richard Roe. But it was not to last. When he had reached the cri.ical period when John seeks the hand of Richard's mother-in-law ln the holy bonds of wedock, a grateful people took him up-Noyes, not John-and elected him Governor of the great State of Ohio, at a salary of $1,500 per year and power to appoint Notaries

Public. He

ACCEPTED THE SITUATION, took the oath of office, and sighed at the terrible prospect of being banished to Columbus for three years, and still no virtuous Democrat saw anything wrong in the little indexing job. But "in the second year of the reign of Edward in Ohio" the Democrats carried this county with the aid of the Liberals, and waxed fat and kicked in consequence, and they kicked so high the Liberals, this year concluded to try it on their own hook, which makes the Democratic party a little dubious about its hold on the fiesh pots. So the Enquirer boys sent out their body snatchers, and in prowling round the Probate Court they dug up this little arrangement in all its fatness, and immediately they grew virtues over the smell of a thing which had been dead for lo! these many years. But it was a good thing; and they held it up on their editorial fork, and the faithful fell down and worshipped. And for the weary days since the unhappy Edward has been a candidate (since last July,) the Enquirer has eat Noyes, slept Noyes, and talked Noyes. I was going to say they drank Noyes, but I think we Democrats would drink anything

OLD BOURSON SOUS.

And the Convention met and resolved that the Prosecuting Attorney-a Democrat -should prosecute Noyes to recover the money, $13,000; paid on the contract. In fact they intended to do away with Noyes; but the Prosecuting Attorney said it was the money of the County which Noves had eaten, and it was the County Selicitor's duty to undertake the job. And the County Solicitor, a Democrat, also wrote a letter and said there was no cause of action and if he should bring one he would be demurred out of the Court and then the Enquirer was mad; and it went for the County Commissioners because they hadn't ordered the County Attornees to bring the suit. And the Commissioners (Democrats) feeling pale, did as they were commanded, and passed a resolution ordering the aforesaid legal gentleman who know they will get whaled, to bring the suits, and they brung

The whole thing has been done for po litical effect; and if there be guilt anywhere, it rests on the Commissioners, who made the contract, as fully as on Noyes There is no doubt the prices paid was outrageous. But the Commissioners had the right to pay it, and Noyes, having done the work, had a right to take it. That is legal; for I think no one would say that fifteen cents for indexing a name is anything but an outrageous price. After election-no matter how it may ge-the suits will be dropped. It is now five years since the R Co., 20 August term 1872. work was done. The Enquirer know it then; or could have known it as it does now. And its silence when the scent was fresh, and giving tongue when it has died off, show too plainly its animus. Noyes should not be re-elected because of his complicity in the job: but he should have been prosecuted while he was Probate Judge, and the Commissioneers should have been included) or immediately after he went out of office, if at all.

A LITTLE STORY.

The Domorcats had a fine meeting last Thursday in Mozart Hall, and among the speakers stood prominently Ohio's favorite son, General Sam. Carey. The horny handed son of toil. He's a Democrat this year, and its beavy infliction for our sins that we have to carry him. But he makes a most capital speech, and with all his poitical tumbling generally lights on his feet. He wears No. thirteen. And after the horny-handed had made confession of his faults, and told how he was now a Demo-crat, and "aworking for the great cause of reform in the Democratic ranks," he paid his respects to Senator Sherman, who, in his late speech here, said that Noyes should be elected, if for no other reason, because he had been a soldier. "Now my fellow citizens," said the horny-handed, "the soldiers deserved well of their country, and they have been rewarded. But I think the cry of "elect the soldier only because he has been a soldier" is getting stale. It reminds me of the old Presbyterian—here the audience commenced to grin-who sent his son to College and made a mistake out of him. And when he came home the old man took him to all the churches in the neighborhood to get him a "call." preached the first Sunday, and his text was "And Peter's wife's mother lay sick of a fever," and the old man thought it was just the best sermon he had heard. And next Sunday he rook him to a neighboring county, and the young chap preached again, and his text was 'And Peter's wife's mother was sick of a fever.' (here the it any longer. He spoke out in meeting and says he "Oh! rot the old critter, she's had fever long enough, and ought to have (Big smiles all around.) died long ago." was committed here last Friday, in the de-"Dublin," from a man named Carey; know as a vicious and disagreeable neigh bor. Neeille carrieed on the business of a Druggist, and being very popular and attentive so business, did so well as to justify him in renting a better store down town. About a manth ago he told his intention to Carry, who, from that time commenced a series of insults and annoyances, which Neville bore with great good humor. Friday as he was taking down some shelv-ing, Carey came in and began his abuse, to which Neville paid no attention. On Carey forbinding him to take away the shelving, Neville replied he had paid for it ne ded it, and intended to take it away. Carey went off, and on returning again spoke to Neville about the shelving. No reply being made, Carey drew a revolver and shot Neville through the heart. The men were not over three feet spart. Carey immediately started to run pursued by a crowd, which as crowds do, gathered immediately. He ran along Look to Sixth St., when he found himself too closely pursued. He therefore turned on the crowd and swore he would shoot the man who laid hands on him This stopped the crowd for a moment, and some policeman arriving, Carey was hur-ried to the Sycamore Station House, and from there, by a back way, driven to the Storrs Station House in the 21st ward; and some miles from the scene of the tragedy. A strong and lynching crowd had meanwhile gathered near the Sycamore Station; out the man they wanted was not there. Carey is now in jail. He seems to have not the slightesi sorrow or remorse for his terrible caime. Neville's death was instantaneaus. He had not been in America five years, and, I hear, had no relatives in this WHY IS THIS THUS?

Your last issue gives a formidable list of patriots banded together to "yank" the county from the clutches of the ever fai thful "Court House Ring." Let 'em yank. I am surprised at some of the names appended to the call, and equally so because ome names are not there, which I think in the fitness of things should have been or rather would have been, if they retained their old affinities, I don't profess to under stand Elk politics any longer. They are —to me—worse mixed than the Schlesuig Hylsteib question, which was compre nended only by two men, one of whom had died and the other would't tell what he knew. My capacity for astonishment however, is over charged on hearing that the Gazette is actually supporting a "Regular" ticket' while the Democrat (my old friend "Miller on the Smethport Pike," is doing yeoman's service in the ranks of the "Peo-ple's party." This was not the way of ancient times when the Democrat was loyal, and the Gazette worked in the harness about as quietly as a prancing equine at ar Agricultural Exhibition. But as I said be fore it's none of my funeral, and I've no right to be one of the mourners, and so in the language of horny-handed Samuel Carey, 'Good-bye "Sweetheart good, bye." L. J. B.
